New Year's Resolution-- Remember the Golden Rule

Everyday of the week, including Sunday, most of the people in the world, walk to their front door for the daily newspaper. This, coupled with a cup of coffee, begins the average American's day.

First, the headlines—news of war, murder, rape, accidents and the like greet you with large, bold, black type.

Onward to the next page and more of the same. About now you are at the society section and the happy faces of brides beam forth. Members of clubs donating their time for some worthy cause and Mr. and Mrs. Blank had a party.

Next is the county section or valley section. Local news. News of the chambers, board of trade and items of this nature.

Now we get to the "people" stories, the ones that affect individuals lives.

First, six years ago, Roger Mayhall opened the Mayhall Print Shop, Elsinore. Total amount of inches allotted to this event in "all" publications . . . 3 inches. Then three years ago, La Laguna Revue hit the streets . . . total news announcement . . . 7 inches.

These two accomplishments Roger did by himself, with the aid of family and friends. But, a counterfeiting story breaks - - no one knows the facts, no one contacted Roger until after the first two stories appeared in print. To date the daily paper has given 140 inches of space, the Los Angeles Times 7 inches

(they didn't even know of the Mayhall Print Shop or the Revue until this mishap, and apparently cared less that in six years good had been accomplished).

The two weekly newspapers in the Valleys are to be commended though, for they have seen fit to publish the facts as best they know. Neither has committed itself either way—both are hometown papers, for the town and people they represent.

Daily, weekly, monthly publications are supposed to be news medias. State the facts and let it go at that. Opinions are to be under a byline or in the editorial columns, not as a story. Newspapers or magazines are not judges and juries, they are merely a source of news.

La Laguna Revue, will during 1965, continue to publish stories of people, their achievements, homes, business happenings and such. In the editorial column we intend to blast forth with whatever is on our mind - - be it that we believe prayer should be allowed in school, that we are for school bonds or we think taxes are too high.

Once in awhile, in a story, under a byline, we will let our officials know our opinion about their actions, But we will not ever, degrade a man, his business, nor his principals.

For if the only way we can sell a product is to ruin the life of another human being, then I say, get rid of the product - - It stinks.

Seated on the fireplace hearth are George and Ada Howell with their "his and her" dogs. To the left on the footstool in none other than Sam a four month old coal-black Labrador retriever and with Ada is Gi-Gi, a silver toy poodle. These two animals play an important part in the Howell household. Above the mantle is one of the many paintings owned by the Howells.

CASA VENTANA DeLUZ

The House on the Hill, with a Light in the Window

Among the new homes constructed in Murrieta Valley is the George Howell home, an adobe house designed for one specific reason — to display to the best advantage the Indian paintings and Indian relics that George collects.

It all began many years ago, when George was a young lad living in Chicago. His great uncle, General George Alexander Forsyth, one of histories greatest Indian fighters after the Civil War, wrote to George frequently, telling him of the Indians, their way of life, customs, and especially about the great Indian chiefs. Time passed and George could think of nothing but the Indians and as his interest grew, so did George. He decided that some day, in some way he would live in the "Indians' part of the country".

His dream came true, but at that time it was heart-breaking to George, for he had made a fortune and with the crash of the stock market, lost all. It was after that that he moved to California, spent twelve years with the Department of Internal Revenue and then began his own business as a certified public accountant.

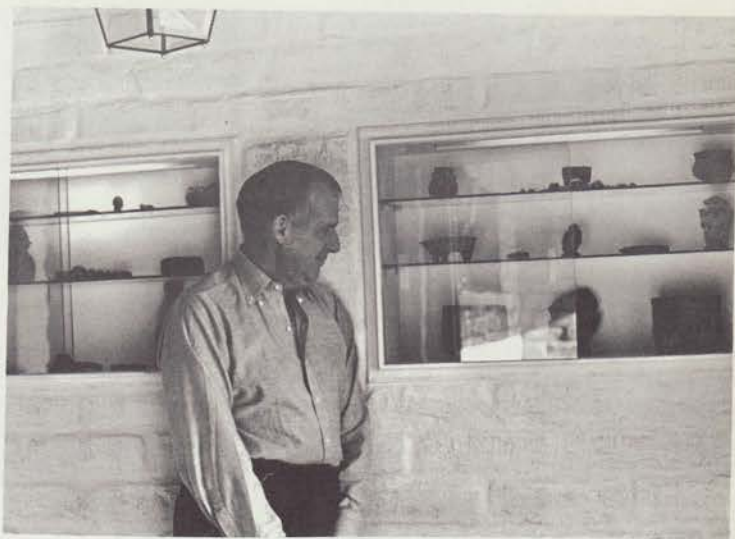

In the meantime, he made the acquaintance of J. H. Sharp, a well-known painter, whose work can be seen in the Smithsonian Institute and in the private collection of John D. Rockefeller. Mr. Sharp's paintings are of Indian chiefs and landscapes, and as one might guess, George soon became one of the collectors of this man's work, in fact, his adobe house located off Washington Avenue in Murrieta, was more or less built around them.

Weir Brothers of Escondido were called on the job in March of 1964 and by October of that same year, the Howells. George and his wife, Ada, were moved in, along with Mrs. Bertha Clapp, an aunt of Mrs. Howells, who makes her home with them.

The all-electric house is one of utmost comfort.

In one corner of the livingroom is the spinet piano, which Ada plays, and above it are more of the paintings collected by George.

with interior colors of gold, green, white and red used throughout the house. A tremendous fireplace and bookcase combination graces one wall of the gold carpeted livingroom. Sliding glass doors lead to a patio with a panoramic view of both Murrieta and Temecula.

