Happy Days Will be Here Again !

This is the month the State Legislature meets in Sacramento and is expected to give its approval to the filling of Lake Elsinore with water.

All loose ends have been taken care of and now it is solely up to the Legislature to give the green light to the project.

At a meeting in San Diego last December the Small Craft Harbor Commission approved a loan of $750,000 to the Division of Beaches and Parks to purchase water for the lake, which is a part of Lake Elsinore State Park.

Richard Hibbert, president of the Elsinore Recreation and Park District, speaking before the annual Chamber of Commerce dinner on January 10 said he was sure the legislature would approve the loan when it convenes in February and that should be the final step, he said.

Governor Brown has already given the project his blessing and with Assemblyman Jesse Unruh, Senator Lee Back-strand and Assemblyman Gordon Cologne giving it full support there seems little doubt of its passage. When the loan is approved the Division of Beaches and Parks plan to run water down the San Jacinto River to Lake Elsinore from the Metropolitan Water District aqueduct at Lakeview.

Once the lake is filled it is expected to be self supporting from boating fees from the more than 36,000 registered boat owners in Southern California.

On Memorial Day, 1958, when the lake was partially filled, there were 1000 boats on the lake and around 700 were present each Sunday until the water evaporated to a point where boating was no longer feasible. Riverside County Supervisor William Jones, who attended the Chamber of Commerce meeting, reminded the directors that the supervisors have set up in the next county budget the sum of $22,500 to pay the interest on the loan, if necessary.

Elsinore Chamber Holds Installation Dinner

Robert Bennett, manager of the Dill Lumber Company in Elsinore, is the new president of the Elsinore Chamber of Commerce.

Bob was installed Wednesday, January 10 at the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet held at the Woman's Club.

Along with President Bob were eight new members of the board of directors.

The installation officer was Boomer Lee and the master of ceremonies Galal Gough.

The affair was well attended, in fact a number were turned away when it was stated the food supply was exhausted.

The speaker of the evening was Willis F. Sinsabaugh, sales manager of the Del Webb Corporation. Motion pictures were shown of the Arizona Sun City project and Sinsabaugh gave a run-down on the Meniffee Valley Sun City project.

Past President Cy Perkins spoke briefly on the accomplishments of the chamber during 1961 and was optimistic of the future under the direction of the new president.

Never has the chamber been so well organized, according to Perkins, and never has the future looked as bright as it does at the start of the new year.

Park Dedication Next Big Event

This is going to be a great year for business in this valley of ours and the reason we know is that everybody tells us so.

By "our valley" we mean everywhere from Alberhill to Anza and particularly the cities of Elsinore and Perris.

Our prediction is not entirely guess work. The upward swing started last year which showed a substantial gain over the previous year in building permits issued, which is generally a good criterion of progress. Building permits issued in Elsinore in 1960 amounted to $152,626 while in 1961 the amount rose to $366,376. Murrieta building rose to $189,286 in 1961 from $51,252 in 1960 and even the Alberhill school district showed $51,230 in 1961 against $8,928 the previous year.

But we have more than building permits to make us optimistic.

This is the month we get our answer from the State Legislature as to whether or not they are going to fill our lake and again we are optimistic that the answer will be yes.

We already have the Lake Elsinore State Park and if you haven't visited it lately do so at once. You will be surprised at what Lyle Watson, park superintendent, has accomplished in the past year.

Incidentally the park is to be dedicated in May of this year and it is not too early to begin thinking about it.

Dick Hibbert, president of the local Recreation and Park Board wants this dedication to be one of the greatest celebrations Elsinore and the entire valley has ever had and the time to begin planning is now.

Sun City expects to have its official opening in May and judging by the 52,000 people that attended the first day opening of Kern City we can expect nearer 100,000 at the opening in Menifee Valley.

Some of those people are just bound to get lost and drive through Elsinore and the state park on their way home.

La Laguna Revue is already making plans for a souvenir program of the park dedication in the May issue. It will contain the complete story of the fight to secure water for the lake and the development of the park. It will be the story of those who carried on the fight and there will be pictures—scores of them.

We would like to print a copy for everybody but the only sure way of getting your copy is to see that your name is on our mailing list now. Just $3 a year—as if you didn't know.

BANK HISTORY TO BE TOLD

The First National Bank of Elsinore, which began business as Exchange Bank of Elsinore, California, August 18, 1887, will celebrate its 75th year during 1962.

The complete story, from the beginning, will be told in detail in La Laguna Revue starting with the March issue.

Galal Gough, president of the bank, is celebrating his 40th year with the organization this year.

It is a romantic story of the coming and going of bank personnel throughout the years leading up to the strong home bank it is today.

It's the story of Fred B. Klarer, who began work for the bank as an underpaid janitor and served in that capacity for six years while going to school and later, when fresh out of college, became vice-president and cashier, a position he still holds in the bank.

It's the story of the officers, directors and stockholders—the changes in control and the changes in location—in the long hard pull to reach the top. We think you'll like it.

I, William C. Hendricks, Secretary of State of the State of California, do hereby certify that a copy of the Articles of Incorporation of the certified by the County Clerk of the County of San Diego as a copy of such Articles filed in his office, was filed in this office on the 18th day of August, A.D. 1887 which Articles and the copy thereof contained the required Statement of Facts, to wit: First, the name of the corporation as aforesaid; Second, the purpose for which it is formed; Third, the place where its principal business is to be transacted; Fourth, the term for which it is to exist; Fifth, the number of its directors or trustees, and the names and residences of those who are appointed for the first year; Sixth, the amount of its capital stock, and the number of shares into which it is divided; Seventh the amount of its capital stock actually subscribed and by whom.

Witness my hand and the Great Seal of State at office in Sacramento, California, this the 18th day of August 1887.

The Adventures of Pearl Brown

High on the Ortega Highway, in a little cabin nestled among giant pine trees, is the home of Pearl Brown, pioneer of the Ortega district. Pearl lives all alone and will mark her seventy-ninth birthday on the Fourth of July but she is far from being a lonely woman.

Pearl is a painter and works daily on a career that started back in 1929 and has never slackened during the years that followed. She paints landscapes, still subjects, portraits—in fact you name it, she paints it.

Scores, perhaps hundreds, of her paintings are hung throughout Southern California. To name just a few owners: Dr. Comstock has several, Dr. Westphal has a large tapestry and several landscapes, Dr. Reed of Perris has a painting of a desert scene beyond Palm Springs and the list goes on and on.

Pearl Brown used to carry on a correspondence with Grandma Moses but the last letter received, before Grandma Moses passed away, was written by her daughter, Mrs. L. R. Moses, from Eagle Bridge, New York, and informed Pearl that "Grandma writes almost no letters herself so its up to my sister or me if anyone gets an answer from her."

Before coming to California Pearl lived in Taloga, Oklahoma, the home of the famous Carrie Nation who made life miserable for the saloon keepers with her hatchet. Pearl still remembers Carrie Nation and has just completed a portrait of her from memory.

And how did this prolific painter come to settle in the uninhabited wilds of the Ortega? Well, here's her story in her own words:

"Back in 1927, long before the highway was built, I bought 80 acres in the Ortega district sight unseen. It was wild and hard to reach and I lived in a tent for 14 years, all alone and making improvements by hand. Before moving to the Ortega I spent four years in Elsinore and managed a bathhouse owned by Mary Gardner. For two years, while the road was being improved, I walked to and from Elsinore to my work. Later my son who had arrived from Colorado would drive up the old Capistrano road and bring small boards which was the start of the building program.

"Finally when electricity was available I drove my old Reo to Long Beach to see Attorney Frank Rogers who owned land at Inspiration Point which adjoined mine and requested his permission to allow the electric company to bring wires over his property to my cabin. He wrote out a permit and I drove back home with the written permit, which I turned over to the electric company.

"In 1938 I was found near my cabin with a broken back. I had dragged myself to the road and Frances White, then owner of land adjoining me, happened along and found me. With the help of the late Captain Long a stretcher was rigged up and I was placed in a station wagon and taken to the doctor."

And that's the story of Pearl Brown, which rivals "the adventures of Pearl White," a movie serial which ran in the early days of the silent films.

Pearl has sold some of her land. G. R. Gough bought some of her acreage for his present home and the Weavers have a home on property across the street from Pearl which she recently sold them.

