More about water for Lake Elsinore

Perhaps you would like to know what's going on in Sacramento in connection with that perpetual struggle to obtain water for Lake Elsinore.

Our Assemblyman Gordon Cologne finally got his Resolution approved by all parties and was able to present it to the Assembly May 15 where it was unanimously passed.

If you are interested in "whereases" here's the Resolution in its entirety:

WHEREAS, The Legislature of the State of California has authorized the loan of $750,000 from the Small Craft Harbor Revolving Fund to the Division of Beaches and Parks for the purpose of filling Lake Elsinore with water; and

WHEREAS, the respective state agencies interested in this project have substantially approved all the legal and engineering formalities necessary for the delivery of water and the development of Lake Elsinore; and

WHEREAS, the Metropolitan Water District has offered to sell surplus water when it is available for the filling and replenishing of Lake Elsinore; and

WHEREAS, The feasibility of the entire project depends on the availability of surplus water, which cannot be guaranteed by any agency; and

WHEREAS, construction of certain works for the transfer of water must be built at a cost of approximately $250,000 prior to the actual physical availability of water; and

WHEREAS, The Lake Elsinore Park and Recreation District has adopted a resolution stating that it believes surplus water will be available from some source and desires to proceed with the project assuming the responsibility of repayment of the loan to the extend of a 25-cent tax rate whether or not such water is available; and

WHEREAS, The County of Riverside has adopted a resolution stating it believes surplus water will be available and will execute a contract agreeing to guarantee the repayment of the loan for the amount in excess of the 25-cent tax rate of the Lake Elsinore Park and Recreation District; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY of the State of California, the Senate thereof concurring, That the members of the Legislature of the State of California do reaffirm its position favoring the filling of Lake Elsinore as previously authorized, and directs the Administrator of the Resources Agency and all appropriate state agencies to use such diligence and take such steps as may be necessary to complete the project of filling Lake Elsinore at the earliest possible date; and be it further

RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be sent to the Governor of the State of California, the Administrator of the Resources Agency, the Board of Directors of the Metropolitan Water District, the Board of Supervisors of the County of Riverside, and the Board of Directors of the Lake Elsinore Park and Recreation District.

There you have it. Senator Lee Backstrand will present a Senate version of the Resolution to the Senate and if passed it will be sent to Small Crafts and Harbors for approval, then on to the Department of Finance which in turn will give the money to the Division of Beaches and Parks which will make the money available to complete the channel and valve facility needed to bring the water from the MWD line to Lake Elsinore. Senator Backstrand is confident the Resolution will pass the Senate. ■

It wants to be a city

Lakeland Village has growing pains

When is a village not a village, is a question that is being discussed pro and con among the inhabitants of Lakeland Village and they are getting a lot of advice from their sister city across the lake.

The thing all started the latter part of April when the Lakeland Property Owners held an organizational meeting at Richardson's Guest Haven which was followed by another meeting early in May at the Grand Avenue Civic Association Center at which time a president and board of directors was elected.

Jeral Stanley, a resident of Villa Park, who has considerable property at the head of Lake Elsinore, was made president and at a later meeting at the same place, outlined his views on the advantages of incorporating the district.

It seems Stanley is interested in some 30 acres of land adjacent to the lake on Riverside Drive and another 140 acres between Riverside and Machado and was somewhat disturbed by the activity of Elsinore's City Planning Commission in annexing a number of pieces of property adjoining the city on the east and plans to annex the present dry lake bed. This, he feared, might be the first step in the city's plan to annex Lakeland Village.

Boomer Lee, prominent Realtor of Lakeland Village has acted as master of ceremonies at each of the Property Owners' meetings.

The plan of incorporating Lakeland Village as a city in its own right is still a conversation piece. It hasn't as yet got down to the facts of life. The cost of operating a city somewhat larger than Elsinore is still problematical and it is not likely that any further action will be taken until the Property Owners board of directors has received an answer to a questionnaire the board has sent out to numerous cities of similar size in the state seeking information on the cost and maintenance of an incorporated city.

It has both its advantages and disadvantages and one must be weighed against the other before a decision can be reached.

Services come high these days. The Administration office of Riverside County has estimated that police protection supplied by the county would cost in the neighborhood of $50,000 a year for one car, one man, 24 hours, daily service. Street maintenance would run around $800 per year per mile for county standards and there are 39 miles in the proposed Lakeland City area.

Then there is the all important matter of sewerage and sewerage disposal, and that is not a matter of maintenance alone but calls for the establishment of a system.

And when the money is made available to care for all these things the question still remains where to find capable and experienced persons to conduct the affairs of a city.

Some of the advantages of living in an incorporated city will be pointed out in an article appearing in the July issue of this magazine.

Babies in silk hats playing with dynamite

When former Congressman John Rousselot spoke to an audience of 600 in Elsinore on April 24 he made charges that since have caused an explosion in Washington political circles. Among charges made by Rousselot were:

That the Soviet Union's Nikita Khrushchev, speaking before the United States Congress in 1959, proposed a three-stage program for world disarmament to culminate with the pooling of national armies under United Nations control;

That in 1961 the Council on Foreign Relations came up with a similar three-point recommendation;

That later in the same year and shortly after a meeting in Vienna between President Kennedy and Khrushchev, the State Department issued a booklet entitled "Freedom from War" which described a United States program for disarmament to be carried out in three stages;

That still later that year President Kennedy, in a speech before the United Nations, proposed a three-stage program for world disarmament under United Nations control and proposed that the program be started immediately;

That United States Ambassador to the United Nations Adlai Stevenson made the statement that the United States is in dead earnest in its efforts to disarm under the auspices of an International Disarmament Organization within the framework of the United Nations;

That the UN Military Staff has almost always been headed by a communist;

That over the head of the UN Military Staff is the Under-Secretary for Political and Security Council Affairs, a post which has always been headed by a communist pursuant to an agreement between Alger Hiss and the Soviet Union;

And that U. Thant, Secretary-General of the UN, by his own admission, has for years been a devout Marxist.

