WATER FOR THE LAKE

A view of the future

The balmy, starlit nights of the past few weeks have fostered delightful dreams for the future and recreated bright memories of the past for both youth and those with a "I-remember-when" wistfulness. It has been with tenderness and hope they have murmured "I wish upon a star tonight." The great glistening scarf of the Milky Way has hung brightly over the Valley as though a portent of the new and wonderful events that will soon be a part of the daily life here.

News releases in surrounding areas have given thousands of people a brightened outlook. Suddenly they recall acquaintances in Elsinore Valley who might have a yard in which to park a boat. However, if you have been observing changes recently, it seems the local residents are beginning to have their own boats alongside the back door.

One can see and feel the verve and the envisioned new horizons permeating the minds of our progressive residents. Fresh, creative ideas are forming up into productive action. The past complainers and fault finders are reaching for their soda mint pills, or finding it is more fun to play for busy days ahead. Vacant lots around the perimeter of the lake are beginning to blossom forth with new houses and rental units. There are even more sidewalk superintendents showing up on job sites.

If you have the least doubt as to just what is happening in Elsinore Valley, take your turn standing in line at any lumber, hardware or electrical supply house first thing tomorrow morning. And it's just the beginning. So be glad you are alive, alert and modern enough to think young, and appreciate a bright new shining world! ■

SET FOR NOVEMBER 10

Western Days are here again

The Third Annual Elsinore Valley Western Days, sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 1508 and Auxiliary, will start with a parade at 10 a.m. down the streets of Elsinore Saturday, November 10th.

Entries for the big parade are already coming in, and if you plan to be in this parade and have not received an entry blank, you may obtain one at your local Chamber of Commerce. There is no fee for entering. The famous Rodeo clown, Bert Clark, will again participate in the parade. Beautiful trophies will be awarded the winner of each class, to all division marshals, and ribbons to all entries.

Following the parade there will be plenty of old-fashioned pit-barbeque served in the dining room of the Veterans Memorial Hall, corner Kuhns St. and Mission Trail.

Walter "Roy" Willette, chairman of the Third Annual Elsinore Valley Western Days, sponsored by Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 1508 and Auxiliary. Owner of Willette's Dude Ranch, 18-815 Grand Avenue, he has had 25 years experience in putting on Horse Shows.

At one o'clock on the grounds adjacent to the Hall the Gymkhana will get under way. There will be awards for each event in the various horsemanship contests such as pole bending, keyhole, musical chairs, Texas barrel race, old clothes race, pleasure horse, tire race, barrel roping with mudder. Fee $1.00 per entry.

Choosing a queen is another attraction. Contestants will be sponsored from Murrieta, Lakeland Village, Elsinore, Sedco, Alberhill, Temecula and Wildomar. The lucky girl chosen as Queen for Western Days will preside over all the affairs, accompanied by her Royal Court.

To climax the day, a Western Dance will be held in the auditorium beginning at nine o'clock. Good music and requested numbers will be played.

Further and complete details will appear in the November La Laguna Revue and will be followed by a pictorial account of the celebration in the December issue.

Artists in confabulation meet at Borchard studio

Artists from all over the valley were scheduled to meet September 29 and 30 at the Theresa Borchard Art Studio, 19473 Grand Avenue in Lakeland Village, to meet Dr. Marques E. Reitzel, the artist, who was to have given a lecture and demonstration of oil painting on Saturday.

Those attending were also scheduled to bring a sack lunch and enjoy it, with coffee being on the house.

In the afternoon Dr. Reitzel was scheduled to go into the field with the students where they were scheduled to paint under his direction. Sunday's routine was scheduled to be a duplication of Saturday's act.

And the next time one of these affairs is "scheduled" please get the news to us in time for the proper issue so we will not have to use so many "schedules" in telling the story.

Each student was scheduled to pay a fee of $1 for each day and we have no way of knowing at this time whether that "schedule" was successful or not.

However, we may add at this time, without the use of any schedules, that Dr. Reitzel is a native of Fulton, Indiana, and has appeared before more than 40 art groups in California, in this series. He was for 20 years director of the art department of an Jose State College.

In 1948 he acquired acreage near Pescadero, on the coast between San Francisco and Santa Cruz, which he has developed into a summer art school, where he lives and paints the year around. ■

First National Bank Holds open house

The 75th anniversary of the founding of the First National Bank of Elsinore was commemorated Saturday, September 22, with an open house from three to five p.m.

A large crowd attended the event and great interest was shown in the historical records which were placed on display. The bank was one of the new banks in California that remained open during the depression days of the 1930's when nearly every bank in the state closed its doors.

The original charter of August 17, 1887 was among the historical records on display.

The story of the bank from its beginning was published in serial form in La Laguna Revue and was completed in the September issue. Officers of the bank, most of whom were on hand Saturday to greet the public, included Galal R. Gough, president; Fred B. Klarer, vice-president and cashier; Thomas H. Wilks, vice-president; Charles R. Morgan, assistant cashier; Jean M. DiGiacomo, assistant cashier.

From the escrow department were Shirley Hunt, officer, and Carole Phillips, clerk. Also in the receiving line were tellers Clela Ambriola, Lucile Goulart and Carol M. Haun along with bookkeepers Frieda Bartsch, Kathryn M. Bullard, Verda Bell, Gertrude Pressel and Joanne Scrimshaw. The present directors of the bank are: Eugene Best, Gough, Klarer, A. R. LeGaye, Morgan, Fred H. Smith and Tom Wilks.

Refreshments were served in lieu of samples of currency. ■

Water Rumors

We hear many rumors regarding if and when the water will start to flow into the present dry lake bed of Lake Elsinore.

It is a pretty safe guess that no water will be turned into the dry channel and lake bed until after the first good rain as the evaporation loss would be too great under present conditions.

Of one thing we are certain and that is that there will be water in Lake Elsinore this coming winter and there will be boating on the lake before the spring of 1963.

All of the legal angles of the deal with the state have been taken care of and it remains only for the completion of some of the physical projects such as clearing the channel leading to the lake and waiting for one good rain which will put channel and lake bed in condition to receive the water.

So get the barnacles off your boat and see that your skis are in order for there will be boating and skiing on Lake Elsinore in 1963.

Volume One and Number Twelve

We of La Laguna Revue are quite proud of the fact that we have completed, with this issue, our first year of publication and subscriptions continue to roll in at a rate far above expectations.

We have made no concerted drive during the past twelve months for either subscriptions or advertising but have preferred to permit the magazine to take a normal course during its growing up period.

Leading advertisers and advertising agencies will tell you that they rarely go into publications during their first year of existence for the reason so many fold up before the first year is completed.

The mortality rate among publications is high. It seems that every year thousands of people throughout the land get the urge to have a publication and without due consideration for the future they manage, with the help of the printer, to come out with volume one, number one, with visions of long lines at the newsstands and overloaded mail carriers bringing in subscriptions.

In most cases the editor and publisher have given their all in that first issue and have little left for the second and as time rolls on and there are no lines at the newsstands and the mail carrier delivers bills instead of subscriptions the publisher comes to the conclusion that it wasn't such a good idea after all and the thing never reaches volume one number twelve.