It's a great life if you don't weaken and Pearl is far from weakening. She's still turning out paintings with assembly line speed and if you don't believe it—pay her a visit.

Pearl Brown paints a scene from her front yard.

The artist takes a few minutes rest from a busy day with pictures everywhere and more on the way.

History of Elsinore Womans Club

By FLORENCE I. RICHARDS

In February 1955 Mrs. Felix Miller was named the "Woman of the Year." Mrs. Howard Habenicht made the presentation and announced that a gift had been sent to the State Endowment Fund in her name.

A building committee was appointed by the president to meet with Mr. Anthony Junkley to lay plans for some necessary building repairs, and the enlarging of the club kitchen. The committee was Mrs. Willsey, chairman, and Mesdames Norman Strickland and Lucille McNeil. The cost of this improvement was approximately $2500.00. The club approved and ratified the obtaining of a loan to cover this amount. This project was accomplished, with the result of a convenient modern kitchen. Of course this meant finding new ideas to make more money. It was at this point that the price of the monthly luncheon was raised from seventy-five cents to one dollar. Mr. Junkley's fine work and many helpful ideas in the remodeling job won heartfelt appreciation from all club members.

In this year of 1955 Mrs. Ernest A. Simmons was seated as County President of the Federation. She was presented with a bouquet, gold pin and gavel from her club.

At the end of the club year in May 1955, the officers-elect were installed in their respective offices by Mrs. Ernest A. Simmons and Mrs. Edward L. Misner, Jr., retiring president.

Installation ceremonies were carried out as a Commencement Service. Mrs. Simmons, looking very much a college professor in her cap and gown installed Mrs. Edward L. Misner, Jr. as Junior Past President with a degree of Dr. of Philosophy. Mrs. Misner in turn installed each new officer, giving each an appropriate degree, which Mrs. Simmons handed each a diploma marked with the new slogan "To Know Is to Grow," chosen by the new president, Mrs. Anthony Junkley, as Sallie's farewell "I'll Be Loving You Always" was sung. A tea followed the installation.

The first meeting under the administration of Mrs. Anthony Junkley opened October 13, 1955 with a fine musical program. The trio was called the El-E-Gant-Aires comprised of Mr. Hamilton and his two children, Bill and Pat, playing the piano, accordian and marimba in a presentation of classical, popular, novelty and request numbers.

For their pre-election work in behalf of the Metropolitan water bond election, and for a letter writing campaign asking State Legislators to support the Lake Elsinore State Park project the club received a legislative award at the State Convention of California Federated Woman's Club in San Diego. The award was in cash and was presented by Dr. Mabel Kenney, State Legislative Chairman.

On November 17th Mrs. Edward F. Bryant, State Narcotics Chairman for California Federation of Womens Clubs addressed the club concerning narcotics violation. Guests were students of Elsinore High School.

At the Christmas luncheon meeting the Twin Pines Ranch boys entertained with a musical program, and Ralph E. Johnson told of the life at the ranch and the methods used to rehabilitate the boys.

After the program the boys were presented with a Christmas tree decorated with 68 foil ornaments of various sizes—each contained one dollar as a gift to each of the boys at the ranch home. Mrs. John Edwards, a club member, presented them with a saddle.

Starting out the new year of 1956 many interesting programs were given in literature, drama, Scottish dancing, antiques, travelogues.

A real milestone was reached on January 21, 1956. It was the Golden Anniversary of the club—fifty years membership in the State Federation. The club received a commemorative scroll from the State Federation. It was presented to Mrs. Anthony Junkley by State Chairman of Club Institutes, Mrs. George Cornelius, at the Club luncheon on January 12th. Mary Linda Hudson, pupil of Mrs. Nellie Christensen, furnished the musical part of the program with a piano solo.

A fifty-year theme featured the dinner dance attended by 100 guests. The miniature stages on each side of the main stage of the clubhouse were cleverly decorated to carry out the idea of the styles prevalent in both periods. On one stage a livingroom scene of 1906, a life-size mannequin dressed in that period style, stood beside a marble top table on which rested the plush family album and stereoscope. A period chair, ornate picture frame and a fan for the lady made the 1906 display complete.

On the opposite side the 1956 scene showed a mannequin dressed in a present-day taffeta dress standing beside a television set on a streamlined foundation. Narrow framed pictures and coffee tables with wrought iron legs completed this modern theme.

The head table was centered with a two-tiered white cake with gold lettering. Gold and white candles were placed at each side, and delicate fan-shaped gold framework against which rested yellow flowers completed the anniversary motif.

COUNCIL EYES PAYROLL STATUS

Shall the members of the City Council of the City of Elsinore receive $25 per regular meeting for their services?

That is the question which will be placed before the voters on the April election ballot.

The council recently unanimously adopted a resolution to submit the question to the voters at the next election.

In the present council Thomas C. Bartlett is mayor, Hilbert Stewart is police commissioner; Edward Berry, fire and water; Oscar Hitt, streets and sanitation; and Tom Yarborough, parks and recreation.

Bob Bennett, newly elected president of the Elsinore Chamber of Commerce, is to be commended for his excellent choice of words. At a recent Rotary meeting Bob used the word "brief" where most men would have said "proposition." Nothing like being educated, I always say. ■/

Raquel Blake, Miss Elsinore candidate for title of Queen Scherezade of the National Date Festival has her first ride in a Glider at Skylark Field.

Mrs. Chester Morrison of Menifee Valley, well known in art circles, with one of her recent paintings. Her husband is currently farming 6000 acres in the valley for Del Webb.

AND A GOOD TIME WAS HAD BY ALL

A hand picked group of Elsinore's elite, numbering thirty, sat down to an eight-course Italian dinner on January 8th as the guest of Joe DePalma, proprietor of the Restorante De Palma on Highway 71 just beyond Alberhill.

The occasion was the grand opening of Joe's new food emporium and the feast was a masticatory chef-de'oeuvre with plenty of lubrication.

Joe has been operating a restaurant on Signal Hill, Long Beach, and only recently decided to open a second eating place here.

While the house specializes in eight-course dinners the customer may order just about anything he desires, quail, pheasant, duck, fish, on down to a plain hamburger.

The setting is an old dilapidated house, you'd never stop there if you were not hungry, but a real treat awaits you when you get inside. The food is delicious, and Joe's Signal Hill restaurant has been a rendezvous for movie stars for many years.

Four lakes adjoin the restaurant and a variety of fish are available if you like fishing. Joe raises his own quail and pheasant and keeps plenty of glass on hand so if you are a connoisseur in eating and drinking, pay him a visit. You'll never regret it.

Joe has his own wine cellar and best of all the prices are moderate.

Meet Joe De Palma, proprietor of Restorante De Palma. Below: It takes good food to make people that happy.

VETERANS COLUMN

Wherever there is FREEDOM, there have been those who fought, toiled and sacrificed for it.

February, which brings us the birth anniversaries of two great Americans, should also bring us a rebirth of American qualities exemplified by George Washington and Abraham Lincoln. Men and women of physical and moral strength, of high courage and complete devotion, were required to build this great America of ours. Let us help rekindle the patriotic spirit of America's founders and defenders. Let us show that we give enthusiastic service for America with no thought of selfish gain; that we pray America always will go forward under God, toward a finer, freer world. In this month of patriotic birthdays, let us seek the inspiration of these great patriots for the strengthening of America against all threats held over our heads.

There are about 31,000 veterans of the Spanish-American War still living as of September 1, 1961. There are 35 stalwarts still around who served during the Indian wars between 1860 and 1898.

And incidentally there were approximately 1200 widows of Confederate War veterans on VA rolls in June, 1961.

Mrs. Mildred Wallace, Americanism Chairman, La Laguna Revue — February 1962

gion Auxiliary Unit 200, reminds us that February is "Americanism" month. Think of the power of good—the opportunities we have for reaching people in our own communities. "Proclaim liberty throughout the land, and to all the inhabitants thereof . . ."

This was the message which rang out loud and clear from the resonant tones of the Liberty Bell which reminded our people that they were blessed indeed. Although the Liberty Bell itself has long since been silent, its message still rings in the hearts of patriotic Americans everywhere. We must be aware of our power as citizens and keep informed on both sides of current issues.

We must help our churches and our schools to grow, for schools and churches are vital to America. We must continue to extend the hand of mercy to those less fortunate. The framers of the Constitution made it clear to the Congress they created that its business was not to be the legislative manufacturer of economics. They made it clear to the Chief Executive that he was not the master but the first servant of the state.