Rousselot said that the various three-point programs suggested by Khrushchev, the Council on Foreign Relations, and the State Department were for the most part similar. One of the suggested programs, which he clarified, called for two thirty per cent reductions in armament followed by surrender of the remaining arms to the United Nations.

Rousselot said that some of this disarmament has already begun and that he had been informed that the State Department is planning total transfer of United States military forces to the UN within three years—six years if it takes that long to convince the people of the United States. He said the State Department will neither confirm nor deny this statement.

The former Congressman, now a district governor for the John Birch Society, was sponsored in Elsinore by Elsinore Valley Incorporated.

The purpose of this editorial is to inform those who did not have an opportunity of attending the meeting, of what is going on in our government. If you are not in accord with this policy you have the privilege of writing your Congressman and Senator and expressing your views. ■

Perris C of C heads clean-up campaign

John R. Harrison, chairman of the Health, Education and Welfare committee of the Perris Chamber of Commerce, reports excellent cooperation among nearly all areas of the valley in the recent clean-up campaign directed by the chamber.

Committees in the City of Perris, Mead Valley, Val Verde, Nuevo, Lakeview, Good Hope, Meadowbrook, Quail Valley, Romoland, Homeland and Menifee, all took a hand in the clean-up job, according to Harrison, and the valley never looked so good.

Work started May 4th with the trimming of trees in the parkway on Perris Boulevard by members of the Panthers 4-H Club.

Nuevo-Lakeview Grange directed the work in its area while V. A. Ashley, co-chairman, had trucks and other equipment working in the Romoland District.

What's going on down Kalmia Way?

By GAREY CARR

For verily I say unto you, That whosoever shall say unto this mountain, Be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea; and shall not doubt in his heart, but shall believe that those things which he saith shall come to pass; he shall have whatsoever he saith.—St. Mark 11:23.

We don't know what Dudley Schrimpton of the Mardley Co., Los Angeles, said to the mountain, but we do know that he instructed a half dozen operators of a like number of those giant bulldozers, (or whatever they call those things that cut freeways through mountains) to get busy and level a few miniature mountains appearing on some 48 acres of land on West Kalmia Street, Murrieta, recently purchased by him for his company, and believe it or not, those mountains have disappeared.

If you haven't been down that way the last couple of months you'd never know the place and if the late Frank Angus, former owner of the property, were to return today, he'd never recognize his old home.

As a matter of fact, this writer, who used to live on West Kalmia, now finds himself living on West Hayes Avenue, according to the street sign at the corner of Hayes and Kalmia, but we trust this is only a temporary improvement and that the sign will be reversed again in the near future.

But back to the 48 acres. Gone is the old barn of many colors which stood as a landmark for lo those many years until it became all tattered and torn and no longer housed the cow with the crumpled horn.

And what's it all about? Well, Dudley Schrimpton is going to convert this piece of property into one of the finest horse and cattle ranches to be seen in these parts.

His first move after purchasing the property was to contact Charles Gerhart, head of the Elsinore-Murrieta-Anza Soil Conservation District, with headquarters in Murrieta, and Charlie had his engineer, Paul Nashida, draft a horse and cattle ranch that will be the envy of every horse and cow in the district.

He started on the west end with the construction of a large lake and from that point east of Hayes Avenue the property is given a five per cent drop. A 55-foot hill near the center of the property was reduced to ground level and some 100,000 yards of dirt moved to make a five per cent grade level for a smooth functioning sprinkler irrigation system for permanent pasture.

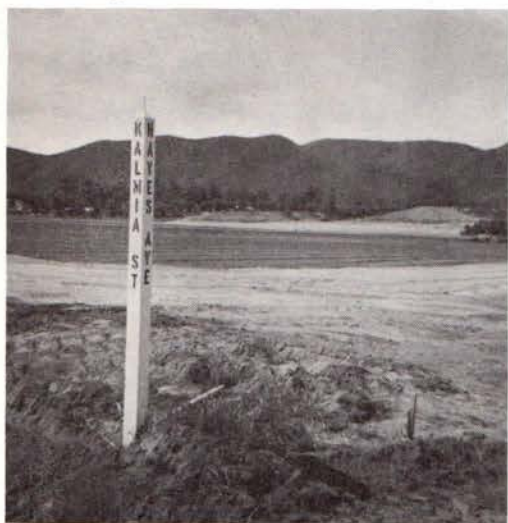

The entire area will be fenced and cross-fenced and under present plans two-thirds will be for registered white-faced cattle and one-third for horses.

The old Angus house is being remodeled and will serve as the home of Charles Setzer, ranch foreman, and his wife. Plans call for the building of a more pretentious home at a later date on a knoll being prepared for the site.

The purchaser of the property, the Mardley Company Inc., of which Schrimpton is vice-president, and his wife, Marjorie, president, is a subsidiary of the Schrimpton Manufacturing and Supply Co. of Los Angeles, a family corporation of which his son, Stuart Schrimpton, is president. The company deals in caterpillar tractors and marine engines. ■

The two lower photos were taken from the Carr ranch which joins the Shrimpton property on the west. Photo at right shows the excavation which has been made for the lake.

County buildings in Elsinore near completion

In the February issue of La Laguna Revue we showed a photograph of His Honor Mayor Thomas C. Bartlett of Elsinore, fondly gazing at the Architect's drawing of the proposed Riverside County's Administrative Center in the Elsinore Judicial District. The dream is fast becoming a reality as may be noted by the pictures above. The work is being done by Maveric Construction Company of San Bernardino.