And that's the reason advertising agencies are loath to prepare advertising copy for a publication which may never reach its first year of publication. A publication that has weathered that first year has an excellent chance to continue and has earned the respect of the advertiser as well as the reader and that is the reason we are justly proud of La Laguna Revue. ■

Seventy-five Years of Banking

The First National Bank of Elsinore held open house on September 22 celebrating 75 years of banking with an unbroken record of having its doors open every banking day during all those years.

While practically all other banks in the entire United States were closed for a long period during the depression of the 1930's this bank carried on business as usual.

It is something to have a strong bank in a community and our congratulations go to the First National Bank of Elsinore and its officers. ■

The story of a gal named Della

You have all heard the story of Johnny Apple Seed but how many know that Della Clark of Sedco Hills planted 366 trees last year in the Trabuco District of the Cleveland National Forest high off the Ortega Highway?

Well, she didn't exactly plant the trees herself, and they were not apple trees, but they should bear a fine crop of pine cones one of these days, and while she gave all the credit to the Girl Scouts Committee of Elsinore, it was Della Clark who directed the entire operation.

Della is conservation chairman of the Elsinore Woman's Club which in turn sponsored the Girl Scouts Committee and the tree planting was a conservation measure following the devastating fire in the Trabuco District three years ago.

Before Della entered the picture money raised locally by the Girl Scouts for water, soil and wild life conservation was spent largely for projects in Idyllwild and it was Della who was responsible for shifting the expenditure of locally solicited funds to the hills above Lakeland Village.

Planting of the pine trees this year was confined to the replacing of trees which had died during the dry season of two years ago. Between fifty and one hundred new plantings were made.

Della Clark has had an active career in Elsinore. It all started in 1941 when her husband, Bert Clark, retired from his construction business in Los Angeles and the couple moved to Elsi-nore. While the Clarks owned considerable acreage in the vicinity of Sedco Hills they bought an additional 20 acres to try their hand at farming. They planted the 20 acres to tomatoes the first year and the second year to peas and potatoes, in fact, it took just two years to convince them that they were not farmers.

Their next avocation, or hobby, was horses and as members of the Elsinore Saddle Club they captured a sizeable display of cups and ribbons won at various western affairs held at surrounding ranches.

As members of the Cow County Hoedown Association the couple cut a mean figure in the square dance competition but eventually tiring of retirement they opened the Cooler Cafe on Graham Street, (now occupied by the Copper Kettle) and for five years this was one of the most popular eating places in Elsinore.

Bert Clark passed away in 1956 and Della carried on the business for a time and then retired.

Della has been active in the Sedco Community Club and gave the club the land on which to build its club house. She is a member of Happy Hour Club, the oldest club in the valley, Elsinore Woman's Club, Grand Avenue Civic Association, Eastern Star, and took an active part in forming the Sedco District with its own water supply.

She has served as president, vice-president and secretary of the Happy Hour Club and was president of the Elsinore Republican Club for two years. If there is a more active "retired" lady in the Elsinore Valley, we haven't had the pleasure of meeting her to date. ■

Big 4-H events scheduled for October

New doctor in Elsinore

Dr. Harry Breuer has taken over the practice of the late Glenn Westphal. Dr. Breuer, his wife Jane, and their five children, Joanne, 15; Donna, 13; Stephanie, 6; Lisa, 2, and Eric, age 8 weeks, are making their home at 807 West Graham in Elsinore.

The Breuer family arrived in California from Cincinnati, Ohio, last April and have been making their home in Ramona before coming here.

Dr. Breuer graduated from the University of Cincinnati Medical College in 1948 and interned at the Good Samaritan Hospital there. Following service in Korea as a naval officer, he returned to Ohio and established his practice. ■

La Laguna Revue gets new press

Increased circulation of La Laguna Revue has made it necessary to acquire a new press which is exactly twice as fast as the former press. With the saving of half the time formerly used in printing the magazine the deadline can now be set back a day or two resulting in later news coverage.

A color press is on the agenda for the not too distant future. ■

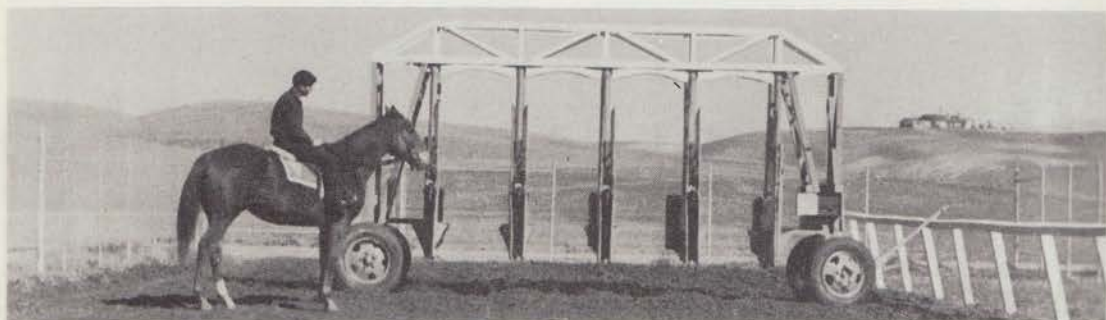

Iron Mike Hopkins looking for a victim

Walter Willette, chairman of Western Days, states that he has secured the services of Iron Mike Hopkins, one of the most feared wrestlers of the current crop.

Iron Mike, now in Texas, has offered to wrestle any man in the valley on a winner take all basis.

Willette will have a wrestling ring set up at Veterans Hall for use during the training period and for the final contest.

Tom Hudson has denied having accepted Iron Mike's challenge. ■

Dick Chew, manager of Thoroughbred Paradise, up on Big Jake at the ranch training tracks.

IT'S THE MURRIETA CLIMATE !

Big Jake of Thoroughbred Paradise

A robust 6-year-old chestnut gelding from Australia, after spending the winter months at Thoroughbred Paradise in Murrieta, under the watchful eye of Dick Chew, ranch manager, journeyed over to Hollywood Park last spring and took three consecutive races and as if that wasn't enough, showed up in the winner's circle at Del Mar for the next three races in which he was entered, making six consecutive in all to his credit. And that may not be all. He had not been entered in his seventh race when this magazine went to press.

We are fortunate in being able to present the results of these first six races in pictorial form.

Big Jake was named after Jack Kramer, former world's tennis champion, while he was still in Australia.

Big Jake was picked up by Harry S. Cohen, who, along with his associate Jim Jordan, own the Thoroughbred Paradise, for the sum of $4000 in a claiming race two years ago. He lost him the same way in another claiming race but later reclaimed him for $6500.

Big Jake has since elevated himself from $6500 claiming company to the allowance division. He ran for $15,000 in the fifth victory of his skein.

Big Jake, a son of Newton Wonder-April Flowers, originally belonged to a consignment of Australian-bred horses assigned pre-tennis promoter Kramer to be taken out of Australia in lieu of money owned Jack.

Unfortunately for Kramer, the horse named for him, was purchased by another importer before he could take possession of him.

There has been a lot of activity at Thoroughbred Paradise since the first of the year. Jim Jordan, who has a nation-wide reputation as a trainer, along with Dick Chew, who was a better-than-average rider a few years back, and recently quit a successful training job to take over the management of the ranch, have set up a first-rate breaking and training program for yearlings.