Let us become increasingly aware that we have Freedoms.

A representative of Riverside County, Department of Veterans Service is at the Elsinore Chamber of Commerce the first Wednesday of each month, from 1:30 to 4 p.m. The local Service Officer for Veterans Organizations is Mr. Paul Kuenzli, 509 North Main, Elsinore. He has most of the forms available.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Veterans of World War I, Barracks 924 elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. Mona Leese; Senior Vice President, Christine Wright; Junior Vice President, Gertrude Law; Secretary, Flarrie Haller; Treasurer, Irene Montgomery; Chaplain, Bessie Jackson; Conductress, Mrs. Henderson; Guard, Mrs. Hamilton; Publicity and Legislation Chairman, Christine Wright; Color Bearer, Marion Adams; and three trustees, Iva Culpepper, Maude Shannon, and Mazie Glick.

All members of the American Legion Post 200, the VFW Post 1508 and VWWI Barracks 924 and their auxiliaries are now members of the Lake Elsinore Valley Veterans, Inc., and have a vote.

All veterans of World War I of the U. S. A. are requested to send in their name, address and serial number to: W. Glenn Elliott, National Adjutant VWWI, 40 G Street N. E., Washington 2, D. C.

"And thank you."—Christine Wright.

TO MOUNT SAN JACINTO THE HARD WAY

By Leona Cooper

Several weeks ago we loaded our saddle mules in the trailer and set out to see what was on the other side of the mountain, namely, the Palm Springs location of the Tramway now under construction.

This gigantic installation will be a means of getting out of the desert and onto Mt. San Jacinto in minutes. The ground-work began with a road to the foot of the mountain. Huge bulldozers have been working to clear the roadbed of boulders, and trucks are hauling thousands of tons of dirt for the road base. After it has been packed it will be paved.

We drove as far as possible up the steep dirt road, then unloaded the mules and started our ride. After a couple of miles of steep rocky trails we went around a big rocky ledge and the desert was out of sight.

It was a wild and beautiful area. Great steep walls of solid rock almost straight up on two sides, and ahead a dense growth of ferns, wild grapevines

Editor's Note: Leona Cooper, author of this article, accompanied by her husband, Walter Cooper, agreed to climb by mule-back the steep trail over which the $7.7 million Aerial Tramway is being constructed from Palm Springs to the San Jacinto's 8,516-foot level.

The project is being built under the direction of the Mt. San Jacinto Winter Park Authority and when completed will have in operation two 80-passenger tram cars which will carry sightseers and skiers from the 2700-foot level in Chino Canyon for nearly three miles along double two-inch cables to the summit.

Pictures taken by the Coopers show the rugged and almost inaccessible territory of the tramway route.

and a forest of beautiful trees. You feel as if you are in a huge park.

We passed the spring that supplies some of the water for Palm Springs. This spring continuously feeds an eight-inch pipeline that extends down the canyons and across the desert to the town.

There is a band of wild sheep that live in these foothills, and due to lots of vegetation and plenty of water they are fat and frisky. Some of the rams are very old with beautiful, but dangerous horns.

Walt was within one hundred feet of them at one time, as so much activity, machinery and traffic has made them rather tame.

Some places among the trees the wild grapes grow as high as fifty feet and are draped from tree to tree. It was truly a colorful sight to see the silver and green grape leaves, the white and rust colored tree trunks and the tree leaves and other vegetation all in their autumn colors.

These are among the sights that the passengers in the Trams will see from above, but to really see it at close range, with time to really enjoy it, we recommend a trip on the back of a friendly mule.

These chilly mornings make one resolve next time to buy a two-pants suit.

We had no idea that La Laguna Revue's coming into the field would result in the suspension of two Los Angeles newspapers. Well, that's life for you. Here today, Las Vegas tomorrow.

Please! No more letters or phone calls regarding the map on page 14 of the January issue. It was either the right caption with the wrong map or the wrong caption with the right map so why not let it go at that? What do you want to do, get me fired?

I see where the Elsinore councilmen are making a pitch to the tax payers to pay them $25 each for every regular council meeting they attend. Well, you can't blame them. There has been a dearth of invitations lately to banquets, extended to the council from neighboring towns, and the councilmen have been feeling the strain. They don't look as well fed as they did a while back.

When buying an outfall shelter get all the time you can. Don't pay cash — spread the payments over as long a period as possible. And be sure and get a guarantee. In case you come out you may have a chance to collect — providing the builder is still around.

New Vets Group For Elsinore

Ed Berry, a member of the Elsinore City Council, was installed as commanding officer of the newly organized Daniel Schneider Jewish War Veterans Post No. 757 at services held January 21 at the Hebrew Congregation. Abe Wallace was named Senior Vice-Commander. The post has 19 charter members. Other officers include: Sam Farber, junior vice-commander; Israel Deasonhouse, adjutant; Samuel Schneider, quartermaster, and Morris Beard, chaplain.

Ben Sutton is patriotic instructor; Morris Bursk, officer of the day, and Joseph Davidson, judge advocate.

Trustees for the post are: Louis Berger, Albert Yalowitz and Louis Hoffman.

The post was named for Daniel Schneider, son of Samuel Schneider, Elsinore business man. Daniel was a member of the United States Navy in World War II.

Perris Councilmen Will Do It Themselves

There will be no city administrator at Perris, now that Lloyd G. Veldman has resigned.

Veldman has taken a $12,000 a year job as administrator for the city of Irwindale in eastern Los Angeles county.

Daily Crusade at Woman's Club

The Elsinore Ministerial Association will conduct and sponsor a union evangelistic service in the Woman's Club House on West Graham Avenue in Elsinore starting the 11th of February with services each evening except Saturday.

The meeting will be patterned about like the recent meeting held in Meadowbrook Heights and will feature a different local speaker each evening. The theme will be "A Crusade for Christ" and each message will be taken from the two verses from the Bible: Isaiah 9:6 and John 14:6.

The first sermon will be delivered by Alvin F. Durham of the Church of Christ and will be on the theme "His Name Is Wonderful."

Special musical features will be a part of each service, as well as other specially interesting features.

The public, especially those that are interested in learning more of the promised Messiah are urged to attend each service. Services will start promptly at 7 each evening.

STRING ALONG WITH MEL

Mel Miller, who serves a mean ball on the tennis court when he is not serving customers at his Burnham's General Store in Murrieta, is proud of the fact he is one of the best tennis racquet restringers in these parts.

Mel learned the trade while on the High School tennis team back in Donna, Texas and it developed into quite a business while attending school.

According to Mel the boys had to send their racquets to a town some 25 miles from Donna in order to have them strung and it was days and sometimes more than a week before they got them back.

So Mel decided he would do his own restringing and before long he was so expert at the job he was doing the work for all the tennis players in Donna.

He has been restringing racquets as a side line ever since coming to Murrieta, and has gained quite a reputation in the valley.

Mel does most of his playing at Walker's Tennis Club in Lakeland Village and racquets may be left there for restringing.

Perris Chamber Lists Activities

Frank Coppel, secretary of the Perris Chamber of Commerce, has summed up the major events which took place in Perris during the past year. He gave the golden jubilee celebration first place which numbered various programs throughout the year.

The chamber membership rose from 75 to 115 during 1961, Coppel said. Principal anniversary events included a spring parade, special postal cancellations, an old timers' day, a children's program, special tribute to the Fred T. Perris family on Memorial Day, a commemorative brochure, golden jubilee square dance and presentation of a resolution and plogue from Governor Pat Brown to the City Council.

The chamber also played a major part in securing full time branch office of the California Department of Employment to replace a former part-time trailer office for the Department's Farm Labor Service. The chamber also assisted the city in a general clean-up campaign and worked closely with the Del Webb people in connection with the promotion of Sun City.

The group also was instrumental in the restoration of the Santa Fe's 75-year old Perris depot, the last original station structure along the route of Southern California's first transcontinental railway, which originally terminated in San Diego County.

Cougars Enjoy Successful Basketball Year

The Cougars this year are displaying a pep and vigor that was missing for several years and, as a result, are having a very good year.

After winning their initial start of the season with a 36-32 overtime victory at San Diego Mil., the cadets dropped a real tough 35-29 decision to a much taller and more experienced Julian team.