PAINT PRICES DROP FOR CLEANUP EFFORT

The paint up phase of the clean-up program will commence June 1, according to Co-Chairman John Harrison and Virgil Ashley. In anticipation of the program, and to encourage the work, local paint stores have discounted all their stocks 25% for the next two weeks. Participating merchants included Community Lumber, Dan's Feed & Seed, Perris Valley Hardware, Reynolds Hardware and Plumbing, and Western Auto.

Julian does it again

If you want to see wildflowers in all their profusion don't fail to attend the Wildflower Show given each year under the sponsorship of the Julian Woman's Club.

You are a little late for this year's show which opened May 11 and closed May 26, but if you missed it don't fail to see it next year.

Hundreds of wildflowers, in all their profusion, are shown in the Community Hall in Julian and if you are not interested in wildflowers, go anyway, and visit this historic little town.

In case you have never been in Julian we might help you by saying it is on Highway 79 and it is just 66 miles south and east of Elsinore. If you would like to start from Murrieta you can save 11 miles as Murrieta is on the way along Highway 71. In fact you take Highway 71 until you come to Highway 79.

But more about the show. It is different from any flower show you ever saw. The flowers are grown by nature herself and as a result there are no blue, red, yellow ribbons or any other prizes for individual exhibits as all the displays belong to Mother Nature herself and she would have to be awarded all the ribbons and prizes.

Some years ago a group of civic minded women got together and decided it would be a nice thing to gather a sample of all the wildflowers in sight, and

Wedding vows given in April

The marriage of Carole Diane Mansfield to Jozef R. TenBerge was solemnized on Saturday, April 27, at 11 a.m. at St. Frances Catholic Church, Elsinore, with a Nuptial High Mass, Rev. B. Francis Ross officiating.

The bride wore an Empire style floor length gown with chapel train, of organza over bridal taffeta. The sabrina neckline and belle type skirt were trimmed with appliques of alencon lace embroidered with seed pearls. She wore an elbow length illusion veil, held by a crown of pearls, and carried a cascade of white roses centered with white orchids.

John TenBerge, brother of the groom was best man. The maid of honor was Ria TenBerge, the groom's sister. Bridesmaids were Suzy Walker, Marjie House and Joan LaBonte, cousin of the bride. All the attendants wore sheath type street length dresses of azalea pink organza over taffeta, and their headpieces were of matching net, with bow of peau de soi. They carried bouquets of white and azalea pink carnations.

Music was provided by Mrs. Francis Foley, organist and soloist, assisted by Mrs. T. L. Cionni and Mrs. Jack Baer.

Ushers were Mr. Don TenBerge, Arnold TenBerge and Lloyd Mansfield.

Following the ceremony a reception was held for approximately 200 guests in St. Frances Social Hall. Presiding at the refreshment tables were Mrs. Norman Park, Mrs. T. L. Cionni, Mrs. Francis Foley, Mrs. Jack Baer and Mrs. Fred Dominguez. Miss Cynthia LaBonte circulated the guest book and Miss Rosemarie Cionni received the gifts.

Out of town guests were relatives and friends of the bride from San Bernardino, Santa Ana and Vista, and of the groom from Artesia and Lakewood. Also present were relatives visiting from Holland.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Mansfield of Elsinore. She graduated from Elsinore High School in 1961. While attending school she was junior class treasurer, a songleader, and during her senior year, a member of the annual staff. She attended San Bernardino Valley College and was recently employed by a finance company in San Bernardino. She is a member of Phi Omicron chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority in San Bernardino.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John TenBerge of Artesia. He attended St. Anthony's High School in Long Beach and served two years with the 82nd Airborne Division. He is employed in Los Angeles in the dairy industry.

Following a honeymoon to Lake Tahoe the couple are making their home in Bell Gardens.

Right foreground shows new apartment construction between Sun City Boulevard and Winged Foot Drive. Cherry Hills Boulevard extends to the right (or west) from the Highway 395 Sun City entrance and Bradley Road intersection past the golf course and its Pro Shop. There are 1,455 homes built or building in Sun City, with 891 of them finished and 1,700 people living here now.

Derby winner receives trophy

Shouts of encouragement and a contagious enthusiasm marked the annual Pinewood Derby race held on Saturday, April 27 at the Vets Building.

Preliminary elimination heats were run on the specially constructed track. Each miniature race car entered was constructed by its Cub Scout owner and his mother or father. It had to meet weight and size requirements before it could be officially entered in the race. Parents were rooting just as hard as the boys before the races were over. A trophy was awarded to Cub Scout Mickey Rose who placed first in the race, with Paul Upton running second. Another trophy was presented to the owner of the most beautiful race car. Steve Miller was the recipient of this award, with second place going to Wally Borchard. Reverend Bob Fink conducted the race, with Denver Seals acting as judge on the finish line. Cassie Jones, VFW Post 1508 Commander, judged the most beautiful car.

Outing climaxes year's activity

An outing for Cubs with their leaders and families was held on May 25 as the final activity of the present year. The San Luis Rey Campground near Palomar was the lovely setting for the picnic.

A sailboat regatta was conducted on the river running through the campground for those Cubs who conducted the official miniature sailboats. A trophy was awarded to the winner. Another Pinewood Derby race was held at this time to allow all of the boys to compete again with their race cars. Hiking, fishing, and panning for gold completed the day.

New Cub Scout leaders named

Stan Upton, Cubmaster, and Wayne Grable, chairman, would like to extend their thanks to the den mothers and leaders and parents who have contributed their time, interest, and effort to this year's activities and helped to make the year a Scouting success.

Pack 36 will get under way next fall as soon as the new school sessions are announced. Taking over the leadership will be Reverend Bob Fink as Cubmaster, with Fred Longmore as his assistant, Jake Lepper as chairman of the leaders, and Margie Rose as secretary.