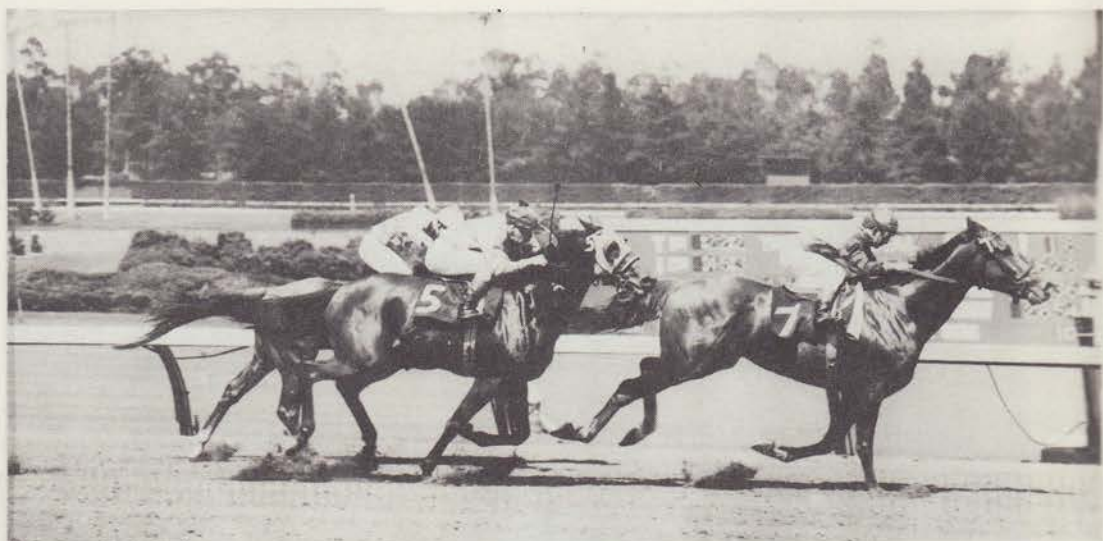

A new hay and storage barn 70 by 72 feet has been built with a capacity of over 250 tons of hay, plus a work shop.

A recreation room has been completed with a pool table and projector. Another 24-stall barn, similar to the one recently completed, is on the agenda and a greatly enlarged breeding center is being built and fenced.

During its first year, Thoroughbred Paradise undertook its first consignment of yearlings to the Pomona sale. They had 15 head under their management and were pleasantly surprised at the results. At the August Del Mar sale seven head were presented and sold at a high average price.

They plan to take consignments to the fall yearling sale at Santa Anita and are already lining up stock for the winter sale at Pomona.

Thoroughbred Paradise is a busy place and a real asset to the Murrieta valley and the game they call thoroughbred racing. ■

Literacy Council enters second year of instruction

The Elsinore Valley Literacy Council began its second year the first Thursday in September of its adult education plan, teaching streamlined English to adults who are unable to read or write.

The method taught is the famous Dr. Frank C. Laubach course which has already taught thousands of illiterates throughout the world to read and write.

Classes are held every Thursday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock at the Elsinore Woman's Club and instruction is available without charge to all residents of the valley who for various reasons have not had the advantages of school.

There is said to be some 350 persons within a radius of a few miles from Elsinore who are illiterate.

Officers of the council include, Mrs. Ed Misner Sr., president; Victoria Whittacre, first vice-president; Mr. Ramon Rodriguez, second vice-president; Mrs. Margaret Nortman, secretary; Mr. T. C. Likins, treasurer; and Hazel Gregory, chaplain.

A Literacy workshop was held early in September at the Elsinore Woman's Club for the purpose of training Literacy teachers. Introductions and demonstrations in teaching the English Primer were given by Victoria Whittacre, director of training. Prospective teachers were present from Corona, Perris, Wildomar, Murrieta, Sunnymead, Riverside and Elsinore.

A survey of Literacy problems, world, United States, California, Elsinore and vicinity, with statistics, needs and methods was presented by Gertrude Flyte, education director for the Elsinore Woman's Club, which acts as sponsor for the council.

Irene McDowell and Mrs. Flyte gave a demonstration of teaching streamlined English while Ramon Rodriguez and Alice Williams gave talks on how to locate non-readers.

Serving as registrar for the sessions is Hazel Gregory. ■

Sedco Hills group members whoop it up

The President's Tea of the Sedco Hills University Group was held on Friday, September 7th at the Sedco Hills Community Club. Seventy-five members and guests were present.

Card tables gaily decorated with white plastic place mats and unique and beautiful vases of flowers were placed throughout the room. The vases were made by Mattie Waring. Cookies, banana nut bread, coffee and punch were served buffet style.

Frances Strickland poured coffee and Ethylwen Graham served punch. The cookies and nut bread were ribbon winners at the Hemet Farmer's Fair.

Many of the ribbon-winning articles were on display, as were the unusual and beautiful hats which the Fair Ladies had worn to the Fair.

Mary Villareal sang The Hawaiian Wedding Song, and as an encore sang a medley of popular songs.

Queen of Anza Trail Days

This is the lovely girl who was crowned "Miss Anza" for the Anza Trail Days celebration of September 22 and 23.

Judy Lyn Lanik was born in Phoenix, Arizona, will be sixteen in October, and is a Junior in the Hemet High School. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lanik, co-owners of the Lanik Building Materials Company in Anza.

For an outdoor activity she likes horseback riding. In the home she enjoys sewing, and makes most of her own wearing apparel; she also enjoys cooking and is becoming very proficient in this line. At present she is president of the Youth Group of the Anza Community Church, working faithfully with the young people of the community.

Judy's ambition is to become a hair stylist and have her own "Coiffure Chicquer," and her friends and acquaintances feel that with her studious qualities and earnest ambition, there is no doubt that she will attain her goal. — Clyde Riggs Perkins. ■

Editor's Note: See November issue for complete pictorial story of Anza Trail Days including parade and other features.

White Cane Day

The annual Lions Club White Cane Drive will start October 5 and will end with a pancake, sausage breakfast on October 7 in the city park. The tab will be $1 for adults and 50c for children with Chef Clyde Longe flipping the cakes.

Jars will be placed in the business houses for the convenience of those who can't make it to the breakfast and would like to contribute.

All funds will be used in the purchase of eye glasses, eye tests and canes for deserving valley residents. ■

Skiland ... U.S.A.

Marty Ann Williams, National Junior Ski Champ is just a blurr in the cameras eye as she merrily wends her way in and about the waters of Ski Land, which is located just two miles East of Perris on the San Jacinto Road. The young lady started water skiing at the age of four, eleven years ago. In the background is the Ski Shop, Motor Repair department and the Snack Bar.

Launching a boat at Ski Land seems to interest everyone in the picture but the young man on the right. He is more interested in the seasick publisher and photographer.

Ski Land provides a pavilion for the friends and families of the skiers. Picnic tables and benches overlooking the ski area make for a pleasant way to spend an afternoon. Visit Ski Land, talk to the manager, Blym Martin, and enjoy yourself.