Still undaunted they came back and scored a resounding 48-30 decision over the Hemet JV's on January 9 in the ENMS gymnasium. On January 13, San Diego Military paid a return visit to the school and walked away much sadder by dropping a 45-35 decision to the cadets.

The team has been sparked by Cadets O'Toole who has been averaging 16 points per game and Larry Williams with 14 points per game average. On the team and serving to make it balanced are Richard Kroeger, John McCord, and Jose Vasquez. Coach Ken McClintock has a very fine and strong bench to call on in emergencies with Phillip

Cadets Pass in Review Before Public Every Sunday Afternoon

The Corps of Cadets of the Elsinore Naval and Military School marched in formal military review before their parents and friends on Sunday at 2 p.m.

The Corps passed in review before Col. Glenn R. Conklin, president of the school, and Major Frederick R. Stimus and his staff. Military awards are given at these parades which have become traditional highlights of the school week.

At the review held this Sunday members of the Drum and Bugle Corps treated the spectators to Major Frederick R. Stimus, the Commandant of Cadets, also announced today that retreat parades will be held at the school each Sunday, commencing with the first parade scheduled for February 4 at 4:30 p.m.

A new flag pole has been erected on the parade field along with a new cannon. During Retreat Ceremonies, "Retreat" is sounded, the cannon is fired, and the flag is then lowered while the Drum and Bugle Corps, under the command of Ca-

Cadets Prepare for Basketball Tournament

The cadets here have started to plan for the Second Annual Junior High Invitational Basketball Tournament to be held in the school gymnasium on February 16 and 17, 1962.

Seven schools in the area will be receiving invitations in the mail this week to participate and the Letterman's Club, who are the sponsors, are looking forward to another successful tourney once again.

The Elsinore Grammar School, last year's champions, will be back once more to defend their trophy and will be meeting up with some tough competition as the cadets here at the school have most of last year's team returning.

Tournament headquarters have been set up at the school and all rosters and tournament fees must be in no later than the 1st of February so that programs and tickets can be printed.

Prices for tickets this year have been established at $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for students. One ticket is good for all tournament games.

Among the schools who are expected to be back once again are Norco Jr. High, Corona Jr. High, St. Catherines Catholic School, St. Thomas of Riverside and Elsinore Elementary.

Letterman's Club Elects Officers for School

The Letterman's Club, which consists of all cadets who have earned a varsity letter, held their annual election of officers on January 8, and the following cadets were elected to their respective offices:

President, Larry Williams Jr; vice-president, Jerry Croskrey; secretary-treasurer, Eugenio Mendez.

The first order of business for the newly elected officers was the formation of committees for the coming basketball tournament and the Queen of Cadets Contest.

Paul Lagerfeld, John McCord and Phillip Meeker were selected as members of the Queen of Cadets contest committee. Other club members will be assigned to committee work at the next meeting.

Each year the lettermen of the school sponsor this tourney and contest with all proceeds going towards providing and generating more interest in cadet participation in athletics at the Elsinore Naval and Military School.

Lt. Dickman, Tournament Director this year, told the members that the tournament this year should be a big success as it has already started to generate interest among the schools in the area.

He went on to say that all members would be required to pitch in 100 per cent effort, though, if they hoped to make any money for their treasury and to help further their work here at the school.

Who Shall Be The New Queen of Cadets

The big question here on the campus is: Who will be the lucky girl this year? The cadets have been busy entering pictures of their sisters, relatives and girl friends in the competition this year.

All snapshots must be submitted by 1 February and must not have been done by a professional photographer. The winner will be announced to the cadet corps on 10 February 1962.

This year's Queen will preside over the championship game in the tournament. Prior to the start of the game she will be crowned "Queen of Cadets—Elsinore Naval and Military School—1962."

She will also attend the Commencement Ball held each year, and will participate actively in the final dress parade of the school year in June. These are only a few of the highlights of her reign.

A full itinerary for the school year will appear in

Miss Serena Loring, Queen of Cadets last year, proved that Elsinore has its share of beautiful girls as she far surpassed all other entrants and was a very beautiful Queen. Miss Loring is now attending college where she is majoring in animal husbandry. An effort is being made for her to attend and to crown the new Queen. Miss Loring is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loring of Wildomar.

"War of Nerves" to Begin Soon

The annual "War of Nerves" period is starting to draw close here at the school as the teachers start to prepare their mid-term exams and the cadets start to study for them.

The instructor tries to prepare a test which will require the student to remember everything that has been taught to him since September and the student will study all of his notes and books so that he can remember how to spell "encyclopedia" and what a "logarithm" is.

Every available minute of cadet free time is being spent on test preparation and making an endeavor to make the best test score possible.

Senior Cadets to Attend Junior-Senior Prom

The Cadets of the Senior and Junior classes at the Military School are busily preparing for the Junior-Senior Prom which will take place at the world famous Cocoanut Grove in the Ambassador Hotel in Los Angeles on February 24. Approximately 30 cadets and their dates will attend the dinner dance. Miss Lena Horne will be the featured entertainer. As in the past, Colonel Glenn R. Conklin, President of the Elsinore Naval and Military School and Mrs. G. R. Conklin and Major Frederick R. Stimus, Commandant of Cadets, and Mrs. F. R. Stimus will accompany the cadets. All Seniors and Juniors attending the dance depart from the military school on Thursday, February 22, and will report back to the school on or before 1900 hours, February 25.

Chemistry Lab Near Completion

The new chemistry laboratory that is being built here at the school is now nearing completion and should be readied for classroom work in the very near future. When finished, it will be one of the most modern up to date private school chemistry labs in the state. Much work has been put into this building with a darkroom being added for the benefit of those cadets who wish to study photography.

Valentine Day Dance to Be Held in E.N.M.S. Gymnasium

The cadets at E.N.M.S. are very busy these wintry days planning their annual Valentine Dance which will be held in the school gymnasium on February 9. The Cotillion Club, which is composed of cadets at the school, and with the guidance of Major F. R. Stimus, their advisor, will decorate the gymnasium in designs in keeping with the season of the year.

The Hi'Lites, a well known musical organization from Riverside, will provide the music and entertainment for this social occasion. Attendance at this dance will be by invitation only. Dances such as this and other social events are planned periodically at the school as well as dances at other schools in Southern California.

Cadets Enjoy Special Leave with Parents

Approximately one-fourth of the Corps of Cadets of the Elsinore Naval and Military School enjoyed a Special Fifty Hour Leave from the school recently and spent the week-end of January 26, with their families and friends. Eligible cadets were dismissed from school on Friday, January 26, at 1700 hours and did not report back to school until 1900 hours January 28.

To be eligible for these special leaves, a cadet must have earned a letter in a varsity sport, have been named on the Principal's List and/or the Commandant's List. Eligible cadets must maintain a "B+" average for an entire semester. The Commandant's List is composed of those cadets who have excelled in discipline and who have earned more merits than demerits during the entire semester.

From Out of the Past

A beautiful sixteen room home, that hides within its interior two rooms which were built more than one hundred years ago and served as a store and waiting room station for the Butterfield Overland Stages, is now one of the show places of the Elsinore area.

Now owned by Mr. and Mrs. Robert McGill, the structure has the appearance of a Spanish hacienda home, the additions having been built in 1940 and the whole stuccoed in Spanish pink and roofed in red tile.

The home is centered in a walnut grove that extends to the lake bed. The property was formerly owned by William Zimdin, an uncle of Mrs. McGill, who made the improvements and later gave the entire property to his niece for a gift.

Gisela Loor (Mrs. McGill) came from Estonia in 1935 with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jaan Loor, following Gisela's uncle and many of the art objects and heirlooms were brought over from the old country. The grandfather's clock in the hall was made by John Wyke of Liverpool in 1760, more than 200 years ago and still ticks off the minutes and hours and records the months and years.

The living room and master bedroom are the two original rooms which housed the store and waiting room of the early stage line and, on the wall of the living room, may be seen two western paintings by Farrington Ewell, noted artist of Phoenix, Arizona. Mr. Elwell is well known for his paintings of western life in the early eighties.

A bullet embedded in the bedroom wall bears witness to the fact that all was not brotherly love in the days of the stage coach, and the cottonwood tree, to be seen over the rooftop, on three occasions held the bodies of men who took horses that belong to them.

