

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

William Harker, better known as Bill and Dad to his family and many friends, is a retired aerospace executive who writes things now and then as a hobby and to keep his mind occupied. Over the years he has written a number of technical articles for trade magazines, editorials and columns for newspapers as well as documentary television scripts. He has also tried his hand at Cowboy Poetry with questionable results.