Elsinore Is a Playground

The lake is the scene the year round for colorful regattas attracting leaders in this "sport of the kings" from all corners of the globe. The white-winged craft bending before the cool refreshing breezes furnish never ending delight to the visitors. Elsinore has been rightfully heralded as the world's fastest maritime speedway. Motorboat pilots with international reputations have successfully made their assault on existing world records at this premier health and recreation center. Scores of the existing motorboat speed records have been shattered on Elsinore Lake. For those inclined to sports there is year round beaches, bathing, swimming, tennis, golfing, horseback riding with unexcelled foothill trails; hunting, hiking, fishing and dancing. Wonderful drives lead out from the city, covering the historic spots of the early pioneer.

Leona Cooper and Jean Dodson (the former Jean Perryman)

IT WAS GIRLS' DAY—WELL, ALMOST

A day at the Hidden Springs Ranch

By LEONA COOPER

On August 25, Dr. Charles Turner, owner of Hidden Springs Ranch, invited a group of young riders to use the arena at the ranch for a playday on horseback. Dr. Turner was unable to be present but Jean and Bill Dodson graciously hosted the affair and served gallons of punch to the thirty riders.

The arena is shaded by huge oak trees which added to the comfort of both riders and horses.

Dr. Turner's uncle, Mac Journey, was present and helped the riders find places to tie their horses, and made everyone feel welcome. It was his birthday so they all sang the Happy Birthday Song in his honor. Several parents and friends, headed by Vi Kane, Jean Divine and Lillian Crumrine, and the counselors, served a picnic lunch under a big oak tree.

Following are the names of the riders. From Mrs. Mac's Ranch the ten campers, who did all their riding bareback, Penny Penque, Chris Brink, Cathy Holburton, Kris Henry, Sally King, Cindy Loomis, Paige Phillips, Lucy Pitchford, Chris Robertson, Judy Pitchford, their counselors Jeanie Foote, Jennifer King, Mary Lou Loomis, Litzie Engle, Jill Alexander and Nica Cooper.

Vaqueritos were Dawna Blackmore, Judy Dodson, Randy Divine, Patty Perryman, Mike Perryman, Larry Humphrey, Gary Kane, Debbie Roripaugh, Roxy Hotz, Tommy Hotz, Dennis Younger, Cheryl Younger, Ricky Collins and Walt Cooper.

Judging the events were Bill Votaw, Bill Dodson and Walter Cooper. Bill Dodson was timer; Jean Perryman, ring master, and Leona Cooper was secretary.

Following are the results to third place: Two-man Relay, 1 Dawna Blackmore and Larry Humphrey, 2 Patty Perryman and Judy Dodson, 3 Jeanie Foote and Mary Lou Loomis.

Bareback Horsemanship: 1 Mary Lou Loomis, 2 Patty Perryman, 3 Jeanie Foote. Australian Pursuit, 1 Mary Lou Loomis, 2 Jennifer King, 3 Litzie Engle. Trail Horses: 1 Jennifer King, 2 Patty man. Vaqueritos of the Valley donated ribbons to the four runners-up. Second High Score, Mike Perryman. Tied for third, Jennifer King and Larry Humphrey. Tied for fourth, Jeanie Foote and Dawna Blackmore. Litzie Engle was fifth.

Perryman, 3 Litzie Engle, Walnut Race: 1 Chris Robertson, 2 Kris Henry, 3 Chris Brink. Barrel Racing: 1 Mike Perryman, 2 Dawna Blackmore, 2 Nica Cooper.

The ten girl campers and their counselors rode from Romoland to Murrieta Friday afternoon and stayed overnight at the Town Hall. Saturday morning they rode to Hidden Springs Ranch. After a full day of competition and fun they rode back to Romoland, a distance of about ten miles, proving that they really enjoy riding horseback. ■

This month's presentation from a local writer, like last month's, is from Tom Hudson's book, "The West Is My Home." Unlike last month's story, this one is not necessarily local, but it fits the season so well we couldn't pass it up in our October issue.

Of "The West Is My Home," the Long Beach Press-Telegram commented: "It is the kind of writing not seen in these parts since the late John Steven McGroarty wrote about life in the Verdugo Hills."

THE GOLDEN PLATTER

By TOM HUDSON

OCTOBER is a month of pure clean air in which summer still lingers, but into which just a tiny breath of winter has crept to instill crispness. October on the desert is like early morning on the farm. It is a time when the world is re-awakening. All summer long the barren hills and valleys have lain in a state of hibernation enforced by furnace-like heat.

Then suddenly comes a night when extra blankets are pulled over the bed. When morning comes the distant mountains have lost their veil of summer heat and stand out clear and bright in an atmosphere as exhilarating as old wine.

The rocks and sands of the desert gladly reflect the light of a sun that creeps over the eastern range in a burst of overpowering joy. To the desert it is the resurrection.

Farther up in the mountains a different sun surmounts the horizon across the canyon. But it is also a glad sun. In its magic warmth small patches of snow melt away to become a part of the intoxicating air. Bluejays and chipmunks animate the rugged terrain. It's a time when just to sit out under the blue canopy and absorb nature satisfies all of man's yearnings.

But this is a vast land, and transportation is swift. There are other and different pleasures beckoning.

Back yonder in the South where the oak and elm leaves are turning yellow, and brown, and rust, and flame red; there's breathtaking beauty. There, still another sun pushes its way above the lacy network of the trees and through a dreamy mist to warm the good earth. Out of the north gentle breezes steal down to give warning that winter is not too far behind.

October is the season of the gods which nature each year prepares and presents to you and to me on a platter of pure gold. ■

We hear that one morning recently, a guest at one of the larger hotels, ran out of shaving cream and phoned to have the bell boy bring him up some Gillette Foamy and was told "Sorry, sir, the bar doesn't open until 11 o'clock."

Nothing is quite as embarrassing as watching your boss do something you told him couldn't be done.

America unquestionably has the highest standard of living in the world. Trouble is, hardly any of us can afford it and pay today's high taxes.

Prospective Purchaser: "What have you in the shape of automobile tires?"

Sales lady: "Funeral wreaths, life preservers and doughnuts."

Teacher: "Can you give me Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, Jack?"

Jack: "No, but he used to live at the White House."

This is the month our summer vacationers are ready to show the world all the slides taken during their vacation period. Don't resist. You never know how good the refreshments may be.

Not having had a vacation in 31 years maybe we're just jealous.

The largest quota in its 12-year history, $500,000, is the goal of Lions Clubs, International, during White Cane Days October 5 and 6.

Gale Gordon, television comedian currently playing Mr. Wilson in the "Dennis, The Menace" series and this year's national chairman for White Cane Days, said that thousands of Lions will be pinning miniature white canes on lapels of citizens contributing to this cause with its objective of providing funds for sightless and partially blind persons.

Ronnie Gobin, nine-year-old blind child who symbolizes this year's campaign is one of the many children associated with the Los Angeles Foundation for Junior Blind who will benefit, as will other youngsters in similar facilities across the nation.

Dr. Warren E. Greene of Monterey Park, White Cane Day chairman for California and Nevada, said that each year Lions distribute White Cane dollars to aid persons of all ages to obtain glasses, medical care for their eyes, and other aids needed to brighten the darkened world in which so many eyesight sufferers live.

Pricilla Rodriguez and William Edward Kratch Jr. exchanged their marriage vows August 18 at an 11 o'clock ceremony in Grand Avenue Civic Association Hall in Lakeland Village with Judge Stanley S. Root officiating, in the presence of 300 guests.