To Mrs. McGill goes the credit for the decorating motif. The walls of the living room are of cliff blue smooth plaster and natural wood shutters at the windows take the place of drapes and curtains. The windows, recessed two feet, show the thickness of the adobe walls. A Spanish type divan with a carved wood base stands along one wall of the living room while a large mirror with antique gold leaf frame in Italian ecclesiastical design hangs over the divan.

White leather upholstered chairs, a smaller couch, marble topped tables and wall to wall carpeting present a restful and well appointed living room. The dominant motif is a mixture of old world furniture, many hand carved, in Italian, Spanish and some French provincial.

The McGills share the home with their two children, Eileen, 16 and Bill 13.

While the exact date of the building of the original abode ranch home is uncertain it is thought that it was probably built around 1844 when Julian Manriquez was granted 13,338 acres of land adjoining the lake by the Mexican Governor Manuel Micheltoreno.

History has it that a man named Stearns came to California from the east coast and became a Mexican citizen. It is said he owned the house for seven years after he bought it in 1851 from the Manrriquez widow and children.

Stearns in 1858 sold the property to Augustin Machado, son of Jose Manuel Machado, one of the soldier guard who came from Sonora in 1781. Augustin, who was part owner of Rancho La Ballona on the coast bought La Laguna, as well as the Santa Rosa Rancho to the south in order to have more space for his growing herds of cattle.

It is known that Augustin's eldest son, Juan, and his family made the adobe their home for many years. When Augustin died in 1865, La Laguna was divided among his widow and thirteen children.
 Juan had the adobe house at the southwest corner of the lake.

Old maps show a point running out into the lake which marked Juan's share of the lake. This lake-bed property Mr. and Mrs. McGill recently gave to the state to round out the Lake Elsinore State Park property.

Juan is said to have refused to sell to an Englishman when other members of his family sold in 1873. He later refused to sell to the American subdividers who purchased the remainder of La Laguna in 1883. He finally sold his share to G. S. Irish in 1884 and moved to a cabin he owned in the hills.

There were many travelers in those days passing up and down the Southern Emigrant Trail before the coming of the railroad. Early historians describe the roads as crowded with men going north to the gold fields; families were coming in for settlement while soldiers were mobilizing for the coming War of the Rebellion. The adobe was on the main Southern Trail into California, which brought travelers from Yuma across the Colorado Desert to San Gabrel, El Monte, Los Angeles and San Francisco. Those living in the adobe house provided camping places and supplies for the men and horses.

The Butterfield Overland Mail Stages changed horses, picked up and left mail, and were off without stopping for passengers to sleep. Mrs. McGill's present living room was the store or shop where Machado dealt out calicoes, sugar, coffee and other dry goods and groceries, besides grape brandy to his Indians and others.

The dining room has its beautiful buffet and cupboard filled with everything to please the eye and aid in serving the foods from the kitchen to family and guests at all times.

So this is the end of a perfect day — the McGill master bedroom with heirloom spread and grill type headboard, and the bow front chests on either side of the bed belong to the beautiful past. The electric lamps with books to read on one side with a radio for listening entertainment on the other are for modern convenience and pleasure.

VFW Contest Slated

The Veterans of Foreign Wars' Auxiliary is sponsoring their annual essay contest in March. This year, the topic is truly urgent and thought-provoking. It concerns the growing alarm over the water problem the nation faces. The topic is "America the Beautiful — How Long Without Clean Water?"

The deadline for the essays, which shall not exceed 1,000 words, is March 15. Anyone wishing to enter this profitable contest is urged to contact Miss Day, head of the English Department.

The student winning first prize shall receive ten dollars. The second and third prize winners shall be given five dollars and three dollars respectively. The winning essay will be submitted to Department judging, the winner receiving twenty-five dollars. The National contest winner will receive a grand prize of $1,000.

Since the topic will require much research, the English teachers and the Librarian will be glad to aid any student who wishes to participate. Already entered are: Monica Duden, Karen Haidanus, Homer Hamilton, Dale Procter, Jim Sims, Dania Steen, Faye Summers, Cheryl Zack, Janice Martin, John Motte, David Jordan, and Mike Miller.

Hmm! Semester Grades, Homer?

George Kelley and La Verne Charleston practice the Twist.

P.U.H.S. Hit by "Twisters"

A new dance craze has hit Perris High. This hip swiveling arm swinging gyration of the body is called the "Twist" and has become America's latest dance craze.

Chubby Checker, champion of the Twisters, is currently filming Twisting instructions for use on television around the world. The twist is done with a moving of the feet as if smothering out a cigarette. The hands and hips are moved as if drying your back with a towel.

Among the extraordinary fads which have developed from the Twist are Twist clothing, consisting of skirts, blouses, dresses, shoes, belts, arm bracelets, and leg bracelets.

The most amazing thing about the Twist is its attraction to the older generation. Here's hoping that backs hold out!

Industrial Arts Department Broadens Students' Horizons

In this issue of the Panther Prints we shall cover the Industrial Arts Department, better known as "shop." Industrial arts is not to be confused with vocational trading. In vocational training, the student learns a trade or occupation where upon completion of his course he is specialized in it. On the other hand, industrial arts does not stress vocational trading, but deals with industry—its organization, materials, occupations, processes, and products—and with the problems resulting from the industrial and technological nature of our society.

The department is composed of two teachers, Mr. Joe Beeson and Mr. Ken Martin. Mr. Beeson is the head of the department and has been here since 1949. In addition to his classes of Wood Shop and Electric Shop, he is president of the PTA, senior class advisor and "Mr. Fit-It." Completing the two-man department is Mr. Martin who joined the faculty in 1957. Mr. Martin has classes of Drafting, Graphic Arts and Metal and also assists in the athletic department as Baseball coach.

There are a variety of classes offered including Wood Shop I, II, and III, Electric Shop, Drafting I and II, and Graphic Arts, and Metal I and II. With the addition of new facilities, there will be added classes and a greater development of present classes. Some of the new facilities which we enjoy in the shows are: (1) an exhaust system in the wood shop that removes all the sawdust and shavings; (2) a complete finishing room complete with spraying booth; (3) in the metal shop the addition of two new processes of forging and foundry.

For those of you who are interested in the future growth of your school, it is interesting to note that one of the first buildings to be added to the present school site will be a Drafting-Graphic Arts Shop that will be constructed just north of the present wood shop.

FEATURE TEACHER

Mr. Meade D. Hamilton, a former skating instructor, an ex-serviceman, a graduate of Fresno State College, and a good-natured guy, has been teaching at Perris High for the last five years.

He was born in Santa Monica, California and he later spent part of his high school days at Venice. He finished high school at South Gate High.

After a year and a half of junior college, Mr. Hamilton began his service in the Marine Corps. In the four years he served he made the rank of staff sergeant. When questioned as to how he managed this he replied, "The commander he was assigned to be an orderly for insisted that all his orderlies be staff sergeants at least."

The first thing Mr. Hamilton did when he was released from the service was get married. The new bride, who had taken a job to help him through the rest of junior college and college, had kindly informed her dear husband that he either made A's or else he would be working full-time instead of part time. Mr. Hamilton did make the A's, majoring in agriculture, mathematics, and chemistry at Fresno State College.

CLUB LICITY.... FUTURE TEACHERS

One of the most interesting, profitable organizations at Perris High is the Future Teachers Club. Many students are under the impression that, in order to join the club, one must have definite plans for becoming a teacher. That is not the purpose of Future Teachers. The club directs its activities to all phases of education, providing club members valuable opportunities to investigate the possibilities of teaching as a career. FTA arranges for its members to visit all types of education centers, from elementary schools to universities and colleges. The club has also been privileged to hear experts in the field of teaching express their opinions of teaching as a career and give useful information concerning courses of study necessary to become a teacher.

This year, the officers of the Future Teachers' Club are as follows: President Jim Sims, Vice President Monira Duden, and Secretary Cathy Bills.

Anyone wishing to join FTA is urged to contact Cathy Bills, Secretary for the club.

Seniors Pam Peters, Richard Randolph, Rita Maruffo, Diane Hendrickson, and Bill O'Blenness preparing for the Sweetheart.

SHORT, BUT IMPORTANT

Since February is filled with many special days we thought we would highlight a few of the more interesting ones.

You would never think that the month of Sweethearts was called "Sprate-kale" would you? This is just one of fascinating facts about this month. February usually has twenty-eight days but every leap year it has one extra day.