Den 1 feature

Mrs. Bob Fink, a veteran of two years work in the Cub program shares the leadership of Den 1 with her assistant, Mrs. Virginia Berger. Den 1 Cubs have produced some lovely handicraft articles, including a planter box, plaques with the Cub Scout promise, and a birdcage decoration. The boys enjoy singing also and have presented some numbers at the pack meetings. They all share an enthusiasm for working on Cub badges, physical fitness, and games.

Mrs. Fink is a busy wife and mother who is on the go, in addition to her Cub activities, with a full time job as the wife of a minister. Reverend Bob Fink is also a Cub Scout committee member who has kept active as assistant Cubmaster.

Members of Den 1 include Jerry Berger, Paul Bywater, Gregory Fink, Robert Grable, Eddie Miller, Wendell Seals, and John Slate.

Den 2 feature

Den 2 is a brand new den this year and extends Cub Scouting to the Wildomar area. New this year to the experience of Cubbing is den mother Mrs. Fred Longmore. Sandy manages to keep up with a brood of four small children, one large dog, a family of rabbits, and still found time to act as Community Club president at Wildomar School and to organize her Cub meetings and outings. Mrs. Beverly Lepper assists Sandy at the den meetings.

Members of Den 2 are Jerry DeJong, Randy Devine, Sammy Harrison, Jackie Konkle, Tommy Lepper, Mike Longmore, and Billy Morrell.

Den 2 Cubs have gone on several special outings of their own in addition to the trips the whole pack attends. In connection with the April theme of Up Above and Underneath, the den went on a field trip to Skylark Airport. Mrs. Perkins took the boys on a tour around the airport where they observed how a parachute is hand packed. Among the many airplanes and gliders they got to see was a German glider taking off and dropping its wheels.

Den 3

Den 3 has the distinction of having not only a den mother but also a den grandmother. Mrs. Stan Upton with her mother, Mrs. Frank Splitek have shared the leadership in the den for two years. Stan Upton completes the family membership in Cub activities with his position as Cubmaster of Pack 36.

Den members Wally Borchard, Pat and Jim Feeley, Peter Gilbertson, Bruce Stauffer, and Paul Upton meet weekly at the home of Wally Borchard and have enjoyed physical activities, learning about each different theme of the month, and especially like working on the skits they have presented at the pack meetings. Nature hikes have familiarized the boys with first rate knowledge of woodticks and poison ivy as well as the historical lore surrounding Elsinore Valley. ■

Junior Forum gets charter

The Junior G. I. Forum received its charter on April 28 at a convention held in the Mission Inn at Riverside.

The charter was accepted by Chairman Robert Carazosa and Vice-Chairman Lorenzo Perez. ■

Double header ushers in Little League games

Little League Baseball had its official opening May 4 at the Elsinore ball park with a double-header, the first game starting at 4 p.m.

The opener was between the Red Sox, sponsored by the Elsinore Rotary Club and managed by Ron Milts and Bill Gullatt, and the Cubs, sponsored by the American Legion and managed by Walt Mackley and Lou Goulart.

At the end of six innings the teams were tied and the game went into extra innings with the Cubs scoring a run in the first half of the eighth on two errors and a hit. The Red Sox struck out in the last half of the eighth with the score ending Cubs 8, Red Sox 7.

The night game played under the lights was between the Braves and the 7-Ups with the Braves taking it by a score of 9 to 2. ■

"I remember when"

By ELLSWORTH BRADY

For many, many years the City Transfer truck chauffeured by its owner, Herbert (Bert) Townsend, could be seen on Elsinore streets or waiting for the train at the Santa Fe depot.

Bert's widow, Mrs. Mable Townsend Moss, tells of a trip Bert made to Los Angeles for Mrs. Joe James of Elsinore. Bert was to pick up some things at her daughter's place and bring them to Elsinore.

When Bert arrived in the pickup area a woman, hand waving, stopped him, saying "This is the place."

When Bert arrived back in Elsinore the load was not accepted. The woman who had waved him down, was the wrong one and he had picked up a strange load of assorted articles destined for charity.

It wasn't a complete loss, however, because one recipient of the error claimed the package of home brew he received was the best part of the load.

There was also considerable wonderment at the huge amount of white shirts until it was learned that an undertaker had lived in the cabin from where the junk was picked up.

On a trip to San Diego Bert drove into a gasoline station and scraped the paint off a pump. The station attendant told him he would have to pay for a repaint job. It cost Bert $1.50. Bert's assistant advised him to get a receipt, and when it was produced, insisted on signing it too.

Some distance from the station the assistant asked Bert if he wondered why he wanted to sign the receipt. Bert admitted he had wondered. "Well, hadn't you noticed what a nice pen that station man had? See!"

Sky Divers contest at Skylark Field

Hank Simbro of San Fernando Valley was the overall winner of the all-western sport parachute contest held May 4 and 5 at Skylark Field, Elsinore, edging out Larry Perkins by the narrow margin of one half a point.

The meet, sponsored by the Los Angeles Sky Divers, brought out a record crowd of both participants and spectators.

Hank Simbro scored a total of 506.5 points with Larry Perkins a close second with 506 points.

In spot jumping, Ed Duncan was the winner, coming within six feet, five inches of the bulls eye. His nearest competitor landed 14 feet 9 inches from the target.

In the event which required a jump from 5,500 feet by a team of three, Simbro, Donald Warner and Les Flick had a combined total of landing 35 feet from the bulls eye. Their nearest team competition totaled 86 feet, 4 inches from the target.

In the third event, an all girl team won with a jump from 7,500 feet scoring 288 points out of a total possible of 300. The team consisted of Ann Batterson, Carolyn Olson and Muriel Simbro, the latter the wife of the over-all winner.