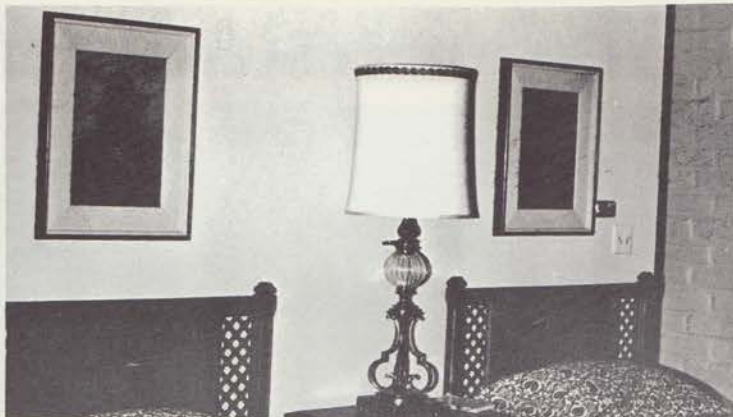

The adobe walls are painted white and in each room one can see the valuable paintings in the collection of George Howell. Shelves, artfully cut into the walls, are filled with pre-Columbian art objects, bowls, and relics of the days of the Indian.

In the master bedroom the furnishings are of pecan wood and covering one of the dressers, as would a scarf, is an authentic pair of buckskin leggings, with the leg part lying lengthwise and the colorful beads and fringe facing the front.

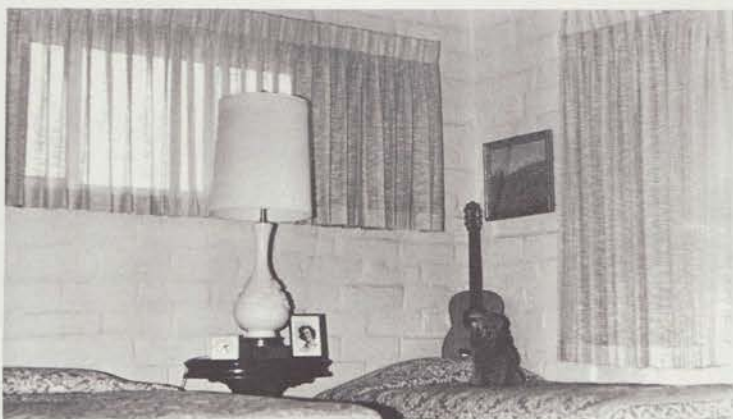

Swinging doors lead from the dining room with its circular table of pecan wood, to the well-equipped kitchen, which is decorated in the coppertone color.

The name Casa Ventana DeLuz was chosen because of the circular-amber glass window located in the foyer by the front door. In this window is a candle which is lighted nightly and is a symbolic beacon for passerbys, but especially for the Howell children, when they come home to visit.

When Judy comes home from Spain, this lovely bedroom with its gold and white tones will greet her. Although the young lady has never seen her bedroom, except through photos, it holds many of her prized possessions. . . . including Gi-Gi atop the bed.

George and Ada are two people who enjoy a good laugh and we caught them right in the middle of one.

A View of Yesterday and Today

Remember when the Showboat, located on the south side of Lake Elsinore was the place to take your best gal, for a soda, dancing or just to sit and talk? The evenings when the lights from this vessel reflected on the water and the music that was being played from the bandstand on the top level could be heard for miles around? That was yesterday, and now it sits, the wind rips through the broken windows and doors, the planks are rotted and the steps a danger to walk on, ghosts of the past linger there . . . in our memories.

FOR BEING IN BUSINESS

John has half-a-dozen reasons

Date; February 1, 1958. "D" day in John Merri-field's life. This is the day he purchased a repair shop for electrical appliances in an alley shop from Grant Washburn.

The above date is important to John only because it signifies his start as a business man in Elsinore Valley, for John was born and raised in Elsinore. His grandparents came to Elsinore in 1884 and his father, Leslie is the Superintendent at the Elsinore Valley Cemetery. He is a true native, and a truer Elsinoreite. John began this alley type repair business at the same time he was a teacher at the Elementary School, so he employed his brother-in-law to operate the shop during the day.

Three months later, John opened a small store facing on Main Street, directly in front of his back shop and began selling a few appliances. A little over a year passed, when the opportunity to purchase a furniture store business arose. He jumped at the chance and put himself deeper into the business world. Now he needed more help, so he employed a full-time saleslady and a second repairman.

John left the profession of teaching, took a half-day job in the post office and after eight months of this he quit and went to work in his own business full time.

He began flooring Maytag, General Electric, Philco and Admiral merchandise. Then, because flooring every named brand is an impossibility, he made necessary connections with other wholesalers and can have set on his floor any brand on the market today.

Carl Lindgrin is in the television and radio service end of the business while Tommy Johns takes care of refrigerator and washer repair department.

The used merchandise department at 120 West Graham is being operated by Russell and Mary Jones, while Nickie Mendoza is kept busy keeping up with the younger (and older) set in the record end of the business. Nickie's department covers every record from "The Jerk" on a 45 RPM to "Theme from the Apartment" on a LP.

Sharing the ups and downs of the business, and there are plenty, with John is his wife Joanna, who met John while in college at San Diego, where they met and a year later were married, and that was fourteen years ago.

After a rather large theft a year ago and then a four-month spell of hepatitis, John is once more back at work and working harder than ever to give customers good service and merchandise and to give his business a boost from the "dry" spell it too suffered.

Plans are in the making to remodel the store, and rebuild the shop so there will be ample parking in the rear of the store for customer convenience.

In his spare time John is chairman of the Elsinore Planning Commission, Assistant Fire Chief, Assistant District Commissioner for Cahuilla District Boy Scouts of America and is very active in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints.

John Jr. will supply you with any record of your choice and if not available he'll order it for you.

John's Ambulance Service is a separate business from the above mentioned points, but John runs this service 24-hours a day with the help of his family and other employees. This is the only ambulance service available to the residents of Elsinore Valley and it keeps John on his toes, serving another important need of the people. Truly, a dedicated man.

Oh, yes, the half-a-dozen reasons for being in business are John Jr., 13; Laura 11; Paul, 9; Janna, 7; Beth, 3; and David, 18 months.

What better reason has a man for working as hard as John?