A wedding crown of Chantilly lace and taffeta with seed pearl trim in the form of a wedding cake held the full elbow length silk illusion veil in place. She carried white orchids and stephanotis on a tulle fashioned heart. Her jewelry was a necklace and earrings of pearls. Her honor attendant was her cousin, Mrs. Elias Marin of Sacaton, Arizona. She was gowned in a yellow organza street length dress, styled with a full circle skirt, a draped bodice, short sleeves, and a flying panel from the right shoulder of the back.

The bridegroom, who is the son of Mrs. William Edward Kratch Sr. of Hawthorne, had as his best man, Elias Marin of Sacaton, Arizona. Chamberlains who acted as ushers and escorts during party, were Robert Elfor members of the wedding party.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the hall, where the wedding cake was cut.

Other wedding festivities included a buffet dinner at the home of the bride's parents in the late afternoon, and a dance attended by some 400 guests in the evening at the Grand Avenue Civic Association Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Kratch are at home at 31-113 Nebraska. He is employed at Elsinore Ready-Mix Company. ■

ONCE A RESIDENT OF MURRIETA

John R. Roen heads for Guayaquil, Ecuador

Ordained a deacon of the Episcopal Church on August 22, 1962, John R. Roen, who at one time made his home in Murrieta, now is enrolled in the Spanish Language Institute, San Jose, Costa Rica. From there, he will begin an assignment as assistant rector of Christ the King Episcopal Church in Guayaquil, Ecuador.

Jack's studies in Costa Rica mark a step in a trail which began in May 1956, when he was confirmed at St. Andrew's-by-the-Lake Episcopal Church in Elsinore, with Bishop Donald J. Campbell officiating.

The Rev. Charles Richmond, then vicar of St. Andrew's, was Jack's instructor and friend, helping and inspiring the young man as he prepared to enter the ministry.

Jack was presented for ordination by the Rev. Cannon Henry Clark Smith, retired rector of All Saints Episcopal Church, Riverside.

Conferring the ordination was the Rt. Rev. Robert B. Gooden, retired Suffragen Bishop of Los Angeles, who acted for his son, the Rt. Rev. R. Heber Gooden, Bishop of the Missionary District, Panama Canal Zone.

The ceremony, which took place in Christ Episcopal Church in Ontario, was witnessed by Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Junkley, Mrs. Clyde Longe and Mrs. B. C. James of Elsinore and Mrs. John Wilson and Mrs. Glen Casner of Perris, of the St. Andrew's congregation. Following the ceremony, the Roen family were hosts at luncheon served at the Sycamore Inn.

The new deacon is a native of Ontario. He graduated from Chaffey High School in 1944 and after one year at Chaffey College, joined the army for an eighteen-months tour, spending a third of the time in Japan. He earned a B.A. degree at the Riverside Campus of the University of California, in 1959. He graduated last June from the Church Divinity School of the Pacific at Berkeley with a B.D. degree. The school is one of eleven Episcopal seminaries in the United States. In preparation for his studies in Costa Rica, he spent two months in area linguistic studies at Drew University, Madison, New Jersey.

On the missionary trail from Elsinore to Ecuador, Jack will have the players and helping hands of the congregation of St. Andrew's. Under the Missionary Program of the National Council of Protestant Churches' Overseas Department, Jack has been officially "adopted" by the congregation of the Elsinore church and for the next three years the members will be his sponsors.

Ruth Tarner at the piano

Probably no phrase is more familiar to the readers of the society columns than "Ruth Tarner at the piano," for there is little that goes on in the Elsinore valley, where music is concerned, that does not include Ruth Tarner at the piano.

Her graduation from Pasadena Junior College as music major was followed by another year of post graduate work at the same college and then two years of night school for adults at Los Angeles State College.

Ruth Tarner, with her family, has resided in Elsinore for 17 years and her teaching career comprises 15 years as piano and voice teacher and two years as organ teacher at her home studio on Grand Avenue.

For 13 years Mrs. Tarner has been organist and soloist at the Evans-Brown Mortuary in Elsinore and five years as organist and choir director at the First Baptist Church in Elsinore. For two years she served as general director and pianist for Elsinore Choral Society; one year as temporary pianist for Elsinore Methodist Church and for seven years she has been pianist for the Elsinore Rotary Club appearing every Friday at the noon luncheon.

It has been said "Ruth Tarner marries 'em and buries 'em."

Not only is Ruth Tarner a top pianist and organist but she has also composed, arranged and performed during the recording of two albums of Educational Rhythm records, "Holiday Rhythms" and "Rhythm Time" for Bomar Records, Los Angeles.

Mrs. Tarner has been a member of California Music Teachers Association, Riverside Branch, since 1954 and holds an accredited teacher's rating. She currently has enrolled 40 students. She plays for both the Masonic Lodge and Eastern Star and has recently been installed as official teacher of piano and organ at Sun City.

VETERANS COLUMN

By CHRISTINE WRIGHT

"We hold these truths self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; we beg the blessings of Divine Providence upon us and upon our Country."

The Veterans of Foreign Wars held their all-day meeting of the 2nd District, Sunday, the 9th, at the Veterans Memorial Hall. Commander Cassie Jones, Post 200, and his wife Lorraine, president of Auxiliary 1508 are on vacation in Northern California, and because of this a great many of their members turned out to represent Elsinore at this meeting. Second District Commander Homer Earnest, and 2nd District President Orel Earnest were delighted with the attendance and accomplishments of their first District meeting, the keynote of which was "service" and "membership." There are 1,800,000 veterans in California eligible to join the VFW. Commander Earnest stressed the fact that there must be cooperation between the Post and Auxiliary; if not, then neither one makes any headway.

Everyone enjoyed the barbecued chicken dinner, and Anne O'Connor, kitchen chairman, and Mattie Waring, dining room chairman, want to extend their appreciation for all the cooperation and generous help.

When Frank Neuber, Elsinore's Boys' Stater sponsored by American Legion Post 200, gave his report he read the resolution adopted by Boys' State: "We, the representatives of Boys' State wish to express to the American Legion thanks that cannot be expressed in words or speech, but only in deeds and actions. 841 boys have in one week molded and conceived concepts of the American Government in their minds in such a way that faith in America's strength and principles of democracy are so great that the entire lifetime of each and every Boys' Stater shall be a more conscientious expression of America. This experience has been absolutely invaluable, for each individual has a greater understanding of the American way of life. We further resolve that this worthwhile and beneficial program set forth by the American Legion, will be a lasting impression on our lives so that we will always dedicate ourselves to God, humanity and our Country."

A banquet with "South of the Border" atmosphere and decorations was held in the Veterans Memorial Hall by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Alonzo and Mr. and Mrs. Leandro Perez. They gave this dinner to call attention to the harmony and understanding that exists among the Lake Elsinore Valley Veterans Organizations. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Gilbertson, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Nelson, Evaline Morrison, Marie and Mary Jo Seith, James Booth, as well as certain members of the American Legion Post 200, VFW Post 1508, VWWI Barracks 924, American G. I. Forum, and their Auxiliaries.

Henry and Leandro were Emcees as well as the waiters, and Concha and Mary prepared the food. They served enchiladas, tacos, fried beans, Spanish rice, tossed salad, fruit jello, coffee and Vina Rose. Henry Alonzo presented each guest, complimenting them for their efforts to bring honor to this great Country of ours.