Hank Simbro, Les Flick, and Don Warner, made second place in this event with 287.3 points.

A total of 676 jumps were made during the two days of the meet. ■

"Is your husband in favor of daylight saving?"

"I think so. He stays out so much at night that I think he'd really prefer not to use any daylight at all." ■

Eastern Star history lauded

A comprehensive history of Elsinore Chapter No. 243, Order of the Eastern Star, was compiled by Mrs. Altha Cauch, Elsinore Librarian, and presented to the Chapter in April 1962.

It was placed on exhibit during last month's meeting of the Eastern Star. Mrs. Cauch joined the chapter in 1918 and was Worthy Matron in 1926, as well as a Deputy Grand Matron.

In gathering the information for her history she used early copies of the Elsinore Leader Press and facts obtained from the minutes of the chapter provided by Secretary Pearl Beach.

The Elsinore Chapter was organized in 1906. Mrs. Beach was made secretary in 1930 and has served in that capacity continuously to date with the exception of 18 months at which time she had a leave of absence. She was Past Matron in 1926. She joined the organization in 1920 and has held office during her entire membership with the exception of two years.

Speaking of the history Mrs. Beach said "Only Mrs. Cauch, with her training as a Librarian and personal knowledge of the early chapter years, could have written a history as complete as this one."

The history is dedicated to the late Zelma Scott Rigdon, a Past Matron in 1955, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Scott. ■

This is the grave of Mike O'Day
Who died maintaining his right of way.
His right was clear, his will
was strong,
But he's just as dead as if he'd been wrong.

We know a man who claims he can make a perfect ten dollar bill but he is such a perfectionist that it costs him $12 to make one of them. If a Treasury Department Agent is listening in, the man gave up the idea a long time ago but the Mayhall Print Shop still does excellent printing and none of it is against the law. The prices are reasonable, too.

We read somewhere that the Lord's Prayer has 56 words, Lincoln's Gettysburg Address has 266; the Ten Commandments, 295; the Declaration of Independence, 300. But a recent Government order on cabbage prices has 26,911.

Twenty years from now all the men will be 20 years older and most of the women will be five years older, that's about all we know for sure about the future.

There is one good thing about being bald—it's neat. Remember the joke about baldheaded men? Hair today and gone tomorrow. ■

Mortician gets special award

Dwight R. Van De Walker, associated with Evans-Brown Mortuary, has been notified that he is the winner of a Special Award from the National Foundation of Funeral Service in Evanston, Ill. The award is tuition for two weeks of the one month course in the School of Management which is given at the Foundation headquarters.

Van De Walker won the same Special Award last year and attended the school for the first two weeks and will now return on June 17th to complete the course. The scholarship is one of several given each year to men in funeral service who submit essays on a subject prescribed by the Foundation.

The Van De Walkers and their young son Gary will leave Elsinore on June 12 and drive to Evanston, visiting family on the return trip, in Rochester, Minn. ■

Treasured plaque recovered

Emma Compton of Murrieta, has recovered about the only thing of value that came through the recent Murrieta Church fire. When Emma's mother, Mrs. Edith N. Small, died in 1953, the Afternoon Circle of the WSCS presented the church with a clock to be hung in Scharer Hall in memory of Mrs. Small. The clock was accompanied by a plaque reading "In loving memory of Edith N. Small." When the church edifice, along with Sharer Hall, burned to the ground April 10, the clock was a complete loss and Emma had little hope of even recovering the plaque. However, everyone was alerted and Jack Roripaugh discovered it from his bulldozer, in the cleaning up process. Louis Gagnon took it to his brother Robert and Bob straightened it, refinished it, and buffed the brass letters and border, and made it as good as new—well, almost as good. It has now joined Emma's large collection of memories. ■

The good old days

The National Mint of the United States was established in Philadelphia on April 2, 1788. Before that time, from the date of the signing of the Declaration of Independence each state had coined its own money. ■

Virginia Blake, Douglas Parry exchange vows

Virginia Alison Blake, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Blake of Murrieta, became the bride of Douglas Lynn Parry on April 27, at First Methodist Church in Elsinore.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Parry of Wildomar.

The beautiful and impressive ceremony at 8 p.m. was solemnized by the Rev. Thomas P. Warmer, pastor of the Murrieta Methodist Church, before 300 guests.

The bride chose a floor length bell shaped gown of ribbed cotton ottoman with hand embroidered neckline and chapel train. She wore a shoulder length illusion veil fastened to a hand embroidered crown. The bridal flowers were a cascade bouquet of yellow rose buds centered with yellow orchids.

Mrs. Steven Blake of Riverside, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a bell shaped gown of yellow organza over taffeta with matching headpiece of taffeta and net.

Bridesmaids were Nancy Olson of Los Angeles, cousin of the bride; Lynn Morrow of Elsinore and Maryrose Weinstein of Murrieta. Their gowns were identical with that of the matron of honor, and they carried bouquets of white carnations.

Stanley Parry of La Mirada, brother of the groom served as best man. Ushers were Curtis Parry of Wildomar, brother of the groom, Steven Blake brother of the bride and Joseph Jeffreys of Elsinore. Lane Parry, also a brother of the groom, served as acolyte.

Mrs. Kenneth Lee sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "The Lord's Prayer" accompanied by Mrs. Ralph E. Boler at the organ.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church social hall. Mrs. Joe Harrison, Connie Cain, Cheryl Stewart, Linda Harrison and Rochelle Stewart assisted at the reception. Mrs. Gordon Harmon and Donna Garrison were in charge of gifts. Mrs. Deryl Woods were in charge of the guest book and Mrs. Raymond Thompson assisted the bridal party with their flowers. Floral arrangements and bouquets were by Anna Yung of Yung's Nursery.