New Newspaper for Elsinore

At a time when large, established metropolitan newspapers are closing down — from the Pacific Coast to the Atlantic Ocean, Elsinore Valley has a new "newspaper."

One of the "newsiest" little papers, it is published edited and "printed" by the Elsinore Seventh - Day Adventist School with a staff of eleven energetic students and a teacher-advisor, Peter Monge, a B.A. degree holder from Pacific Union College in Angwin, California, in Napa County.

The newspaper, which was named the "Alpha-Omega" in a city wide contest brought the winner, Mrs. Wm. F. Trainor of 16-621 McPherson Circle, Elsinore a year's subscription free, and the new publication now boasts almost a hundred paid subscribers.

Of the "Fourth Estate" members, Carol Trainor is editor, assisted by Don Stokes, feature editor; Ernie Sanchez, circulation manager; Howard Wilson, assistant circulation manager; Bill Sanchez, News editor; Linnette Trainor, copy editor; Pam Barnes, assistant copy editor; and Ronnie Olin, Holly Baltzley, Greg and Lisa Trainor, reporters.

Volume I, Number I, the first edition appeared December 3, 1964 and among others featured a story on the Physical Fitness Program in which everyone participates - the students, teacher and a few stray neighbors, for a blanket invitation has been extended to all. "If you have nothing to do one of these mornings at 10:45, come on down and join us." We were surprised to learn that many oldsters now have a regular appointment for morning exercises, rain or shine.

Another feature revealed that one of our local authors, Bonnie Irene Pray has donated six copies of one of her books, "Famous Rides of History" to the school library. The students say they use and enjoy the books in their studies of history, geography, spelling and literature and feel they bridge an educational gap.

The twenty-year-old S. D. A. Institution, which is located at 104 South Kellogg in Elsinore has never had a newspaper before, and Pastor Douglas Horton reports that the "Alpha-Omega" meets a great need in the community as well as furnishing excellent training for the students.

Accredited by the State Department of Education, the school is operated by the Southeastern California Conference of Seventh day Adventists in Riverside with Paul Wipperman as Superintendent of Education.

Much can be said for the "Little Red Schoolhouse" of yesteryear, and the local S. D. A. School is one of the few one-room-multi-graded schools left in the state, with the student being able to absorb advanced learning at a greater pace.

Our congratulations to the staff and teacher of "Alpha - Omega" (which means "the beginning" and "the end") and expectantly look forward to its bimonthly publication of news and views.

SAM KHOLOS HONORED ON 79TH BIRTHDAY

The Hebrew Congregation auditorium in Elsinore was filled to capacity with friends and the talented family of Elsinore's Sam Kholos on November 21, when all had joined together to celebrate the 79th birthday of this fine man.

Sam is a real estate broker in Elsinore and has been active in securing funds for the City of Hope, Red Cross and other drives as well.

The children and grandchildren of Sam presented an evening's entertainment for the guests.

To begin, the entire family sang "My Family", a song composed by son Herbert, with daughter Seama Kholos Green, accompanying on the piano. Then Seama began playing another song "Autumn Leaves" and Sam Kholos belted forth with verse.

Sam's son, Dr. Frank Kholos of Huntington Park acted as master of ceremonies for the affair. He was introduced to the family and guests by Mrs. Tillie Rueben.

Marian Kholos Levenson, another daughter, played a piano solo, "Twilight".

Then it was time for the grandchildren to get into the act and here's where modern music took hold, for Maureen and K a t h i Levenson gave forth with a rendition of a Beatle number.

Not to be outdone, the great-grandsons of Sam—Brian, Harry and Owen, sons of Don Green, played piano solos and Jay Kholos, teenage son of Herbert sang "Come on and Kiss Me".

Bat'ya, dramatic songstress from Israel, sang a song written by Herbert Kholos. The name Bat'ya means daughter of the God's, Hebrew.

Don Green, son of Seama and Norman, sang a number of songs in Italian that he had learned while serving in the Armed Forces in Tripoli. Frank Kholos played compositions on the clarinet and Kathi Levinson did a ballet number.

Herbert, the composer, paid an original tribute to his father, with two readings he had written "What is a Yiddisha Mama and a Yiddisha Papa?" and "Everybody In This Country Gets a Diploma".

When the talented family completed their part of the entertainment for Sam, other professional entertainers took over.

Charlie Vespia, who recently completed an engagement in Reno, thrilled the audience with his beautiful tenor voice.

Bat'ya, dramatic songstress from Israel, sang another of Herbert's compositions then a cowboy song

Sam's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Burke Kholos of Pittsburgh, joined in the celebration.

Greetings

There isn't a bell big enough to have a sound loud enough to voice our big wishes for your New Year!

which she had sung with great success in Japan.

Seama and Bat'ya recently completed a tour of Japan and other places in the Orient and are presently filling engagements in the States.

Climaxing the affair was the candle lighting on the birthday cake. Each child, grandchild and great-grandchild lit a candle on Sam's birthday cake at the same time making a wish for him.

All in all, the affair was a great success . . . just compensation for a successful man on his natal day.

Editor's Note

You have just read the story of Sam Kholos and his family, but the part of the story not told was what Herbert Kholos wrote and narrated to the celebrant.

This narration was entitled "Sam Kholos Gets His Diploma" and below are excerpts from his reading:

"Seriously, how do we pay tribute to a man like Sam Kholos? How do we honor the fineness and kindness of a man like that?

"It seems to me that some kind of document or certificate should be given to a person for a lifetime of a job well done.

"Everybody else gets a diploma - doctor's, lawyers, barbers, plumbers, moyle's, shaychets. Even when you are brave enough to get married, they give you a certificate.

"Do you mean to tell me there is no award or credits available to a man who has worked and sacrificed for others for 79 years? Has struggled and sweat to raise four educated children? . . . Has eleven grandchildren and four great-grandchildren?

"If a man goes out and murders ten people, we give him a title . . . public enemy No. 1. A bigamist, marries ten women at one time - - he's entitled to Public Enemy No. 2.