Gale Gough stated he was proud of Elsinore's good constructive citizens and their positive Americanism programs. . . Roy Willette expressed the pleasure and appreciation of the guests in being invited. . . Leandro Perez thanked everyone for coming and sharing, and climaxed the evening with the statement that "our community strength begins at home." ■

Tax rate drops

Taxpayers in the two school districts in Elsinore will see a reduction in their bills this fall.

The elementary district has cut its tax rate almost 14 cents on each $100 of assessed valuation. The high school district, which covers the area from Temecula to Alberhill, has also cut its taxes.

The decrease in the taxes are due to cuts in the districts' contribution to the teacher retirement fund, the non-teachers' retirement fund, the meals for needy children program, the service for the mentally retarded children (provided by the county) and the bond interest and redemption fund.

The tax rate for the high school district is $1.458 on each $100 of assessed valuation; and for the elementary district, $1.537. ■

SOON READY FOR OCCUPANCY

Sun City making rapid progress

SUN CITY, Calif. — Time was when retirement meant slippers, pipe and a rocking chair on the front porch. The senior citizen simply rocked away the days, maybe puttering a bit around the house or playing golf if he could find a foursome, or even a partner.

This was the picture only a few short years ago and it leads to a pretty important question: Are Mom and Dad really enjoying their retirement years in the fun-filled way they have always dreamed they would?

If they are, fine; if not, then there is a course of action open to them exclusively. It is an active new way of life which has shown thousands of Americans, from just 50 years of age, how to get the most from their retirement.

A completely different concept in living that has put new meaning to retirement—this is Del Webb's Sun City, a palm-dotted new city situated 22 miles south of Riverside on the spacious acres of Menifee Valley.

Hundreds of retired, semi-retired and persons planning retirement have visited Sun City since it was officially opened in June and have decided to adapt the Webb-conceived active way of retirement as their own.

Even before the grand opening, visitors flocked to the new Sun City to select homes and homesites and have continued through the summer until a total sales figure of more than $114 millions have been reached by mid-September.

Although the developing Del Webb Corporation has been beset by work stoppages—one of several weeks duration—the first residents will be receiving keys to their completed homes during the first week in October. The moving vans will start arriving in a steady stream until by year's end more than 500 homes will be occupied.

Friendly enjoyment with people of common interest is one of the non-physical advantages offered senior citizens by Del Webb's Sun City. Here smiles light up at a gathering of home buyers in the Town Hall. These meetings for fun and fellowship are held regularly on the third Monday of each month. Special events are also called as they are desired.

IN THE SWIM—Active retirement for home-buyers of Del Webb's Sun City is illustrated here at the Riviera-size swimming pool with its covered patio and privacy protecting wall. Home-owners who have moved to the towns surrounding Sun City to await the completion of their homes make daily use of this exclusive facility.

DANCING A POPULAR ACTIVITY—In a recent survey of desired activities a large number of Sun City home-buyers listed ball room dancing as one of the most popular. Here Sun City owners enjoy a get-together and dancing in the spacious Town Hall.

BEATTYS CELEBRATE FIFTIETH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY — Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Beatty of Hollywood celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at the hill top home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Tomlin in the Ortega mountains on September 9.

The Beattys are the parents of Mrs. Tomlin. They were married in Neneva, New York and have resided in Hollywood for the past 31 years where Mr. Beatty is a patent attorney. Twenty guests and relatives attended the reception.

4-H Group Displays Loot

August 26 was quite a day for a group of 4-Hers who gathered at the home of David H. Brown of Wildomar for a celebration of the awards given them at the Hemet Fair for the display of their handiwork and livestock.

The affair was pointed mainly to the electrical department as Dave Brown for the past four years has been a 4-H instructor in all things electrical. Dave is a graduate of the Elsinore Union High School and while still a student received his license for a radio sending and receiving station. He has instructed many 4-Hers in his well equipped shop and the value of his instruction may be judged by the fact that his boys won five out of eight awards given by the California Electric Power Company at the last two fairs.

Following is a list of the prize winners from the Elsinore Valley:

Livestock: Swine

Robert Brassfield, 1st, Cross, Miss Personality; 1st, Yorkshire, York 6th, Showmanship.

Sheep

Lynda Brassfield, 1st, Suffolk, 1st; Suffolk; 1st Suffolk. Don McFerran, 1st, Cross, Claudia, Lane Parry, Sheep, Sue.

The Elsinore Valley 4-H chapter also received 3rd place for their feature booth.

The management of fairs and the Agricultural Extension Service have long been united in an effort to make fairs and shows an educational experience for 4-H Club members. This, together with the carnival atmosphere of the fairgrounds, the competitive nature of the showing performance, and the opportunity for cash returns, combine to make exhibiting one of the most popular of the 4-H activities. The glamorous attractions, however, sometimes outweigh the educational values of fairs, and to depreciate the ideals that 4-H tries to teach. In some instances, this amounts to an abuse of the privileges of membership, and in a very few cases, an outright exploitation of 4-H Club work.

This tendency is less in evidence with home economics than with livestock exhibitors, less in evidence with exhibitors of breeding stock than with those whose fat stock goes through the sale, and less with younger than with older exhibitors. It would appear that high stakes and age of the exhibitors are factors. A more important factor, perhaps, is the lack of emphasis on competitive effort as an educational tool to develop values and attitudes that support the 4-H ideals of service and leadership.

Fairs and shows unquestionably provide opportunities for education in a competitive situation. These opportunities could well be a planned experience for most 4-H Club members. They include: Learning the skills of preparing and displaying exhibits; learning by comparison the quality of one's exhibit; learning standards as interpreted by the judges; learning the requirements of the market; learning how to adjust to a group living situation where the conventions, disciplines and routines of family life are given a real life test; learning how to engage in the many activities of the fair, and learning how to apply the ideals of 4-H Club work when the stakes are high and competition is keen.

These opportunities are strong medicine. A proper dose is beneficial. An overdose is harmful, particularly if taken over an extended period of time. The task is one of encouraging the exhibitor to limit his dosage. It is a task for staff, leaders, parents, and older members. It should be undertaken by emphasis, and, if necessary, insistence upon attitudes and performance that reflect the ideals of 4-H Club work.

Federal money for Moreno

The federal government granted $425,165 to the Moreno Valley Unified School District. The grant will take the place of an equal amount the district had scheduled to borrow from the state.

The money will go toward the cost of building the new high school there. It will cost nearly two million dollars for the first part of the school and the local district will pay the difference between the federal grant and the final cost.

The federal money, said District Superintendent Patrick Rooney, was granted to help cover the cost of educating Moreno Valley high school students at Poly High in Riverside.

La Laguna Revue for September featured the beautiful Shamel Ranch, showing a few of the hundreds of fine horses in or near Murrieta. Some folks ask, "Won't they draw millions of horse flies here?" Pshaw, why worry? Horse flies aren't so stupid that they can't tell almost anyone around here from a horse.

I see where J. F. Kennedy signed a bill to cut down the cost of minting pennies. In the alloy, zinc will be used in place of more costly tin. What do I think of it? Confidentially, I think it zines. ■

Quarterback Club again in action

Fred Dominguez is the new president of the Elsinore Quarterback Club, which had its first meeting September 18 prior to the season's first game on the following Friday, between the Tigers and Valencia. H. D. Mitchell was elected secretary.