The month is notable in American history, for in it occur the anniversaries of the birth of Abraham Lincoln and George Washington, whose fame is worldwide.

Most important to all of us is St. Valentine's Day which is celebrated in Christian countries. Old young alike exchange Valentine cards with their sweethearts, their friends, and members of their families. Some contain tender thoughts while others are humorous but almost all ask, "Be My Valentine."

Sweethearts' Dance!

Hey boys! It's your turn to ask your favorite girl to the Sweetheart Dance. This dance will be held in the High School Cafeteria on February 10th, from 8 p.m. to 12 p.m. The price is $2.50 a couple. The faculty is invited.

Susie Chase and Claudia Warren are planning the dance, and the decorations will be headed by Pam Peters and Betty Hanifin. The refreshments will be served by Jo Ann Davis and Barbara Squiers. The dress for the dance will be either a dinner jacket or suit for the boys and formal or semi-formal for the girls.

At this dance there will be a King and Queen elected, so hurry up and ask your favorite girl before another one of her admirers beats you.

Almost as popular is the second day of February which is called Ground-Hog Day. On this day the groundhog is supposed to come out of his burrow and look for his shadow. If he sees his shadow he returns to sleep and winter remains, otherwise spring is near.

Coaches Evaluate Teams

The B basketball team this season is eager and good at rebounding according to Coach Johnson. Coach Johnson thinks that he has a potentially good team that will do their best and fight their hardest.

Bill Brown and Rudy Dedeaux, the two returning lettermen, are up from last year's C team.

The starting line up is Moses Thomas, Fermin Esparza, Paul Swords, Larry Ross, and Jay Gregg with Rudy Dedeaux, Bill Brown, Mark Wyant, Jim Underwood, David Porchia, Dale Upton, and Nat Shufford backing them up. The managers are: Dan Eells, Duane Cress, and Gene Garat.

The C basketball team this season is stronger offensively than defensively. Coach Zoumbus feels that the team is willing to learn and eager, but lacks playing experience. One reason for this may be that there are no returning players and only two Juniors on the team.

The main purpose of the team is to ready players for

THINCLADS BEGIN WORKOUTS

Perris Panther track athletes reported for their first practice Monday in preparation for their first dual meet against Norte Vista, on March 1.

Returning varsity lettermen from last year's De Anza league champions are: Ray Balboa, sprints; James Randall, 440; Ray Smaw, league record holder in the 880; Tony Gracia, the school and league record holder in the pole vault; and Rudy Hernandez, weightman.

Bee and Cee letter winners returning are: Glenn Collins, Cal Shook, Bill Brown and Jonah Roquemore in the sprints; Armando Rodriguez, and Bill Osorio, vaulters; Rudy Dedeaux, distance runner; James Myers, Maurice Fitzgerald and David Porchia in the high jump, and Jim Johnson in the hurdles.

All boys not all ready out for track are encouraged to report after school today.

FROM THE SIDELINES

Congratulations to Coach Johnson's Casaba team for their spirited action on the hardwoods. Plaudits go to rugged rebounders Tony Gracia, Jack Eells, and George Rounds. The team floor leaders are "Butch" Anderson, John Motte, and Ray Shaw. Pacing Panther scoring in league action are Anderson, Rich Randolph, and Tony Gracia.

Spring starts this semester. Coach Martin is expecting a large baseball turn out. Jokingly, he remarked "I hope the Easter Bunny brings me a pitcher and forgets that egg business."

Coach Gene Johnson extends an invitation to potential Tennis players. Current prospects include Homer Hamilton, John Motte, John Stanley, and Hubert Ruggieri. Girls out for Tennis include Guillerminn Garcia, Dania Steen, Cheryl Zack, Lillian Cage, Carmen Serna, Karen Grace and Janice Martin.

The "C" Team

action with the A and B teams and to give smaller students a chance to play.

The One That Didn't Get Away

Bob Mattick of Elsinore recently netted a 22-inch, 3½ pound rainbow trout from the bank of Little Lake, a reservoir located near Hemet.

According to Al Brown, operator of the fishing resort for the Lake Hemet Municipal Water District, Bob's was the largest fish yet pulled out of the lake.

As a general rule the fish planted by the Whitewater

Hatchery ranch, range from pan size to three pounders This goes to prove that all fish stories aren't necessarily stories.

ANOTHER DISPLACED PERSON

Meet John D. Walker of Menifee Valley who has just sold his 120 acre ranch to Del Webb who will eventually make it a part of Sun City.

John was born in Ventura County in 1878 and bought his ranch in Menifee Valley in 1890.

In the early days his ranch was an Indian Village and the Indians hewed out holes in the great rocks for a place to grind their corn. A flowing spring adjoined the great rock and the women would gather to do their washing as well as grind their flour. Walker has a large collection of Indian relics found on his property.

He raised horses and farmed the property for many years but that is all over now. He has been given one year to get off the property.

CITY MAY GET DUAL SYSTEM

A dual water system for Elsinore has been recommended by Everett A. Philips, consulting engineer to the city.

Under the plan proposed by Philips the undiluted sulphur water would be made available within a certain district to those desiring it and Colorado River water would be served throughout the city.

The mineral water had been used until May of 1957 as the city's sole source of water.

MISS ELSINORE IN TRAINING

Raquel Blake, "Miss Elsinore" is hard at work preparing for the final contest for the title of Queen Scheherezade of the National Date Festival which opens February 16.

Raquel is being coached by Mrs. Ruth Tarner whose own daughter was last year's Miss Elsinore. Linda Papini is giving Raquel lessons in posture and charm.

Miss Elsinore is being sponsored by the Elsinore Valley Chamber of Commerce.

Quick Action Saves Youth Center

The Statler Memorial Youth Center of Perris was endangered by fire on Sunday, January 14, but before the blaze could gain headway in the concrete block building Dr. Leonard Grindstaff reported it to the authorities.

City volunteer firemen and the State Division of Forestry put the fire out quickly and damage was confined to walls and ceiling in the vicinity of a central heating unit.

The building was given to the youth of Perris Valley by Ellsworth Statler as a memorial to his father.

At present time the building is under the control of the Perris Rotary Club but in recent years it has served as a supplementary classroom for the senior high school.

New Directors For Sunnymead Chamber

William Case was installed as president of the Sunnymead Chamber of Commerce at their installation dinner held in January.

Serving with Mr. Case will be H. G. Reakes, vice-president; Norman Jents, treasurer, and Patricia Henderson, secretary.

Chamber directors are: Jess Banta, Alta Boals, James Cocco, Herald Hillmer, George Nieport, Don Shoemaker and Ben Wilhelm, who is the outgoing president.

Bellew-Stevens Wed

Sharon Rhea Bellew became the bride of Frank Stevens on December 15, at the home of Rev. Thomas M. Walker, former pastor of the Perris Congregational Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Bellew of Perris and Mr Stevens is the son of Mrs. Edna Stevens

The couple will live in Alameda, where the bridegroom is stationed with the United States Navy.

SESSION CHANGE

The students in the Elsinore Elementary School who have been attending half-day sessions are now in the process of adjusting to attending school at a different time of the day.

Beginning on Monday, January 29 the students who formerly attended morning sessions are now going to school in the afternoon and those who attended classes in the afternoon are now in the morning class.

According to the school authorities, many reasons entered into the decision for the change, one being that the children in the kindergarten afternoon class receive approximately fifteen minutes less schooling per day than those enrolled in the morning class.

If this has completely mixed you up, think of what it has done to the children.

Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Cameron MacLean
(the former Joyce Vance)

Return from Honeymoon

Elsinore's St. Andrew's Episcopal Church was the scene Saturday, December 30 of one of the most popular weddings of the old year, when Joyce Vance of Springfield, Ohio and Marcus Cameron MacLean of Riverside, exchanged solemn vows.

The candlelight ceremony was performed at 7:30 p.m. before 100 guests by Rev. John E. Cline, pastor of the church. Merle Bryan of San Bernardino, a friend of the bride's family, presented her in marriage. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. H. E. Vance of Springfield, who was present for the wedding. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Lillie MacLean of Riverside.

For her wedding the bride wore a white bridal costume, with bell shaped, ballerina length skirt. The fitted bodice had boat neckline and three quarter length sleeves. Her shoulder-length veil was held in place with a double satin bow. She carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

The matron of honor was Barbara L. Potts of San Bernardino, formerly of Springfield. She wore a costume of emerald green satin, with bell-shaped ballerina length skirt and carried white gardenias and feathered carnations.