"Everybody gets a diploma.

"Even a little child, brushes his teeth with a 'Fashtunkina' tooth paste comes running home from the dentist, waving a diploma.

"Oh, Yes, stars are given too. Even a little kid, ten years old. He does not wet his bed for one night, today it's a big deal, the mama pastes a star on his diploma.

"Everybody gets a diploma".

"I guarantee you that Sam Kholos drinks more and better schnapps than this 'Mench' and he doesn't get an award.

But if all of our hearts could speak, and especially

Miss Elsinore now Mrs. Lester Maddox

The lovely Lo Vae Pray, better known to Elsinoreites as "Miss Elsinore", was married on Sunday, November 22, at 1:30 in the afternoon to Lester V. Maddox of San Clemente.

The ceremony took place in the Baptist Wedding Chapel in Winterhaven, California with the Rev. Dr. V. Don Mitchell officiating at the double ring rites.

For her wedding, the bride wore a sheath gown of peau de soie, enhanced with appliques of pearl-studded Alencon lace. The molded bodice was styled with tapered sleeves and bateau neckline accented with mink. Her headpiece was a seed pearl tiara with crown tulle.

matron of honor was Mrs. Irene Mattox former resident of Perris now of El Centro. She was attired in an emerald two - piece street length cocktail frock.

In the absence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Bonnie Irene Pray, who was unable to attend the wedding due to illness, the bride was attended to by Mrs. R. Wayne Hinson. Mrs. Hinson chose a powder blue acetate sheath for the occasion.

The bride was given in marriage by a long - time friend of the family, Mr. R. Wayne Hinson of El Centro. The Hinsons hosted the newlyweds and several friends to a wedding luncheon at the Stardust Hotel in Yuma, Arizona.

Lo Vae is a graduate of Elsinore Union High School where she was active in during her student years, being class president, Associated Student Body Director of Public Relations, Editor of her school newspaper, co-editor of her school annual; staff member of the El Lago annual; member of the band, glee club, drama club, honor roll, California Scholarship Federation and Future Teachers of America.

She is an award winning writer, having received the Lake Elsinore Valley Board of Realtors perpetual essay trophy and she has had several of her writings published.

Along with being "Miss

Elsinore", Lo Vae proudly holds the titles of "Princess Scheherazade", "Miss D. A. V. of California, Chapter 64, El Monte", "Queen of the Marinas" and "Miss Photogenic". Her main object during her reign as Queen in Elsinore during 1964 was to publicize Lake Elsinore.

She is presently affiliated with the Division of Beaches and Parks for the State of California.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Wayne Maddox of Lebanon, Oregon.

He received his Bachelor of Science degree from Oregon State University at Corvallis, Oregon and is a landscape architect with the Division of Beaches and Parks for the State of California, with the district headquarters in San Clemente.

A wedding reception was held for the young couple on Friday evening, November 27, at the Grand Aene Civic Association clubhouse, hosted by the bride's mother and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Del Rio.

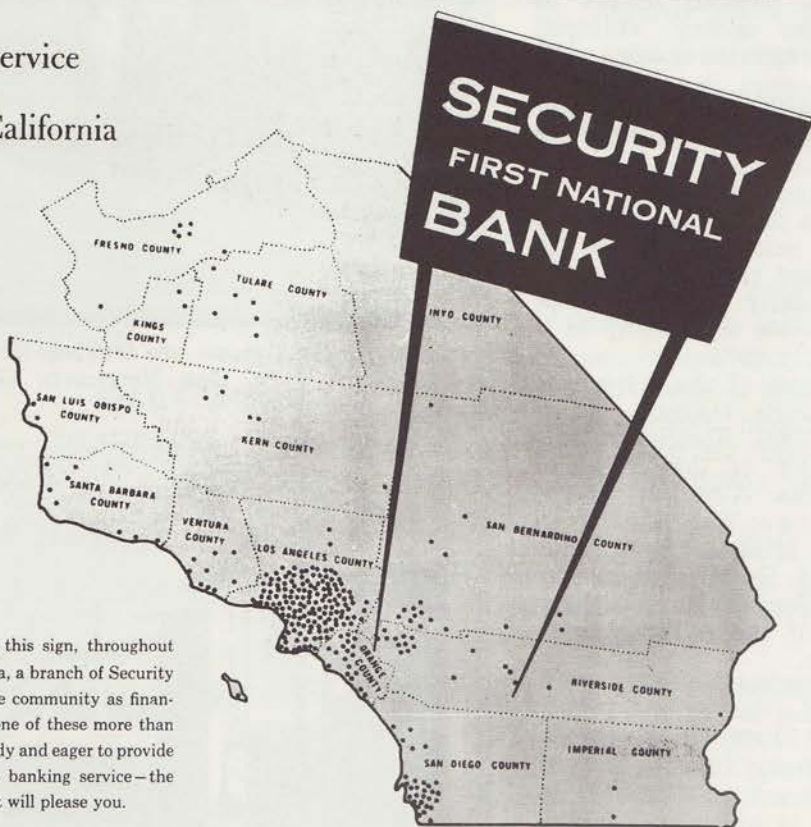

Over one-hundred guests greeted the newlyweds and shared with them the five - tiered wedding cake which was topped with the traditional miniature bride and groom under an arch of orange blossoms. Floral decorations at the club were of white stocks, white gladiolas, white and pink mums and maidenhair fern.

Mr. and Mrs. James Duffy and daughter, Teresa, presented the bride with the knife used to cut the wedding cake.

Presiding over the guest book was Mrs. Brenner and Miss Tina Del Rio assisted with the gifts.

Among the friends and relatives at the reception were the grand parents of Lo Vae, Mr. and Mrs. T. V. Carson, pioneer residents of Perris Valley; Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Fitzgerald and daughters; Mr. and Mrs. F. Don Mayo and daughter, Tonya (the former "Miss Hemet"), and son Herbert, of Upland; Mr. and Mrs. James Francisco and Mr. and Mrs. George Rasmussen of Riverside.