The first meeting was attended by 20 members who were served with coffee and rolls.

The outgoing officers were given a vote of thanks for having made the past season a successful one. ■

Perris hires city manager

Murray Dean Snyder of Hermosa Beach was hired by Perris City Councilmen to be city manager.

The vote included four "yes" ballots and one abstention, that made by Councilman Elmer Smith, who said he highly approved of Mr. Snyder as the best qualified candidate out of the field of forty applications turned in, but he was still not certain that Perris should have a city manager.

Mr. Smith has said repeatedly that he does not favor the city manager form of government but indicated that he may change his mind. ■

Ripened Judgment

"Then we're engaged?"

"Of course."

"And I am the first girl you ever loved?"

"No, dear, but I'm harder to suit now than I used to be." ■

President Galal Gough and other officers of the First National Bank of Elsinore acted as host during the bank's open house celebration of its 75 years of banking, Saturday, September 22.

IT'S JUST A HABIT!

Fred Ashbridge does it again—or-yet

Ho hum. Fred Ashbridge skied around Catalina Island from the mainland the Saturday before Labor Day.

Publisher: You call this item a story?

Editor: What do you want to do, get out a special edition?

Publisher: Don't you realize this event took place on the man's 79th birthday?

Editor: So what? He'll be doing it on his 90th birthday. It's a habit. He's been doing it every year for ages. I've got a swell lead in mind for a story when he hits the century mark!

Publisher: Never mind that. This fellow deserves a good story now.

Editor: This was no different than last year, or the year before that, or—well, he did lose a shoe this time, I might put that in. . .

Publisher: You mean a ski. Get your mind on the subject and get out and interview the guy.

Editor: Just as you say, boss.

* * *

We found Fred Ashbridge in the yard of his Lakeland Village home four days after his history making voyage from the mainland to Catalina Island on a pair of skis. He was recuperating from an ordeal which takes ten or twelve pounds off his frame annually in the matter of a couple of hours, but he's back to normal again after a few days rest.

This was the worst trip he ever had, Fred said. The fog was so thick that Price Sloan, who piloted the boat, steered the entire distance by compass and did not sight the island until he was within a few hundred yards of it.

The water was rough and choppy the entire 38 miles from an Pedro around the upper end of the island to Catalina Harbor but despite the fact that the water was rough and the air damp and cold he covered the course in our hour and 28 minutes.

To make matters worse he lost both skis when nearing the island and with each ski going in a different direction he was forced to swim some distance before he could retrieve them, and then, just to show what a real champ he is, he finished the trip around the island on one ski.

He said the air was so cold that when he fell the water felt warm to him and the swim gave him renewed energy.

He attributed his fall to the cross wake of a big fishing boat. "The ocean waves are natural," he said, "but when you get caught between them going one way and the wake of a boat going the other, you're in trouble."

"Just before the accident," he continued, "I would have quit if I hadn't said I would make the trip. It was cold and miserable and I felt like quitting all the way over, for only a lunatic would ski in such water and such weather, but the plunge into the water seemed to refresh me and I finished the course in good shape."

Price Sloan and his son, Price junior, spotted a 12-

ELIZABETH AND MORRIS IN MAIN EVENT

A little late, folks, but here is the blow by blow description of the Morris Piscitello - Elizabeth Grootheest, affair staged September 1 at the St. Frances Church in Elsinore.

The bride chose a gown of lace over slipper satin. The fitted bodice was cut with a pointed waistline. Her scoop neck and points of the long fitted sleeves were trimmed with seed pearls. A pearl studded tiara held in place her lace edged fingertip veil. She carried a bridal bouquet of orchids, lilies of the valley and stephanotis.

Jo Ann Piscitello, sister of the bridegroom, was the bride's honor attendant. She was dressed in a sheath of lavender satin with a satin overskirt. She wore a matching head bandeau with a face veil and carried an orchid with carnations.

The bridesmaids included Barbara Burling, Eleanore Villa, Linda Harrison, Carol Phillips, Micky Papini, all of Elsinore and Dolores Muyden of Upland. They were dressed in costumes identical to the honor attendant.

Serving in his brother's corner was Joe Piscitello. Ushers were Stephen Felber, Richard Villa, Raymond Knittle, Robert Cervantes, all of Elsinore, Dennis Berry of Van Nuys and Howard Muyden of Upland.

Father B. Francis Ross officiated. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Grootheest while the groom is the son of Mrs. Mildred Piscitello. A reception and buffet dinner was held at the Veterans Memorial Hall following the ceremony after which the wedding party and guests danced until the wee small hours.

After a short honeymoon spent in Bishop the couple are now at home at 14328 Magnolia Avenue, Van Nuys.

Enrollment increases at ENMS

Miss Juanita Constance

became the secretary to the Principal of ENMS on September 4, 1962. She is a 1960 graduate of Elsinore Union High School and then she took her A.A. degree at Chaffey College, Loma Alta, California, June, 1962. Her major was secretarial science.

Sherrick.

Mr. Daryl Michaud took his undergraduate work at Nebraska Wesleyan University, Lincoln, Nebraska, and completed his A.B. degree in 1958. When he came to California in the early part of 1962 he took graduate work at Long Beach State College, Long Beach, Cali-

At the beginning of the fall semester at ENMS on Monday, September 10, 1962, Colonel G. R. Conklin, President, announced a total enrollment of 110 Cadets in the secondary school grades 7-12, and 30 Cadets in the elementary grades 1-6. These figures indicated an increase of approximately 20 per cent as compared to the total enrollment of 1961-62.

Among the total registrations in the elementary and secondary divisions of the school there were many students entering from the southern, northern, and fornia. Previous to his coming to Elsinore Naval and Military School he taught at Irving Junior High School, Lincoln, Nebraska.

Mr. Clayton A. Sherrick attended the University of Tennessee at Knoxville, Tennessee, and majored in Civil Engineering. Also, he took the equivalent number of units for a second major in Science. Later he took graduate work at George Washington University, Washington, D. C. and specialized in the Slavic languages. He speaks and writes Russian. Among the interesting employment experiences prior to his teaching was his employment in the United States Department of State, Washington, D. C. under Civil Service and served in this capacity for a period of twelve years.

midwestern states of our country. Students who have traveled several thousand miles from Central and South America held the record for the greatest distance traveled to enter ENMS this fall. Two students traveled by plans from Caracas, Venezuela, South America. Two other students flew into the International Airport from Honolulu, Hawaii. One student came from Juneau, Alaska. Truly, the metropolitan as well as the International background of many youth constitute the various types of students at ENMS.

ALUMNI NOTES

Roy Neil Wallace, '57 graduated with honors from the United States Naval Academy in June. The graduation exercises which were attended by Col. Glenn Conklin, President of the Elsinore Naval and Military School, saw Roy listed twenty-first in a list of 102 graduating with distinction out of some 880 in the Class of 1962. He was first in the department of history. At present Roy is stationed at Treasure Island preparatory to his assignment in Japan in October. He will be returned to the states in the winter to take the next step in competing for a Rhodes Scholarship for which the Naval Academy recommended him. Should he be successful in winning the coveted scholarship, he will major in International Law.