The organist was Mrs. Floyd Bonge of Perris.

Best man was Arlen O. Ellis of San Francisco while ushers were Clyde and Loyd Longe of Elsinore.

A reception at the home of the bridegroom's brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. Glenn A. Westphal, at 108 S. Lewis St., followed the wedding.

After a short honeymoon in Palm Springs the couple returned to San Bernardino where they are now making their home.

The bride was born and educated in Springfield. She came to San Bernardino 18 months ago and is employed at the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

The bridegroom was born in Liverpool, England, and came to Elsinore five years ago, subsequently to reside with his mother in Riverside. He is also an employee of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company in San Bernardino.

School Bond Issue Before Voters Feb. 27

A $1,550,000 bond issue and a $1,300,000 loan from the state to add to the Wildomar elementary school and construct a high school on a 57-acre site at Wildomar to replace Elsinore's present high school, will be before the voters of the valley on February 27.

New Constable Serves Murrieta District

Ole E. Larson, pioneer resident of Temecula, who operates a barber shop in Murrieta Hot Springs, is the new constable of the Murrieta Judicial District.

Larsen replaces the late Robert V. Beauchamp. He will serve the Murrieta Justice Court and Judge Vernon Hillard.

Norma Brown sits in her rocking chair and recalls 80 years of life on her farm situated just off Highway 395. There were joys and hardships but there are no worries now. She has sold her property to the Del Webb company with the stipulation that she remain as long as she chooses.

'Twas a Hard Life— But a Good One

When Andrew Kittilsen, a native of Norway, came to the Menifee Valley from Los Angeles in 1882 to homestead 320 acres of farm land he little knew that someday his property would be in the heart of a new and thriving city. But that is just about what is going to happen.

His daughter Norma, then five years old, married William Henry Brown at the age of 22. They were married in the parsonage of the Murrieta Methodist Church in 1899.

Mr. Brown took over the farming of the 320 acres and continued until his death in 1946.

It was farming the hard way in those days as the accompanying pictures from Mrs. Brown's album will show.

Mrs. Brown will celebrate her 85th birthday in April and was awarded a silver cup at the "old timers" day held in connection with the Perris Golden Anniversary, February 12, 1961, for being the person who had lived the greatest number of years in the Perris and Menifee valley.

While Mrs. Brown recently sold her property to the Del Webb interests for Sun City she retains a life estate in the old home and 35 acres and will live to see a modern city grow up around her.

Mr. Brown and his new header and header wagon, his pride and joy in 1900. Below—Norma Brown with "Bess" and her colt.

The above photos are from Norma Brown's album and show some of the highlights of her 80 years on the farm. Above is the original "surrey with the fringe on top" with Myra Kittilsen, Norma's mother in the carriage; next is Mr. Brown and his Dartagnan, (percheron), a prize horse for farm work; next, his 12-horsepower Harvester Team and new "little harvester," considered one of the best to be had in 1917. Lower photo was taken on Thanksgiving Day, 1913. With work finished for the day the family will sit down to a large corn-fed turkey and offer thanks for good health and a bountiful harvest. .

A Birthday Party Parexcellence

When Axel Springborg celebrates his birthday he is assured of a large crowd every year and this has been going on for the past 16 years.

Axel, along with his wife, Florence, owns and operates the Glenn Ivy Hot Springs, 13 miles from Elsinore on Highway 71 and besides being a grand person he is a member of the Hotel Greeters Club and has a host of friends who always show up on his birthday.

As a matter of fact there is a Mr. and Mrs. Quierolo of San Francisco and a party of sixteen who not only always show up for his birthday but remain at the Springs for a period of two weeks.

Maybe the food has something to do with the extended stay as there is no better food to be had anywhere—even in San Francisco.

There were 45 in the party celebrated Tuesday evening, January 9 and it was a dinner never to be forgotten. Ramona Salisbury, of Elsinore, a past president and past secretary of the Greeters Club, was on hand to see that everybody had a good time and she did an excellent job.

Ray Geiser, president of the club, presided. Ray is assistant to the president at Gilman's Hot Springs. Gene Collins, secretary for the past 30 years; Helen Sands, manager of the New Hollywood Hotel and International Director of the Fifth District; Golda Welty of Long Beach, assistant International Director of the Fifth District, were present, just to mention a few.

Celebrating their birthday with Axel were Paul Stevens of San Bernardino and Bess Cook of Long Beach.

Happy birtheay, Axel, and many many more of them.

Axel Springbord, standing beside his lovely wife Florence, with officers of the Hotel Greeters Club at the table.

Meadowbrook, located midway between Elsinore and Perris, is making a strong bid to become a first class residential community.

For many years the district was on the shoddy side with crude shacks erected along the highway but these are fast disappearing and are being replaced with well appointed homes and business houses.

A case in point is the new market recently completed by Lon Finnell Jr., which occupies 3000 square feet and is modern in every respect.

The Finnells, Lon and Mary, have been operating a store in Meadowbrook for four years and Lon has resided in the district for 23 years.

Lon's father has built a new service garage just a stone's throw from the new market and further east along the highway is the new elementary school now under construction.

Meadowbrook is well on its way.

JUST SITTIN'?

"There are two ways to get to the top of an oak climb it . . . or sit on an acorn.

"And there are two ways a community can reach the goals of greater progress

actively climb towards those goals through the cooperative energies of a strong Chamber of Commerce . . .
or just sit still, hoping that natural forces will bring improvements eventually.

"Pretty obvious that the town whose inhabitants are just sittin' and hopin' will have a long, long wait.

"But when a local chamber has an active core of energized businessmen, seriously working for better schools, streets, playgrounds, parking and all the rest, progress can be reached in a hurry.

"Moral: Don't be a sitter. That acorn may never take root.
"Help your community to do its own climbing, by combining your energies with others working in and through your local Chamber of Commerce."

Lake Elsinore Valley Chamber of Commerce

Early Life Of Laguna Valley*

BY GERTRUDE ZETH BROOKS

NOTED AUTHOR OF "FIRST LADIES OF THE WHITE HOUSE"

In the previous chapter we mention that the Spanish Missionaries came up from Mexico before the United States occupation took over the great southwest and the coast from Mexico (1846). The Spanish had known the Indians for over 300 years. Prominent Californians have handed down their memoirs on missions, many of which are tragic, some comic and romantic, showing the glamour, enchantment and charm of that era.

HISTORIC AND ROMANTIC MISSIONS

What cathedrals are to Europe, old Missions are to California. The first of them was started in 1789 and most of them have been restored so much that little of the original structure remains. But they are historic and romantic. From Mexico City to San Diego on up to San Francisco, the conquistadores flung a chain of them across the land. The Padres were fired by religious zeal. But the king of Spain realized that what few soldiers could be sent from Spain could never hold that vast domain unless the savages in it were brought into cooperation.

Supply stations were established about one day's march from one another. The Padres taught the Indians to make tile and brick and build great fortresses of religion, each with at least one huge patio in which thousands of persons could gather for a rite or for a fiesta. California is one place where the Indians were not subdued by force but by friendship. They became vital workers on the Mission lands, cultivating the grounds and caring for the flocks and herds. They worked, went to church and never had been half as well off before.

California's 21 missions were built by Indians. These Missions held the land for Spain. The Russians took Alaska and would have taken our west coast too. The aggressive Hudson Bay Company would have taken it for England.

The English, French and Dutch took possession of the Eastern portion of the North American continent and a few islands nearby, but the religious, pious and adventurous Spaniards carried out the Pope's program. During the 16th century they covered nearly all of South America; the islands of the Mexican Gulf; set up a government in Mexico; explored, secured control of almost two-thirds of the present area of the United States. Spain ranks in history as the conquerors and discoverers of the entire new western world.

SPAIN'S PIOUS FUND

In Spain the church was the largest owner of property and in which the priesthood outnumbered all other professions. Philip II of Spain ruled for over 40 years, during which time he encouraged exploration of the western hemisphere. The Pope titled him "His Most Catholic Majesty." All succeeding the throne down to the present time have held this title as part of their official name. The colonizing system was thus permeated with their religion. The order of the Jesuits (founded 1540) entered with keen interest into a new missionary field bearing the teachings of the cross. The priests took to organizing the Indians. No place was too far and no savage too fierce for the Jesuits. One viceroy after another was sent from the Mother country to govern the province of Mexico. Each made a special report to the throne of Spain. The Spanish soldiers inter-married with the native women of Mexico. At the end of the 17th century a few colonies were established in Lower California and the Jesuits formed permanent places among the Indians.