Construction on Methodist Church Moves Ahead

The story begins on April 10, 1963, when the Murrieta Methodist Church burned to the ground, leaving nothing but memories in the debris.

Rebuilding of the church was going to be a problem, financially, since the insurance on the former church was not enough to cover the cost of a new building.

Donations from individuals poured into the church fund; members of organizations devised means to raise money; children of Murrieta have been selling flowers, donating their allowances and earning money for the fund by doing chores around home.

Groundbreaking ceremonies for the new church were held on August 23, 1964 and the people of the community have hopes of being able to worship in it by early 1965.

Trustees of the church are Louis Gagnon, president; Jack Roripaugh, secretary of the Board of Trustees; Charles Yoder, trustee; Rev. Dan Newburn, Minister in Charge; Harold Smith, lay reader and Gordon House, chairman of the building committee.

Dedication of the new building is set for February 21, 1965, at which time conference dignitaries will be present.

This is quite an achievement for the community of Murrieta and its people and once more proves correct the saying, "Those who pray together, stay together." □

November of 1964 shows that the building for the Murrieta Methodist Church is well under way.

Holiday Issue

December is an excellent time for news, with Christmas parties, installation of officers, decorations and new businesses opened. It is a poor time of the year for publishing a magazine though, for the holidays, cut through the work days and production slows down.

This issue of La Laguna Revue, as you will note, is much smaller than usual due to the Holidays, but the February issue will surpass itself.

February will feature new personalities, a beautiful home in Menifee Valley, interior and exterior photos of one of our newly opened hostels, Christmas decoration winners from all over, a new factory and more.

In the meantime, we hope your holidays were happy and the new year brings you everything your heart desires.

JAS. H. MATTHEWS & CO. BUILDING SUN CITY, CALIFORNIA

NOVIKOFF

New Industry to Locate in Valley

Development of the Sun City Industrial Park was given its first concrete boost this week with the announcement that Jas. H. Matthews and Company of Pittsburg, Pennsylvania had purchased approximately eleven acres of land on which to build a plant for the manufacture of bronze castings and allied products.

The new plant will be built between Highway 74 and Case Road near Romoland. It will be the 14th in the Matthews chain and the first west of Seacry, Arkansas.

The firm, founded in 1850, operates plants throughout the eastern United States and Canada and plans to have the latest facility in operation in the spring of next year.

Designed by Novikoff Engineers of Los Angeles, the tilt-up concrete structure will provide jobs for approximately one hundred people, according to reports.

Gordon Heath, project manager for the Del E. Webb Corporation, reported the land purchase was the result of eighteen months of negotiation in which Joe Clark, industrial representative for the Santa Fe Railroad and Fred Reinhardt of the, Riverside County Board of Trade, worked closely with the Webb Corporation and officials of the Matthews firm.

The completed industrial operation will consist of a non-ferrous foundry and finishing department in which bronze ingots will be melted in a gas-fired, crucible-type furnaces.

Tomlin hilltop--Scene of Wedding

The front lawn of the Ed Tomlin's home was the setting for one of the most fabulous weddings of the year, when Susie Arlean Elizabeth Tomlin exchanged vows of marriage with Robert King Waits.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. John W. Wright, pastor of the Methodist Church in Elsinore in the presence of over 150 guests on December 12 at two o'clock in the afternoon.

For her wedding Susie chose an original Galina gown of ivory silk peau de soie, boat neck beaded in wheat pearls, tight bodice re-embroidered lace with seed pearls, long tight-fitted sleeves finished with band of beading to match the neckline, floor length sheath skirt enhanced with a band of wheat pearl beading and a detachable chapel train. Her ivory veil was elbow length and attached to an open crown of peau de soie embroidered in wheat pearl matching design.

Mrs. John Thorell, sister of the bride, was honor attendant with Jean Elaine Delmonte as bridesmaid. Both were in full - length red peau de soie sheaths, sleeveless and their accessories were red shoes, white gloves and red net on their hair. Their bouquets were of gardenias.

The bride's flowers were white roses, stephanotis and white orchids.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was Paul Flakerud of Palo Alto and as usher was Gary Vliet of Palo Alto.

Lovely Susie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Tomlin. She attended the University of California at Santa Barbara; University of Arizona at Tucson and San Diego State. She has been living and working as a secretary in San Francisco.

Robert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Waits of Harbert, Michigan. He is originally from Chicago, was graduated from TCU, Ft. Worth Texas. Cum Laude; received his masters degree in chemistry at Stanford. He is presently employed at Fairchild in Palo Alto doing research in Electronics.

Limousines carried the guests up the mountain road to the hilltop home of the Tomlins for the wedding and the reception. The wedding ceremony was performed on the front lawn, overlooking beautiful Lake Elsinore and the Valley, against a background of white chrysanthemums and red poinsettias, massed against a natural rock formation. The vivid red and white flowers complemented the colors in the dress of the bridal party.

A breeze came up which blew off the attendants' veils and the father of the bride held Susie's veil during the ceremony to keep it from blowing off also, but Susie was totally unaware of this.

After the rites a champagne wedding supper was served to the guests and the newlyweds cut the three-tiered wedding cake of chocolate, white and spice.

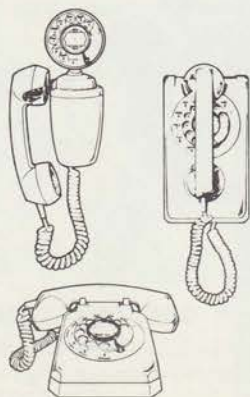

Friends and relatives from San Francisco, Los Angeles, Glendale, San Diego and Elsinore joined in this festive occasion. W. E. Beatty, the bride's grandfather, arrived from Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Boyd McDougall, a great aunt and uncle of the bride came from Tucson and the parents of the groom arrived from their Michigan home.

Hawaii was the spot chosen by the young couple for their honeymoon, after which they will make their home in Palo Alto.