New Assistants

New instructor at ENMS

Mr. Gus Wooler did his undergraduate studies at North Carolina State College and completed his A.B. degree at Atlantic Christian College, Wilson, North Carolina in 1954. His major was in Science and he did his minors in mathematics and social science. In addition to his excellent record in the United States Army he traveled extensively and taught English for two years at Athens, Greece. His teaching experience began with his Cadet teaching at Charles L. Coon High School, Wilson, North Carolina, during the fall semester of 1954.

Mr. Frank Franchimone did his undergraduate work at King's College, Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania, and obtained his A.B. degree in 1951. Subsequently, he took graduate studies at Loyola University, Los Angeles, California. He began his teaching experience at Meyers High School, Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania and taught English and United States History. More recently he taught English and Spanish at San Gabriel Mission High School, San Gabriel, California.

Mr. Arch Dunning took his undergraduate studies at the University of Missouri, Columbus, Missouri and obtained his B.S. degree in Education with a major in Music. At the time Mr. Dunning came to California he registered in 1954 for graduate work at the University of Southern California, Los Angeles, where he completed the requirements for the Master of Science degree in 1955. He has studied at Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois, St. Louis Institute of Music, St. Louis, Missouri, and Juilliard Music School, New York City. ■

Lt. Rosenberger was recently appointed assistant Commandant by Lt. Colonel Frederick R. Stimus. Prior to his coming to ENMS he was director of the Covina Valley Chapter of the United Service Organization. He will assist the Commandant in the military science program as well as the athletic program of the school.

Lt. Geluso was appointed assistant Commandant by Lt. Colonel Frederick R. Stimus on September 11, 1962. He had been taking education courses and completing the State requirements for the California Teaching Credential at the California Polytechnic State College, Pomona, California. His assistance in the military science and athletic programs of the school will be particularly effective because of his excellent professional training. ■

Grover Dobyns, '59 was married in April. He is with the United States Navy and visits his Alma Mater whenever in the vicinity.

Ranking cadets at ENMS — 1962-63

These Ranking Cadets have been selected by the Commandant and his Assistants because of the leadership, scholarship, citizenship, and superior qualities of personality and character. They will provide the Cadet Leadership to the 110 Cadets now registered at ENMS for 1962-63.

New science building opened

High School Chemistry, Physics, and Biology have been housed in a new building at ENMS, announced President G. R. Conklin. The new facilities and scientific equipment will compare favorably with any senior high school or junior college in the State of California. Students in the advanced laboratory sciences have been most enthusiastic and responsive to the increased opportunities made available to them through the construction of larger quarters and the provision of more recent scientific supplies and equipment.

Physical Science is added to the Science Curriculum at ENMS, announced Principal Nelson B. Sewell. The increased interest as well as the new demands youth are making in their quest for knowledge about Space, Astronauts, and the planets in our universe caused the introduction for the first time of physical science. Although this course is elementary and non-technical, it provided basic training for the youth as well as assists them in better understanding of the ever changing world of science. ■

Instructional courses introduced

The Boys' Glee has already become one of the most popular elective subjects at ENMS, according to Principal Nelson B. Sewell. In addition high school Band I and the Drum and Bugle Corps have reached their maximum registration. The interest and enthusiasm indicated by the youth assure that music still has a tremendous value to all students. ■

John William Kelly, '58 was married to Mary Elizabeth Parker of Upland, California on June 23, 1962. Bill was the lay-out editor of the 1958 Academy of ENMS and was enrolled at Los Angeles State College for two years following his graduation from ENMS.

foot shark from the boat, while Fred was in the water but Fred was too busy rounding up the skis to be thinking about sharks.

Fred estimates he has traveled more than 2000 miles on the pair of skis he uses for his Catalina trips. He made the skis 16 years ago. He has just completed another pair of skis which are revolutionary in their design and was scheduled to try them out on Senior Day at the Pomona Fair the latter part of September.

Fred, his pilot and observer, were honored by the Corsair Yacht Club members at Catalina where 34 of their boats were anchored. Fred has the distinction of being the oldest member in the club.

Well, that will do for now, but you are going to see a lot of Fred and his wife, in the near future on Lake Elsinore, when the water starts to flow.

Their house backs up to the lake and while Mrs. Ashbridge doesn't go in for these marathons, she is, nevertheless, an expert skier in her own right and has won many trophies in evidence of her proficiency.

Take care of yourself, Fred, and we hope the weather will be better next year when you ski to Catalina on your 80th birthday.

CARL SCHMITT DOES IT AGAIN

Joyce Ann Hurley and Charles V. Smith take vows

CAST OF CHARACTERS

From left: Doris Morsefield, maid of honor; Joyce Ann Hurley, the bride; Charles V. Smith, the groom; Gary Washburn, the best man, and in the rear, Rev. Carl Schmitt.

Carl Schmitt, formerly of Elsinore, who now serves as pastor of the Seal Beach Methodist Church, officiated at the wedding ceremony uniting Joyce Ann Hurley and Charles V. Smith in marriage at the beach city September 7.

Joyce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Hurley of Westminster, is a graduate of Antelope Valley high school while Charles was graduated from Elsinore Union high school, class of 1959, later was graduated from San Bernardino Valley College and is presently attending night classes at Long Beach State while working at the Lunday Thagart Oil Company. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard P. Smith of Elsinore and has three sisters, Pattie, Elizabeth and Diana.

After a brief honeymoon at Big Bear, the couple are now making their home at 14231 Spring Dale, Westminster, California. ■

Masons observe Constitution Week

The observance of Constitution Week, which is annually commemorated by Masonic Lodges throughout the nation, was celebrated September 20 at the Elsinore Veterans Memorial Hall.

The affair was sponsored jointly by Elsinore Lodge No. 289 and Perris Lodge No. 411.

Patrick J. Malley, Deputy District Attorney for Riverside County, was the guest speaker pointing out how our high courts have handicapped the prosecution of criminals by their many interpretations of the Constitution.

This year marks the 175th signing of the Constitution at Philadelphia's Independence Hall and the purpose of the Masonic observance is to maintain the awareness of this important document in the minds of the citizens of this great nation. ■

Florene Lynch Kunkle and Wesley J. Marshall were united in marriage by the Rev. Carl Schmitt on Friday, the 21st of September at the Methodist Church in Elsinore.

The bride wore an electric blue silk sheath with matching accessories. She carried a bouquet of red roses. Her honor attendant was her sister, Lawanda McEniry, and best man was Kenneth Lynch, brother of the bride.

The bride is a graduate of Elsinore Union High School and is presently City Clerk of Elsinore. The bridegroom is a general contractor.

Following a reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Mayhall the couple made their getaway for Las Vegas, Laguna Beach and other places for a brief honeymoon.

They will make their home at 140 Lucerne Street in Elsinore.

So you didn't think we'd make it, eh?

Well, we must admit, there were times when we were not too sure ourselves, but our loyal friends and readers built for us a paid circulation that can not be ignored by advertisers seeking to reach the residents of this great valley.

It seems the first year is always the hardest in the life of any publication but our successful completion of the course makes us optimistic of the future, and we hope to make an even better score the second time around.

However, the lean months of the past prompts us to urge that subscribers whose renewals are now due, make prompt remittance, before our publisher, who has already lost considerable weight, loses his belt and is forced to buy suspenders.