The bride was a 1962 graduate of Elsinore Union

High School. She was active in school, church and community affairs, and in 1961 received the annual D. A. R. "Good Citizen" award from the Estudillo chapter of the D.A.R. She has recently completed a course at the UCLA Dental Assistant School.

The bridegroom was a 1958 graduate of Elsinore Union High School and was active in athletics, 4-H, FFA and held class offices in his Junior and Senior years. He attended Mt. San Antonio College and is presently employed at Ortega Oaks Market in Lakeland Village.

After a honeymoon in Palm Springs and Las Vegas the newlyweds are now at home to their friends on Lime Street in Lakeland Village. ■

Flower Show tops previous events

Elsinore closed its most successful Community Flower Show April 30 after a two-day showing at the Elsinore Woman's Club.

The show, sponsored annually by the Woman's Club, was under the direction of Mrs. Cheryl French and her committee, Irene McDowell and Lou Wilks.

The judges were Florence I. Meyer, Anna Yung and Irene Swendler.

Competition was extremely keen in the arrangement section, with simplicity prevailing. Natalie Snow won Grand Sweepstakes in Arrangements with her arrangement in an old green-yellow Bordeaux wine bottle with delicate coral and yellow columbines and smoke tree foliage. Simple, lovely to look at from every angle, and exquisite in the subtleness of its color combination. Runner-up to the Sweepstakes was Marge Kratch with a crystal nob-nail container and a bouquet of bright scarlet Oriental poppies with their seed pods.

There were two other distinctive arrangements in the coveted winner's circle, Mrs. Lucy Dunham's monochromatic arrangement of lavender iris and lilac in a simple, amethyst low container, and Mrs. Garey Carr's elegant Victorian arrangement in a silver and crystal container with mases of Charlotte Armstrong roses.

In the specimen section and exquisite Christian Dior rose won Sweepstakes for James Trueitt, along with three other first prizes in roses. Everett Root also won a first prize.

One of the most enormous collections of African Violets in one tub ever seen by the judges brought a Sweepstakes in this division to Mrs. Pearl Scott. Mrs. Gerry Gillis' hispidia or Red-Hot Cattail won Sweepstakes in the Potted Plant Division.

Arrangement firsts were awarded Mrs. Pearl Beach, June Garner, Mrs. Fish, Natalie Snow, Mrs. Lou Wilks, Dorothy Matteson, Anna Petrinii, Mrs. Lucy Dunham, Mrs. W. H. Pfaff, Mrs. Garey Carr, Mrs. F. Foley, Jessie Renikinsger, Marge Kratch, Irene McDowell, Mary Kratch, and Lucy Wood. Two firsts in the Grammar School Division went to Stanley Morris and Jeanette Snow. The Men Only Division was topped by Ellis O'Bratton.

We didn't do right by Emily

Two months ago Christine Wright, who beats the drum for the veterans in the Veterans Column, turned in a story about Mrs. Emily Darrac. She sent along a group photograph hoping that we could pick Emily out of the group for a one column picture. The picture was too small, showing only her head so we held the story over to the following month hoping meanwhile to get a good picture of Emily. Well, we went over to Lakeland Village, where she lives, and took two snap shots of her and we turned in the best of the two for the Veterans Column in the May issue and then at the last minute the picture came up missing. And what did we do about it? We went back and retrieved the original group picture and ran the head of Emily and we are not very proud of the job. So here is the second choice of those two snaps we took, and, in case you have forgotten, here is the story again about Emily Darrac:

Emily Darrac is one of the Spanish-American War

widows living in Elsinore. She joined the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary in 1959. She is also treasurer of the American Legion Auxiliary Unit 200. The late Joseph R. Darrac was also a member of Post 200 and a member of Los Angeles Camp No. 36, United Spanish War Veterans. He served in the Boxer Rebellion in China and later in the Philippine Insurrection as well as the A.E.F. ■

FIRST LUAU NAMED SUCCESS

Hundreds of pounds of food and gallons of Hawaiian punch and coffee were vanquished by the hungry celebrants who banqueted under the stars and amid Polynesian splendor at the luau held at Sun City, May 16th.

Despite a chilling night breeze the party goes commemorated the occasion by wearing authentically attuned attire. Although the authentication of garb was by degrees, all appeared to accept the theme of things and dressed accordingly. The Luau feast was preceded and closed by a big party in Kings Inn. During the social period entertainment was provided by Hawaiian Abe and his Royal Polynesians.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Michaels

Lee Michaels celebrate silver anniversary

A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Harrison of Corydon Road in Elsinore, on Mother's Day, May 12, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Lee E. Michaels of Lakeland Village on their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary.

Hostesses for the event were Mrs. Michaels' two daughters Jean Harrison and Helen Zinck and daughter-in-law Mrs. Leonard Michaels.

The Harrison home was decorated in yellow and white flowers and the centerpiece was a three-tiered anniversary cake baked for the event by Mrs. Harrison. Preceding the reception a potluck luncheon was enjoyed by members of the family.

Jodie Harrison presided over the gift table and Linda Harrison was in charge of the guest book. A silver money tree was presented to the Michaels by the guests present.

The Michaels were married in Riverside at the Court House on Saturday, May 7, 1938. Mrs. Michaels came to Elsinore in August of 1937 from Rancho Santa Fe and Mr. Michaels has been a resident of Elsinore since 1912. He has been employed at the Los Angeles Brick and Clay Company for over twenty-eight years and will be retiring soon.

Fifty-one members of Mrs. Michaels' family attended the affair coming from Wasco, Pasadena, Encinitas, Garden Grove, San Diego, Rancho Santa Fe and Escondido. Seven members of the Michaels family came from Manhattan Beach and Corona. Over fifty friends were also in attendance.

Our sincere congratulations to you, Mr. and Mrs. Michaels on this day of days.