The O'Hara of O'Haras

If you read the book "Gone With the Wind" or saw the movie, you will no doubt remember the name Scarlett O'Hara and the beautiful, vivacious type of woman she was.

This fictional lady made a real impression on one Valley resident, namely John Inchausti, for a number of years ago he did a painting of her that would do any artist proud.

What has a painting of Scarlett O'Hara to do with our story you wonder. Well, this painting now adorns the wall above the fireplace of one of Elsinore Valley's newest cocktail lounges. O'Hara's located at 15788 Grand Avenue, on the Lakeland Village side of Lake Elsinore.

This plush lounge is designed and furnished with one thought in mind—pleasing you, the customer. The 1900 square feet of floor is covered from wall to wall with a variegated colored carpet. On one side of the room is the bar with located at one corner of the room, with Doris Ashton giving forth with the music you'd love to sing to—any Friday, Saturday or Sunday evening.

John is not alone in this business though for he and Joe Uharriet are partners.

How they met is another story by itself. It seems that both are of the same nationality and one day Joe came to Elsinore, stopped at Jerry's Fireside on Lakeshore Drive and after talking with Jerry for a while the subject of being a Basque was brought up. (any of a certain people occupying a district of the western Pyrenees contiguous to the Bay of Biscay)

Jerry informed Joe, that

John, who at the time had King's Cafe and Cocktail Bar in Murrieta was also of that nationality. Joe then met John and from there the friendship grew to the present partnership of today.

John had been at the Murrieta location for over seventeen years and is known by most of the Valley residents, as is his wife, Doris.

Joe and his wife, Ann, are former Whittier residents and are the parents of three children, and proud grandparents of six. Prior to becoming a "tavern" proprietor, Joe was an auto dealer.

These two men have added to the Valley with their new establishment and they were proud as punch to tell us that A. B. C. Construction was the mainstay in the construction along with James Churder, rockwork; T. C. Morris, electrical; Good Hope Refrigeration and Lonnox Air Conditioning.

Drop in at O'Hara's any day between 10 a. m. and 2 a. m. and get reacquainted with John and meet Joe.

Micki Papini, Miss Elsinore of 1965

Lovely, petite, Mickie Papini was crowned "Miss Elsinore of 1965" at the annual coronation ball, held on December 18, at the Sedco District Clubhouse. This year's lovely queen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Papini owners of Papini's Plumbing on Main Street in Elsinore.

The affair is under the sponsorship of the Lake Elsinore Valley Chamber of Commerce, and newly elected president of the Chamber, Bill Stewart presented Mickie with the traditional bouquet of roses.

Her crown was placed upon her head by last year's queen Lo Vae Pray Maddox.

Five young ladies were candidates for this all-important title and the judges found the job of selecting the new Miss Elsinore a hard one. The five queen candidates were Janet Berry, Freddie Kapp, Mary Lou Sosbey, Elizabeth Smith and Micki Papini. Judges were Rudolph Ramos, photographer of Corona (Laguna Revue ran a story on this man during (1963); Lucille Michaels of Viva's; Joe Garrett of Cathay Color, Hollywood and Luro Blankenship, teacher.

Business houses in Elsinore Valley contributed generously to the occasion. Yung's Florist, donated the corsages; Linda's School of Dance, the bouquet of roses; Mayhall Print Shop, tickets; Dietrich's Jewelry the queen's crown and Ramos will furnish the official queen's photographs that will be used for publicity purposes. Stationary, Mobil Living for the Masons Vern Mason and his wife, Eunice are two of the Valley's most content people since they discovered that living is really living in a Park Lane Prestige mobil trailer.

This couple was the first, to our knowledge, to purchase the twin-ten unit in the area. Prior to them becoming "mobilized" they were Sedco Hills residents, but sold their home in February of 1964 and after their mobil home was set up at Shore Acres Trailer Park, they moved into it in August.

Trailer really does not fit this beautiful establishment with its 1000 square feet of floor space, for it is a complete home to the most minute detail.

Beginning in the kitchen there is a full size range, double sink, refrigerator with freezer, complete automatic oven and cupboards that would make any woman's eyes light up. The dining room serves as an office for Vern as well as space to seat a goodly amount of people.

In the living room the walls are of wood and gold weave drapes cover the tremendous windows.

A large bath, two bedrooms with full-length closets and a hallway are to the rear of this mobil home. But one item that is every woman's dream is also a major part of this unit. A large walk-in closet, with shelves for storage,

He served seven years as a member of the Board of Directors of the Lake Elsinore Valley Chamber of Commerce as well as nearly two years as Treasurer.

A year ago he was elected Chairman of the Finance Committee to raise funds and contract for a sewage engineering survey of Lake Elsinore Valley. This survey was submitted to the Vern was elected chairman of this fifty member committee with authorization to proceed with Plan 5 of the report consisting of annexation and the master sewage system, as proposed by the Engineering Report and accepted by the Committee.

He has been a member of the Southland Water Committee for the past six years and just received his 1965 and 1966 membership.

Eunice is originally from New York, where she was in the restaurant business. Her interests, other than running a home, are with the Sedco District Association where she serves presently as vice-president of the organization.

Alice Carr Elected President of Hemet Woman's Club

Former Murrieta resident, Alice Carr, was recently elected to serve as president of the Hemet Woman's Club by the members of the board.

Alice is the wife of La Laguna Revue's Garey Carr, writer of the witty column "Center Aisle Right".

The Carrs moved from their Kalmia Street home to Hemet less than two years ago, and for Mrs. Carr, who is virtually a newcomer to that area, to be selected to the position of the "lady with the gravel", is a distinction. It proves that when Hemet added the name Carr to the voting roster, Murrieta Valley and Elsinore suffered a loss.

Mrs. Carr is replacing Mrs. James Guthrie, who resigned the position because of ill health.

Alone with her ability to wield the gravel, Alice has other talents, one being a soprano voice that rings clear and true when she honors any group with a solo.

She worked with the Elsinore Woman's Club for a number of years and is a member of the Eastern Star.