(To Be Continued)

FIRE AND THE RESUSCITATOR SQUAD

M. ROBI FRANCISCO

Do you know these neighbors and business men? In case of emergency they are probably the most "wanted" men in the Lakeland Village area:

C. Williams, chief; T. C. Cionni, president; R. Le Blanc, vice-president; W. J. Warren, secretary-treasurer; J. L. Bardon, M. Biallo, J. L. Jacobson, C. Stocker, D. E. Yake, Joe Vasquez.

They answer your call for help, whether it be day or night, and hurry away from customers and good wages, because you asked for them. They are the members of the Lakeland Village Volunteer Firemen and Resuscitator Squad. They fight your fires and give aid where oxygen is needed to heart, asthma, drowning, accident, and smoke victims. What's more they are required to stay on the job until a doctor or ambulance arrives. They have no thought of personal gain; and it usually adds up to financial loss in time, money earned, sleep, use of own cars and ruined clothes. Such mundane thoughts never occur to them—they serve you and receive their benefits in spiritual remuneration in knowing they have saved a life or done their best in trying.

As a thank-you for helping save her husband's life a year ago, the Resuscitator Squad now has one woman member, Robi Francisco.

The group was formed in 1949, according to Lou Cionni.

They met in Jean Collins' garage and kept the fire truck there, as he was the first Chief for Lakeland Village Volunteers.

Then in 1951 they made a drive for money to buy a resuscitator, as they found that accidents and our senior citizens often needed the flow of oxygen to keep life a more certain thing. They staged barbecues and dinners to raise funds. And what may prove to be the most efficient use of money in the valley resulted. They have kept the maintenance and replacement of oxygen from these same funds; keeping their few hundred dollars in a savings account at the Elsinore First National Bank, and only drawing a little at a time as needed.

SCENE FROM THE MAY 1957 ORTEGA FIRE

There may come a day when they will ask for funds and I feel the people of the Valley will be happy to respond as a token of appreciation for all the men have done. They have made as many as three or four runs to one person to help prolong life. The greatest number of calls for one individual, where oxygen was needed, was fifteen times. The monthly calls have been averaging about five.

The Squad also answers calls for highway accidents and fires. One was an oil tanker, several truck fires, and furniture vans seem to have a way of blazing from some home owner leaving combustibles buried in the center of their moved possessions. It should be noted that professional, licensed movers are particularly careful of this when they do the packing, but many moves are made with the owners having insisted on doing all the boxing and crating themselves.

One of the interesting side-lights on the lot clearance instituted by the California Division of Forestry several years ago, has been that fire calls in the Lakeland area have been reduced fifty percent. A mighty happy fact for owners and Volunteers alike.

One of the most destructive fires which the group have helped fight, was the store building on Grand Avenue that housed grocery, hardware, beauty parlor and barber shop.

The group meets twice a month. One night is devoted to training and new fire fighting techniques. The second monthly meeting is for discussions of procedures, legal ramifications, and general briefing on conditions and projected possibilities. They now meet at the California State Forestry Department station on Brightman Avenue.

A Good Substitute

Umson leaned back in his chair at the dinner table and held a cookie between the thumb and first finger of his right hand, and eyed it closely. Mrs. Umson looked on but did not smile.

Pinching the cake and moving it up and down as if to carefully ascertain its weight, Umson continued his inspection.

By this time Mrs. Umson was glowering.

"Well," she said, "I suppose you are going to poke fun at my cooking again."

"Far from it," her husband answered.

"Then what in the world are you doing with that cookie?"

"I was testing its resiliency."

"It's what?"

"And also taking note of its compactness and strength."

"Isn't that making fun of it?"

"My dear, you may have unwittingly made a great discovery."

"How's that?"

"This thing may not be much of a success as a cake, but it might make a wonderful substitute for a rubber heel."

No more angle parking on D Street in Perris. The city council has approved citywide parallel parking. And no more wrong way parking. From now on, according to Police Chief H. L. Broesamle, cars and trucks will be required to park with their right wheels nearest the curb.

Artists to Exhibit at County Fair

Riverside County artists will have their best works in display at the National Date Festival in Indio February 16 through 25.

School as Usual Washington's Birthday

By holding school on Washington's Birthday, February 22 schools will be able to dismiss for summer vacation June 8 instead of holding one more day of school on Monday, June 11 the two boards of trustees of Elsinore schools have ruled. There will be appropriate programs to honor the Father of Our Country, trustees said.

A True Artist

Mrs. Grummell entered the taxidermist's with a stuffed parrot in her hands.

"Do you remember the bird you stuffed for me last fall?" she asked. "Well the work was so badly done that the feathers are simply falling out."

"Ah, madam," said the man, "that is a triumph of art. We stuff our birds so well that they moult at the proper season."

Your Views and Ours

Dolores, I want to apologize to your photographer because I failed to mention his name at the Board of Realtors' dinner. He was a credit to your staff, both in appearance and professional poise. I was proud of him—and I thank you all for the coverage. I'm glad we have people like you and your capable staff in the valley.

Sincerely, Robi Francisco

Mrs. Francisco: We are proud to be, not only in the valley, but a part of it.

Gentlemen: Enclosed is my check for a year's subscription to the Revue starting with the January issue.

D. R. Bates

Mr. Bates, Welcome to the Revue family.

Dear Sirs: Sorry to inform you I haven't received your fine magazine for January, 1926—as yet. Please see if something happened at your end as I desire and enjoy each copy tremendously.

H. M. Vanzyl

Mr. Vanzyl, another copy is underway. Sometimes the label comes off in the mail.

Photographs speak! "They are the Shakespeare of the modern era." La Laguna Revue is a pictorial Gem that brings us stories direct from the stage of life.

Kenneth Kreigh

Mr. Kreigh: In school we were taught "One picture is worth ten thousand words." I'd say that La Laguna Revue is priceless about now.

Three stars for excellence is how we rate your new magazine. We know not a soul and read it from cover to cover.

Isabel Pucillo

Yours is one of the many letters we have received from our readers saying that they don't know anyone in the La Laguna Revue area but enjoy the magazine tremendously. An open invitation is being sent to all of you who read about us and our area—"Why not pay us a visit? We residents of this sensational part of southern California will gladly show you all of the places we write about."

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Mayhall: It was very enjoyable talking with you the other day, Mrs. Mayhall. With our fourteen below zero weather we certainly envy you. Last night I had a dentist appointment and Dr. Ulrich and I were discussing weather. I mentioned your fair city and he mentioned your name. The doctor and his wife were on vacation a few weeks ago and paid you a visit. It is amazing how small this world is.

Sincerely, Ray Ganz, Peoria, Illinois

Mr. Ganz: It seems your city has an asset we would like to have—the doctor and his family.

Dear Readers: Tiger's Corner will not appear in the February issue of La Laguna Revue. This is not due to lack of space but lack of copy at press time. We invite you to read about the Elsinore Naval and Military School, located on Grand Avenue in Lakeland Village (Elsinore).

Letters to Your Views and Ours should be addressed to Dolores Mayhall, Associate Editor, La Laguna Revue, 138 North Main Street, Elsinore, California.

BEAUTIFUL RANCHO La LAGUNA VALLEY

Are You Nervous, Can't SLEEP? Don't Go to Bed!—

without a copy of La Laguna Revue. Hundreds of Revue subscribers have learned to take a copy of the magazine to bed with them each night for a sound, restful sleep.

Read just two pages a night for thirty days and you will have completed the entire magazine at a cost of only 35c (25c if you are a subscriber) *

One house call by your family doctor would cost you at least $10 and he would probably write a prescription calling for you to read La Laguna Revue every night until you felt better.

Don't call the doctor—save that $10 and buy a whole year's supply of Revues for only $3. You save $7.00.

Samuel J. Thorndike, famous book reviewer for the Times, (we forget which one) speaking of La Laguna Revue, says "I never read the thing but I get a great kick out of the pictures."

Perhaps you have someone in your family who doesn't care to read but deserves a good kick. Why not give it to him?

Act now! This is a limited offer—limited to people who have $3.00.

By subscription only $3.00 a year.