The above photograph shows Ben Madrigal and Ron Milts, printers at the Mayhall Print Shop, with the look of the proverbial Cheshire Cat on their faces. The carton Ben has contains some of the finished copies of Arlean Garrison's book "My Children's Home." Ron has one of the books in his hand.

I called Arlean about the book and its sale and was glad not only to hear that the sales were good, but that messages from people who purchased and read the book were coming in regularly. The messages the fellows liked the most were statements such as "the printing is excellent," "photographs better than the originals" and so on. Oh, yes, many of the remarks concerned the writer and her part played in the book.

Ben and Ron drove to the book binders in Los Angeles and filled the wagon and Galixy with over a ton of the completed books, (this is not a Hodges ad either), then delivered them to Arlean at her Murrieta home where she has been mailing, selling and delivering from for the past month.

The above photo, compliments of Mrs. Fred Ashbridge, is just to show you readers that when valley residents go out for making hats they go "Way Out." I've entitled this photo "In your Easter Bonnet," and from the looks of the vegetables on some of them an Easter Bunny would have enjoyed an invitation.

Going along with the Perris Clean-up campaign the Mayhall Print Shop of Perris had a new sign painted by Ed Perret for their building located at 209 D Street in Perris. The campaign is making rapid progress and the town is beginning to take on the "new look."

We received word that Beulah Duke of Quail Valley and Charles B. Palmer of Desert, Utah were married in Ely, Nevada on May 4. They will make their home in Utah as soon as Mrs. Palmer completes the sale of her businesses in Quail Valley, which were the Richfield Service and the gift shop.

Jim Francisco of Lakeland Village is once more trying his luck at his favorite fishing hole at Eastman and Big Lake in East Shasta County. Harry LeBlanc will join him there about the first of the month. Look out Rainbows, here they come.

Anna Jean Smith of Perris was awarded the East Bay USDA scholarship of $300. She has a high scholastic record and is an active member of the Perris Panthers 4-H Club. Her plans for the future are to attend Cal-Poly at San Luis Obispo. We congratulate you, Anna Jean.

Firemen return from fire school

Raymond Thompson, chief of the Murrieta Volunteer Fire Department and Marvin Curran, assistant chief, returned from three days of extensive training in fire suppression held April 26-28 at Santa Rosa under the direction of the Rural Firemen's Association.

Just to set matters straight on that Murrieta church fire, April 10, Marvin Curran would like it known that the fire department telephone extension to his home was disconnected on the night of April 9 and when Clara Edwards looked out her window at 4:15 on the morning of April 10 and saw flames coming out of the roof of the church she tried to call the fire department but there was no answer. So, then she called George Blake who lives just across the street from the fire house, and George turned in the alarm.

And why was the phone to Marvin's house disconnected? Well, it seems that the linemen were working on the line the previous day and in some way disconnected the phone. As it turned out they couldn't have saved the church anyway as the fire was discovered too late, but this being "kind to firemen" week don't accuse Marvin of sleeping through the telephone call. ■

Open house marks Redmon entry

Open house, Sunday May 5, at the D. W. Redmon Realty Co., 31040 Riverside Drive, marked the entry of Daniel W. Redmon into the local real estate brokers field in Elsinore.

Redmon, a Realtor, has been in the real estate business since 1952 with his main office in La Puente.

He is a firm believer in the future of the Elsinore and Murrieta valley, after having worked in the area for the past three years, and believes the time is ripe to open a new office in the district.

Associated with Mr. Redmon in his Elsinore office are Dorothy Lloyd, Ad and Mamie Moore, and Michael Maketarian. ■

Legion district officers nominated

Nomination of officers for the American Legion District were held April 21 in the Elsinore Veterans Memorial Hall. Election is scheduled to be held June 2 at Riverside Post No. 79.

Those nominated were: Cliff Coleman, of the Arlington area, Commander; Dean Wilson of Riverside, 1st Vice-Commander; Evelyn Hamilton, of Riverside, 2nd Vice-Commander; George Bement, of Desert Hot Springs, 3rd Vice-Commander.

George Emery of Hemet; Herb Stone of Arlington and Jean Roberts of Moreno Valley were nominated for executive committee-men.

Approval was given for a new American Legion Post in Sun City, to be known as Sun City Post 657. ■

Students defeat teachers

The students of Elsinore High School defeated the teachers in a dilly of a ball game played on the school grounds May 21.

Gordon Harrison, the Babe Ruth of disorganized baseball, hit what he considered a home run, but the ball was caught by one of the student players. In the hassle that followed, Gordon, who is also Superintendent of Schools, and carries considerable weight, mentally as well as physically, refused to accept the out claiming that the ball had been caught in a section of the ground which had been designated as grand stand before the game and therefore the ball would have landed in the grand stand and would have been a home run.

And who won the argument? Well, as we said before, Gordon is Superintendent of Schools. ■

Dollar is derived from the German thaler, an obsolete German coin worth 71 cents. Dime is derived, through the French, from the Latin decimus (tenth) being the tenth part of a dollar. Cent is derived from the Latin centum (hundred) being the hundredth part of a dollar. ■

Local poet wins award

Music in Our Mountains, a poem by Nonee Nolan, of Lakeland Village, placed second in a nation-wide poetry contest. The poem will be published in The American Bard, an International Poetry Magazine.

Nonee began composing little rhymes and songs when a small child but received no encouragement from her father, a stern English professor, who considered this type of writing nonsense.

She later taught school, had a musical career and finally entered the business world and after retiring three years ago began writing seriously and states the experience has been most rewarding.