Ada and George are the parents of twin sons, Kit and Ken, both graduates of Elsinore High School. Kit recently received his degree in veterinary work, is married and a resident of Loomis. Ken works in Phoenix and daughter Judy, who attended elementary school in Murrieta and Elsinore, college education in Pomona is now in Madrid, Spain, where she is studying for a master's degree in Spanish.

Ada is also in the educational field, having taught first grade students until three years ago. During 1953 through 1956, she was a teacher at the Elsinore Elementary School.

The Howell's are by no means new to Murrieta, for at one time they had property on Hayes Street and communicated back and forth from Pasadena where the accounting business is located. George was instrumental at that time in the forming of the Murrieta Valley Town Hall.

Yes, everyone builds a home, for one reason or another, but George and Ada Howell are the first we ever met that designed one for such an authentic reason.

Lovely Miss Elsinore, Lo Vae Pray Maddox, made her last appearance representing Elsinore when she rode the Lake Elsinore Valley Chamber of Commerce float in the El Centro Christmas parade on December 5. The car for the float was loaned for the occasion by Robi and Jim Francisco and was decorated to represent a Mountain of snow. The float had been chosen as Grand Marshall's float of Division 6 in the parade and Lo Vae was awarded a special trophy from the Los Vigalantes and El Centro Chamber of Commerce for her participation in the parade and the beauty of the float on which she rode. Lo Vae leaves her reign as Miss Elsinore and a new queen representing Miss Elsinore was selected at the Coronation Ball held December 18.

Sun City Trailer Club Being Organized

Residents of Sun City, are proving to be the most active people in the area with their bowling, swimming, clubs, organizations and other activities that they participate in.

Presently, some of the residents of this community are organizing a Sun City Trailer Club and temporary officers have been named and the first trailer outing has been scheduled.

Named as temporary head of the travel trailer group was Don M. Wilson. Others selected were John S. Wick as vice president; Bill Stratton, secretary and Carl W. Bundy, treasurer.

First outing for Sun City trailerites will be to the Palm Canyon Camp Ground at Borrego Springs on Monday, January 11. A business meeting will be held during the outing on January 12 at which time the group will select permanent officers.

Charter members were accepted during the month of December. Monthly trips, planned well in advance, will be scheduled for club members with trips planned for the second Monday of each month.

For the shake-down outing, it was reported that 60 hookups are available at the Borrego Springs facility.

Although the group will be known as the Sun City Trailer Club, membership is not exclusive to Sun City residents, it is open to anyone with an interest in this type of fun. Mr. Stratton also pointed out that campers and tents and such are also included in this club.

For further information about joining the group call Bill Stratton at 679-1388 or see him at 28-131 Winged Foot Drive—get in the swing. □

We had our first opportunity on New Year's Day to see the Pasadena Rose Parade over colored television and if we get through this year without buying a colored T V set it will be a miracle.

Alice and I were among 20 guests for breakfast and viewing the parade at the home of Henrietta Trafton of Hemet. Until you have seen the parade in color you just haven't seen it. Not only is Henrietta a lovely hostess and an excellent cook but to top it all she is a grand person and if you think I am paying her these compliments with the idea of getting an invitation for next year's event - you're right.

Ray Bezanson, who dispenses hamburgers to the carriage trade in Murrieta, while not engaged in writing songs, has, at long last, hit the jackpot with a song called "Frost Was on My Window".

The song, which should prove popular among the teenagers, is scheduled to be published by Manett Music Publishers of Irving, Texas.

Ray is a musical genius and his recognition in this field is long past due. During my nine years in Murrieta he auditioned more than a score of songs and in my opinion any one of them could take its place in competition with anything we have heard during that period. Ray writes both the music and lyrics and has some one hundred or more songs ready for the publisher at this time. If "Frost Was on My Window" proves to be the hit it deserves to be we are going to hear a lot more from Ray.

Ray is a former band leader and in the early days played for the silent films along with appearances in dance halls, night clubs and hotels.

Mrs. Dobbin is a member of the Hemet Woman's Club. She was telling about an experience she had recently at a club meeting when a lady was introduced to her. "I'm sure I will always remember your name" said the lady. "I always associate an object with a name and in your case I will remember Dobbin the horse-you know the song-'we'll hitch old dobbin to the shay'..."

So the next time they met it was "How do you do, Mrs. Mare-you see, I didn't forget."

"I see you didn't-the name is Dobbin."

I had a similar experience not long ago. I met a very important man at least important to me—and his name was Bear. That was an easy one, how could I forget a bear. The next time we met I greeted him with "Mr. Beaver" and the fact that he was wearing a beard didn't help matters. I said he was an important man to me—what I mean is he might have been an important man to me.

The teacher was demonstrating the evils of liquor to a class of fourth graders. She had before her a glass of water and a glass of whiskey. Into the glass of water she dropped a worm. The worm swam around the glass, full of life. Then she removed the worm from the glass of water and dropped it into the glass of whiskey. The worm promptly curled up and died. "Now children" said the teacher, "What have you learned from this demonstration?"

Little Johnny raised his hand—"If you got worms drink whiskey!"

A NAME IS BORN

(Pronounce it DEZ-er-ET)

Although there is no state in the Union today that officially bears the name Deseret, the Provisional State of Deseret, claiming within its borders a vast area extending from the Continental Divide to the Pacific Ocean in Southern California, was the first organized government in the Rocky Mountain region. Brigham Young, best known of the Mormon pioneers who settled the state now known as Utah, served as Deseret's governor.

The state's constitution was adopted at a three-day convention in Salt Lake City in 1849, two years after the arrival of the first immigrants, and admittance to the Union was immediately asked of the Congress of the United States. Although Deseret was not admitted as a state until 1896, territorial status was granted in 1850 by which time the borders had been trimmed down to a fraction of the area originally claimed. In granting territorial status Congress turned down the name Deseret and substituted the name Utah.

However the pioneers continued to favor the name Deseret, which they traced back 4000 years, and a Deseret alphabet was introduced. In 1869 work was begun in New York on the printing of the Book of Mormon and other works, using Deseret rather than the English alphabet. Early Utah's first newspaper, now a thriving metropolitan daily, is still known as the Deseret News.

Deseret's meaning is clearly defined in the Book of Mormon, an account of inhabitants of ancient America which, members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormon believe was translated from golden plates by their prophet Joseph Smith.

The Book of Mormon tells of the confounding of the language 4000 years ago in the days of the Tower of Babel, and of the departure of Jared from the Great Tower. Jared and his brother, under divine guidance, set out for a land "choice above all other lands," together with their friends and possessions. Among the living creatures they took with them was Deseret, which was translated as "honey bee." Eventually the wanderers, with Deseret, arrived in the promised land, now Central America.

Four thousand years later while Deseret failed in its attempt to become the Union's largest state, the bee-hive became the outstanding feature of the official seal of the State of Utah. To the people of Utah, even today, Deseret typifies thrift, progressiveness and honest achievement.

NEWS FROM McDOWELL RACE STRIP

Hemet Boy Constructs Own Racing Car

By Garey Carr

Just two things prevent Jerry Waller or 41365 McDowell Street, Hemet, from entering his racing car in the Indianapolis 500-mile classic come Memorial Day—age and speed!

Jerry is eleven years old which is an age handicap for professional racing and besides so far his top speed over a measured course on McDowell Street was 21.6 m.p.h. which falls a little short of the standard qualifying speed for the big time. However, the trail run was timed with a Big Ben Clock so in all fairness the record should be subject to give or take four or five miles.

The remarkable thing about this racing car is the fact that Jerry, a six-grade student, was given a blue print from Popular Science Magazine along with material to construct a racing car Christmas 1960 when he was only seven years of age. His father, Earl Waller, who is himself an expert on things mechanical, gave his son some advice but on physical help in putting together the machine but Jerry was able to come up with a two-place job, powered with a 2 1/2 h.p. Briggs-Stratton 4-cycle engine all on his own before his eighth birthday.

During the past four years he has not lost interest in the job but each year has made some improvement. He is planning to install a chain drive which he believes will give a speed of better than 30 m.p.h. The present belt drive sometimes slips at top speed, he said.

Jerry has been handicapped in his speed trials due to the fact that McDowell Street is only one block in length and all the residents of the street are not racing enthusiasts. Complaints have reached his ears that the machine makes too much noise and one resident, who has since moved away, complained that the machine interfered with his television reception. So Jerry has been forced to confine his race course to about half a block which doesn't give him an opportunity to open it up for a fair showing of its capability.

Jerry keeps himself in top physical condition performing on a skate board which he constructed himself but his next ambition is to own a walkie-talkie and with his mechanical knowledge, along with a big hearted father, it will not be surprising to see Jerry well on his way with the project now that the holidays have past and Santa Claus has paid his annual visit to the Waller home.

Unvictorious Season

By S. F. C. Carpenter

ADMIRAL EDITOR

E.N.M.S. dropped their last soccer game of 1964 to St. John Bosco, thus accounting a three game losing streak to this team. In the first quarter the Elsinore squad scored on a goal by Marshall Carpenter. St. John Bosco also scored a goal in the first quarter and added another in the second.

The fourth quarter began with neither team giving an inch, but finally Bosco broke through Elsinore's defense and scored another goal. With fifty seconds left it didn't look as though Elsinore would score but Alan Curtis got a corner kick and scored a goal.

Elsinore's last game ended with Elsinore losing by a score of three to two. Unfortunately although the team put forth a lot of effort, 1964 will go down in the record books as a defeated year in soccer.

Go Team Go

Basketball has invaded the school campus with many hopeful trying-outs for the team. Coach Janson reduced the first team down to a working group of eleven players.

With little time the squad practiced hard as their first was on December 4, against the Boy's Republic at Chino.

The day finally arrived and the varsity packed up their gear and headed for Chino. The game showed the cadets that they still needed a lot of work but there wasn't anything terribly wrong with the team. High men for Elsinore were Elmer Tilson and Fred Covina. Good defensive games were played by Al Curtis and Dan Schoolcraft. But, as luck would have it this was not a victorious day for Elsinore, dropping a close one by a score of 41 to 49.

The Admiral staff would like to wish the 64-65 basketball team success in their coming games.

Season's Greeting

The Admiral Staff would like to take this opportunity to wish all Cadets and their parents a hearty season and joyous holiday greeting. May you have continued good fortune in the years to come. Just remember that our good fortune is usually brought about by our own thoughts and deeds.

Father and Son Banquet

The annual Father and Son Banquet was held at the Elsinore and Navel Military School before the cadets left for Thanksgiving vacation.

There were 360 people present and everyone had a good time. There were cadet skits and songs as well as group singing.

We hope that everyone had a good time.

My brother-What a baby sitter

The telephone at home rang and it was my older brother asking what I was doing that evening.

"Nothing important. But I would rather like to go to the movies", I replied.

He suggested I go and he would gladly sit with the kids.

Each month, about the day of the tenth, the phone would ring and he would encourage me to go out and he would baby-sit—at no charge to me.

Last week I arrived home about midnight, only to find the most irate brother in town.

He fumed and fussed about my taking advantage of him. Inviting him over to baby sit, not saying where I was going and on and on he went.

Finally, I calmed down and informed him that I was at a meeting where I was part of the program. And that I had taken the December issue of the Revue and read one of the poems to the audience.

This is when he again blew sky-high.

"Do you think I have been baby sitting with your two twenty-year olds because they needed a sitter? No, I read La Laguna Revue each month while I'm here and that's the only reason I'm here", he yelled.

Now, let this be understood. My brother is perfect. He has excellent taste in reading material, same as thousands of others. So for compensation I mailed in the coupon below and gave my brother a two-year subscription to the Revue as a gift from me.

He now comes to the house, same as before, once a month, and reads my copy, as usual, and his excuse is "I don't want to get my own copies messed up".

"How's that grab you?"