Her poetry has appeared in the Arizona Highways, the New Mexico and Desert magazines, the Empire Magazine of the Denver Post, Conquest, Life and Health and many others. ■

Eyes and nose were cloves, mouth was a small strip of pimiento, the hair shredded carrot, and the arms were carrot strips extending from the pear. # THE ANNUAL OPEN HOUSE

By DOUGLAS YOUNG

On Sunday, May 19th, the annual Open House was held. There were many interesting displays and a program which followed. Each teacher had his own displays which were set up by the students. Mr. G. Wooler displayed a Mathematics History chart which was made by Cadet Rice and also a periodic table of Chemistry elements by Cadet Tim Smith. Cadet Smith was also available throughout the afternoon to answer any questions about his project.

Mr. Denton's senior English class contributed literary maps of England which were drawn by Tom Ayres and Terrence Colville. The senior term papers of Larry Larstead, Ernesto Colimodio, John McCord, Paul Lagerfeld, Fred Miller, Doug Young and Jan Fritscher were also on display. Jan Fritscher had a model telephone set up which corresponded with his term paper. Mr. Denton's junior English class displayed a literary map prepared by Chris Stancliff. The junior term papers which were on display were written by Dick Corwin, Terry Barton, Bob Clouser, Justin Dunkle, Tom Kornell and Steve Pricer.

Mr. Paul Berzins' ninth grade English class displayed a European Language tree, English grammar chart and various graphs and charts which were made by Tom Stephenson, Tom Smith and Fred Meyer.

Mr. Clayton Sherrick had Chemistry and Physics experiments on display. Mark Koeckritz and Mike Fischer made an amonia fountain and Terry Barton and Bob Clouser worked on a model jet test experiment. There was also a Mathematics chart prepared by Tom Stephenson.

Mr. F. Franchimone had a group project which translated from English to Spanish. John Pilcher and Stephen Kiefer displayed a list of inspiring quotations. Randall Engle made a chart of Arabic influences on the Spanish language. Tom Solak displayed his Spanish coin collection and there were also a large display of the ninth grade English classwork.

Mr. D. Michaud's seventh grade showed how hobbies and English could be combined and made the hobbies more interesting. Each student displayed his folder of classwork and his achievement test.

Mr. G. Clark's eighth grade class displayed drawings and charts of the organs of the human body. Each student displayed folders of his classwork and tests.

Mrs. Flyte's Library Science classes had papers which explained the object of the course and folders of classwork. The students who had papers on display were Joe Ingram, Steve Newman, Gary Rice, Stephen Kiefer, Richard Lewsader, Regan Morey, John Redfield, Brian Chase, Marshall Carpenter, Jan Fritscher, Kim Best and Dennis Randall. There were extra curricular activities on display, such as, the International Club and speech contests displays.

Mr. F. Jeffries displayed projects on World History from his ninth and tenth grade students. Bill Waite displayed a very interesting report on South Africa which was one of the attractions of Mr. Jeffries' exhibit.

Mr. R. Cozad, Speech and English teacher, assisted Mr. Sewell and Mrs. Flyte in preparing the speeches for the afternoon program which was called, "Let Freedom Ring."

All the projects were very interesting and indicated that there was a lot of hard work put into each exhibit. The Admiral Staff thanks the students for their hard work and the teachers' co-operation with the students to make the 1963 Open House a memorable even in 1963. ■

John Shay, Class of 1960, called at the library on May 8. He is temporarily employed on the Highway Construction project on Grand Avenue while waiting a Civil Service appointment. Yes, he married the girl of his high school days and they have two children. They live in Pomona. ■

Library report

By KIM BEST

In the past two weeks the rush for books has mainly been pointed toward the Encyclopedia Britannica and history books because of term papers. All of the Seniors and most of the Juniors have already started on their term papers. These papers range from "Poetry" to "Photography" to "The Imprint of Greece on Modern Civilization."

Although the library is largely used for research and pleasure reading, it is also occupied by students who need help in Reading and English, and for advanced students who take enrichment courses; such as, Classics, Great Novels, and Historical Biographies which would enrich a student's general knowledge. After one had read and studied a book he must make a written report which becomes the basis for grade and credits. ■

Contest winner to be named June 11

The Lake Elsinore Valley Board of Realtors, through their educational chairman, M. Robi Francisco, announces that the First National Bank of Elsinore is giving the bond for the winner of the essay contest "The Home Is the Heart of the Nation." This is a once a year event sponsored by the California Real Estate Association through the local boards in all areas throughout the state. Each local high school winner has their essay sent to the state, where a final selection is made at state level.

The state winner and parents are then taken with expenses paid to the yearly convention for presentation and reading of the winning essay. This year the convention will be held in Los Angeles.

Gordon Harrison, school superintendent, and Al Swan, principal, say that the girls are trying very enthusiastically to win this year. Last year Jim Cope was the award winner. The judges who make the final decision work from numbered essays. They have no way of knowing who the writer is until the sealed envelope of names and matching numbers is opened by the Educational Committee chairman.

JUNE ISSUE NOW IN ORBIT!

The count down for the June issue of La Laguna Revue began May 15 and the blastoff occurred June 1.

No attempt is being made to break Gordon Cooper's record as our orbit consists mainly of the cities and towns listed on the front cover of this issue with an occasional sidetrip to places like Hemet, Beaumont and Banning.

It would be very simple to enlarge our orbit, and we may do so in the near future, but for the present we are satisfied to cover the present territory, believing that by thoroughly covering a specified area we are more valuable to our advertisers and can give a better account to our readers of affairs going on in the district.

Much to our amazement we have learned that there are still people in our orbit who have failed to subscribe to La Laguna Revue and this troubles us no end. Our spy tells us there are a large number of persons who beg, borrow or steal their neighbor's magazine and there is no way we can account for these extra readers to our advertisers.

If you are one of them won't you please use the coupon below so that we can get word to our advertisers that you too, are a paid subscriber. Thanks.
